

BUT FOUR WHOLE HOMES REMAIN IN A MISSISSIPPI TOWN AFTER WIND STORM

Tornado Made Practically a Clean Sweep of Mossville.

Part of Village Scattered Over a Territory of Four Miles.

Tyler, Tex., Also Suffers From a Frightful Gale.

Mossville, Miss., Feb. 15.—Four whole buildings and two halves of buildings are the only habitable adobes in this village today. The remainder of the structures were blown down and many of them swept outside of the town by yesterday's tornado. Two old negroes, Alex Wadham and his wife, are dead, and Edward Campbell, white, is probably fatally injured. Of the dozen other persons painfully injured at this place all are rapidly recovering. Reports reaching here from other towns in the tornado path give not to exceed five other fatalities, only one of which has been confirmed.

The buildings left standing here are two residences, a cotton gin and a school house. The buildings which the storm cut in two are the Gulf & Ship Island railroad depot and a residence. The station master happened to be in the half of the depot which was left standing and was scarcely disturbed when the other half of his habitation went down in a heap and then flew away.

Scattered Over Four Miles.

The inhabitants of Mossville claim that their village was scattered at least over four miles of territory, this statement being based on the identification of a hatcase picked up four miles from here as part of the stock of the general store of the village. The contents of this store was scattered over at least half a mile ground in the direction taken by the wind. Sturdy oaks were uprooted in the main streets of the town.

The tornado cut a swath several miles long through the timber, and almost every other obstruction in the face of the country. Those who have been out in this storm's trail state:

COMMISSION CAN NOT ISSUE ORDER

Affording General Relief From Abolishment of Telegraph Service.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because the telegraph companies and not the railroad companies are responsible for the maintenance of the telegraph service in the state, and because the constitutionality of the eight hour telegraphers' service law is being tested, the state railroad commission announced that it can not issue a general order affording relief from the inconvenience and annoyance resulting from the reduction of abolition of telegraph service at many villages and cities. The commission says that if any particular place feels satisfied that its telegraph service is inadequate within the meaning of the railroad commission law, the commission will order the service and make whatever order the facts and the law may require.

The commission reviews the testimony given at the hearing on Jan. 20 regarding telegraph service in the state, and says that nothing was shown there which would justify it in issuing a general relief order. The contracts between the railroad and telegraph companies make the latter responsible for all commercial messages. Of the forty-one Western Union offices closed since the eight hour service law went into effect, none had receipts of over $3.50 a month. The average receipts 90 cents. Obviously the commission could not issue an order compelling the Western Union to maintain offices at such unremunerative points.

NO OPERA IN ENGLISH AT THE METROPOLITAN.

New York, Feb. 15.—There will be no opera in English at the Metropolitan opera house. The chief reason advanced for the decision, a statement of the management says, also, that it is almost impossible to get a Latin to learn English, and among the men we have scarcely any English speaking singers.

CHARGED WITH KILLING THREE-YEAR-OLD BOY.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Michael Dewala, 41 years old, is under arrest charged with having caused the death of Joseph Devenick, the 3-year-old son of John Devenick, of 8548 Mackinaw avenue. The child died early today of scalds received last night. Dewala was a boarder in the Devenick home. According to the police, Dewala, following a quarrel with Mrs. Devenick, took the child and, holding him between his knees, deliberately poured boiling water from a tea kettle over the boy's head and down his back.

EXCHANGE MESSAGES

Admiral Evans Thanks Chileans for Courtesies to Fleet.

Admiral Simpson Replies in Behalf of His President.

Valparaiso, Feb. 15.—Two wireless dispatches have been received here from the American battleship fleet under Rear Admiral Evans, which was reviewed off Valparaiso yesterday after which it continued on its way to Callao. One is addressed to Rear Admiral Simpson of the Chilean navy, and says:

"The commander of the Atlantic fleet begs you to convey to President Montt in the name of himself, his officers and men, the appreciation of the honor he has done them by reviewing the fleet off Valparaiso. To this I add expressions of my personal regard and I hope I will have the pleasure of meeting you again. I send you my good wishes. EVANS."

The other message is addressed to John Hicks, the American minister and says:

"I beg you to express to President Montt the thanks of the officers and men of my fleet for the many graceful acts of courtesy received at the hands of the Chilean government. I am sure the American people fully appreciate them and that they will go far toward cementing the friendship between the two nations. EVANS."

Admiral Simpson replied to his communication as follows:

"Thank you, an instructed to convey to you the personal thanks of President Montt for your good wishes. I and my officers all join in wishing Admiral Evans and the officers of the American fleet a hearty farewell and a successful and prosperous voyage."

Mr. Hicks made the following answer:

"I will deliver to President Montt your kind message. The whole review was all that anyone could have asked for and I am proud of our fleet. Good bye and God bless you."

The American cruiser Chicago, which left here three days ago for the Atlantic station, passed the battleship fleet off Constitution. She saluted both admirals, the American commander and Rear Admiral Simpson.

ANOTHER LAW KILLED.

Supreme Court of North Dakota Declares Act Unconstitutional.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court has declared unconstitutional the law passed last winter permitting organized townships adjoining cities to have and make other improvements. This law was passed in order that the work of improvement in Fargo could be carried into a district outside the city limits, but which adjoined them and made a continuous street. It is said much improvement has been done under the law that has now been declared void.

BUTTE TO STOP THE SALE OF OPIUM.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 15.—The city officials of Butte have begun a determined campaign against the sale of opium. Every Chinese merchant in the city has been arrested on the charge of trafficking in the drug. The selling of opium, under the city ordinances, is a misdemeanor. It is the intention of the city officials to close out a score of opium dens existing in Butte's Celestial quarter, and more arrests are expected. All but two of the twelve Chinamen taken into custody admit the sale of the drug.

A SERVANT FOR 70 YEARS.

Orange, N. J., Feb. 15.—After seventy years spent in the service of one family, Miss Mary A. Aylesworth, a nurse, is dead, and today her body will be laid to rest in the cemetery plot where lie the bodies of many of those she served.

Deluged With Requests to Become Candidate for President.

St. Paul Republicans Have Lively Scrap Over the Mayoralty.

Hot Fight for Governorship Candidacy Also in Prospect.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A statement from Governor Johnson declaring his position in regard to the presidency is confidently expected in a few days. The statement has been expected for some time, and at one time it was generally believed that he would announce positively that he was not a candidate. But it has been delayed, probably on account of the flood of letters and telegrams which the governor is receiving from all parts of the country, urging him to announce himself as a candidate. The governor's office has been practically deluged with such epistles for several weeks and the number increases every day. His stenographers are overworked answering his correspondence, even though they limit their replies to a brief acknowledgment. If Johnson was intending

A BANK CLERK ENDS HIS LIFE

Young New Yorker Despondent Because of Financial Losses.

New York, Feb. 15.—Edson Van de Water, a bank clerk, 22 years old, and said to be a member of an old New York family, killed himself in a Baltimore hotel, at Seventh avenue and Thirty-fifth street, today, by taking poison. He had been despondent for weeks, as a result, he told some of his friends of financial losses. Van de Water walked into a small room, back of the Garf hotel, where several men were drinking, early this morning, and seated himself at a table alone. He ordered a glass of mineral water, and when it was served, swallowed two arsenic tablets, gulped the water and fell to the floor in convulsions. He was hurried to a hospital, but died within a few minutes.

INTERNATIONAL WEDDING SAID TO BE LOVE MATCH

MISS THEODORA SHONTS.

New York, Feb. 15.—Miss Theodora Shonts, daughter of Theodore P. Shonts, formerly chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, was married at noon today to Emmanuel Theodore Bernard d'Albert de Luyne, Duc de Chaunles of Paris. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's father at 123 East Thirty-fifth street, the ceremony being performed by Mon. M. L. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral. Although considerable interest has been aroused because of its international phase, it was planned to be an unostentatious home wedding, without unusual display or exceptional gathering of guests.

Notable among the guests, however, was the Duchess d'Uzes, a sister of the Duc de Chaunles, and a member of one of the most aristocratic families of France; the Baron Louis d'Orde de Paris, a friend of the duke, and several representatives of the French embassy at Washington, including the counselor of the embassy, Mr. Des Portes de La Pousse, Madame des Portes and their daughter, the latter a personal friend of the bride, and Lieut. Commander de Blampre, the French naval attaché, and Madame Blampre.

Miss Marguerite Shonts, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and the Prince Andre Galtzine, the duke's uncle, was best man.

Home Handsomely Decorated.

The Shonts home was decorated with American heavy roses, lilacs of the valley and smilax. The bride wore a gown of duchess satin, with court train, bordered with orange blossoms.

The Duc de Chaunles is 29 years of age and a member of one of the most aristocratic families of the French nobility. He has a house in Paris and an hereditary castle in one of the French provinces.

Theodore P. Shonts, the bride's father, is now president of the Interborough Metropolitan company, which operates the New York elevated railroads and subway.

Because of the fact that it has come to be believed that the marriage is the result of a genuine love match, it has attracted much attention in New York. The duke comes from an old French family, and while not rich, possesses a Paris home, a chateau in the country in France, and is described as a young man of attractive personality.

ANTI-TIPPING LAW DEFENSE

Made by New York Merchant for Not Paying Bill.

New York, Feb. 15.—New York's anti-tipping law was the defense in an action to recover $1,555 for goods sold, brought by a dealer against a large dry goods house in New York, and decided yesterday. The court held that the bill could not be collected. It was shown that the man selling the goods made the purchasing agent who bought them a present of $75. The court held that the firm sued was not obliged to pay for the merchandise, but was compelled to return them. The law was passed at the instance of merchants to break up the system, which it was said to have been more or less prevalent of dealers inducing purchasing agents to buy goods by bribes.

POSTOFFICE SAFE BLOWN.

Burglars in Renville County Town Use Plenty of Explosive.

Buffalo Lake, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yegmen blew the safe in the postoffice here yesterday. The heaviest financial loss was the destruction of about $200 in stamps. The loss in cash was small.

The postoffice was a small, one-story building, and a piece of the safe was blown through the ceiling of the room and out through the roof, being found several rods away.

No one was aroused by the explosion and there is no clue to the identity of the robbers, or to the manner of flight. It is suspected they went out on a freight train. They secured admission to the postoffice by having been in the parlor of the door and manipulating the lock.

FORMER DULUTHIAN CAN'T REMEMBER LATE THINGS.

Hastings, Minn., Feb. 15.—Robert Johnson, the demented young man who has been roaming about town several days, was arraigned before Judge T. P. Morin and adjudged insane. He gave his age at 23 years, stating that he came from Quebec to Duluth, four years ago, and last fall was working in Atkin county, since which time he could not account for himself. He said that he had a brother named Curran or Curleton, a section foreman. He was taken to Rochester by Sheriff Frank McDevitt.

PRACTICAL JOKER HURT.

One Man is Killed and Others Sustained Injuries.

Belle Fourche, S. D., Feb. 15.—"Just for fun," Charles Lavezz, employed on the government irrigation project, near here, threw a dynamite cap into a bonfire, around which were seated six men. The explosion set off 12 sticks of dynamite, which were being thawed out, instantly killing J. R. Curran, a teamster, and injuring all of the others, including Lavezz, who may lose both his sight and hearing.

Spring Floods Commence Their Deadly Work in the East.

Rain Sends Big Streams Up at Rate of Foot an Hour.

Families Are Engaged in Moving Goods to Places of Safety.

Pittsburg, Feb. 15.—With a stage of nineteen feet at 9 o'clock this morning and rapidly rising at the rate of a foot an hour, the Allegheny, Monongahela, Ohio, Youghiogheny and Kiskiminnick rivers are slowly spreading over the lowlands of Pittsburg and Western Pennsylvania points today. The danger mark of twenty-two feet will be reached by noon and the local United States weather bureau predicts a stage of thirty feet by nightfall. Rain continues to fall today.

The damage to river craft and property located near the rivers is already heavy. Large ice gorges in the Allegheny and Youghiogheny rivers above this city are momentarily expected to break, wrecking and demolishing craft in its path. Some alarm is also felt for a number of bridges.

Serious Flood Expected Sunday.

At Wheeling, W. Va., and Steubenville, Ohio, a serious flood is expected to occur, but not before Sunday night. Word from Steubenville today says that a stage of forty feet will be reached there by Monday morning or sooner.

At points here the high water has risen to the ground floors of business houses and dwellings. Throughout the night hundreds of people were actively engaged removing their household goods to places of safety.

Before evening several railroads and street car lines will be forced to abandon service in this city owing to the water covering the tracks. All the small streams in towns surrounding Pittsburg are beyond their banks and the water is rapidly rising. Thousands of families at Sharpsburg, Exa, Aspinwall, Charleroi, Oakdale and numerous other places have been compelled to leave their homes and take refuge to the upper floors. In some of the towns shifts are being used as a means of transportation to many homes.

The towboat Robert Taylor, which was wrecked last night at Corapolis, is entirely submerged today and will be a total loss.

BOY BIDS ON $1,000 BOND

Fifteen-Year-Old Financier Enters Market for Security.

New York, Feb. 15.—Among the bidders for $50,000,000 in city bonds and stock, whose proposals were opened yesterday, was Gustave Klopstock, who today is known as New York's youngest Napoleon of finance.

Young Klopstock is 15 years old and is employed as an office boy and a brokerage firm in Wall street. His bid was for one $1,000 bond for which he offered 102.02, and with the bid was a $20 bill, the 2 per cent required by the city comptroller on all bids. But in spite of the fact that he was the youngest bidder he did not get his bond, as the average price paid was 103.50, considerably above his bid.

The boy was disappointed, but announced that he will try again. He was nonchalant about his financial denials, saying that he had a little Federal Steel stock which paid him about 7 per cent, and that he sold a weekly paper on Saturdays to add to his income. "And I have other irons in the fire," he looked good to me," he added as he sauntered away from the comptroller's office.

LUCANIA GOES AGROUND

While Leaving New York Harbor, But Soon Gets Clear.

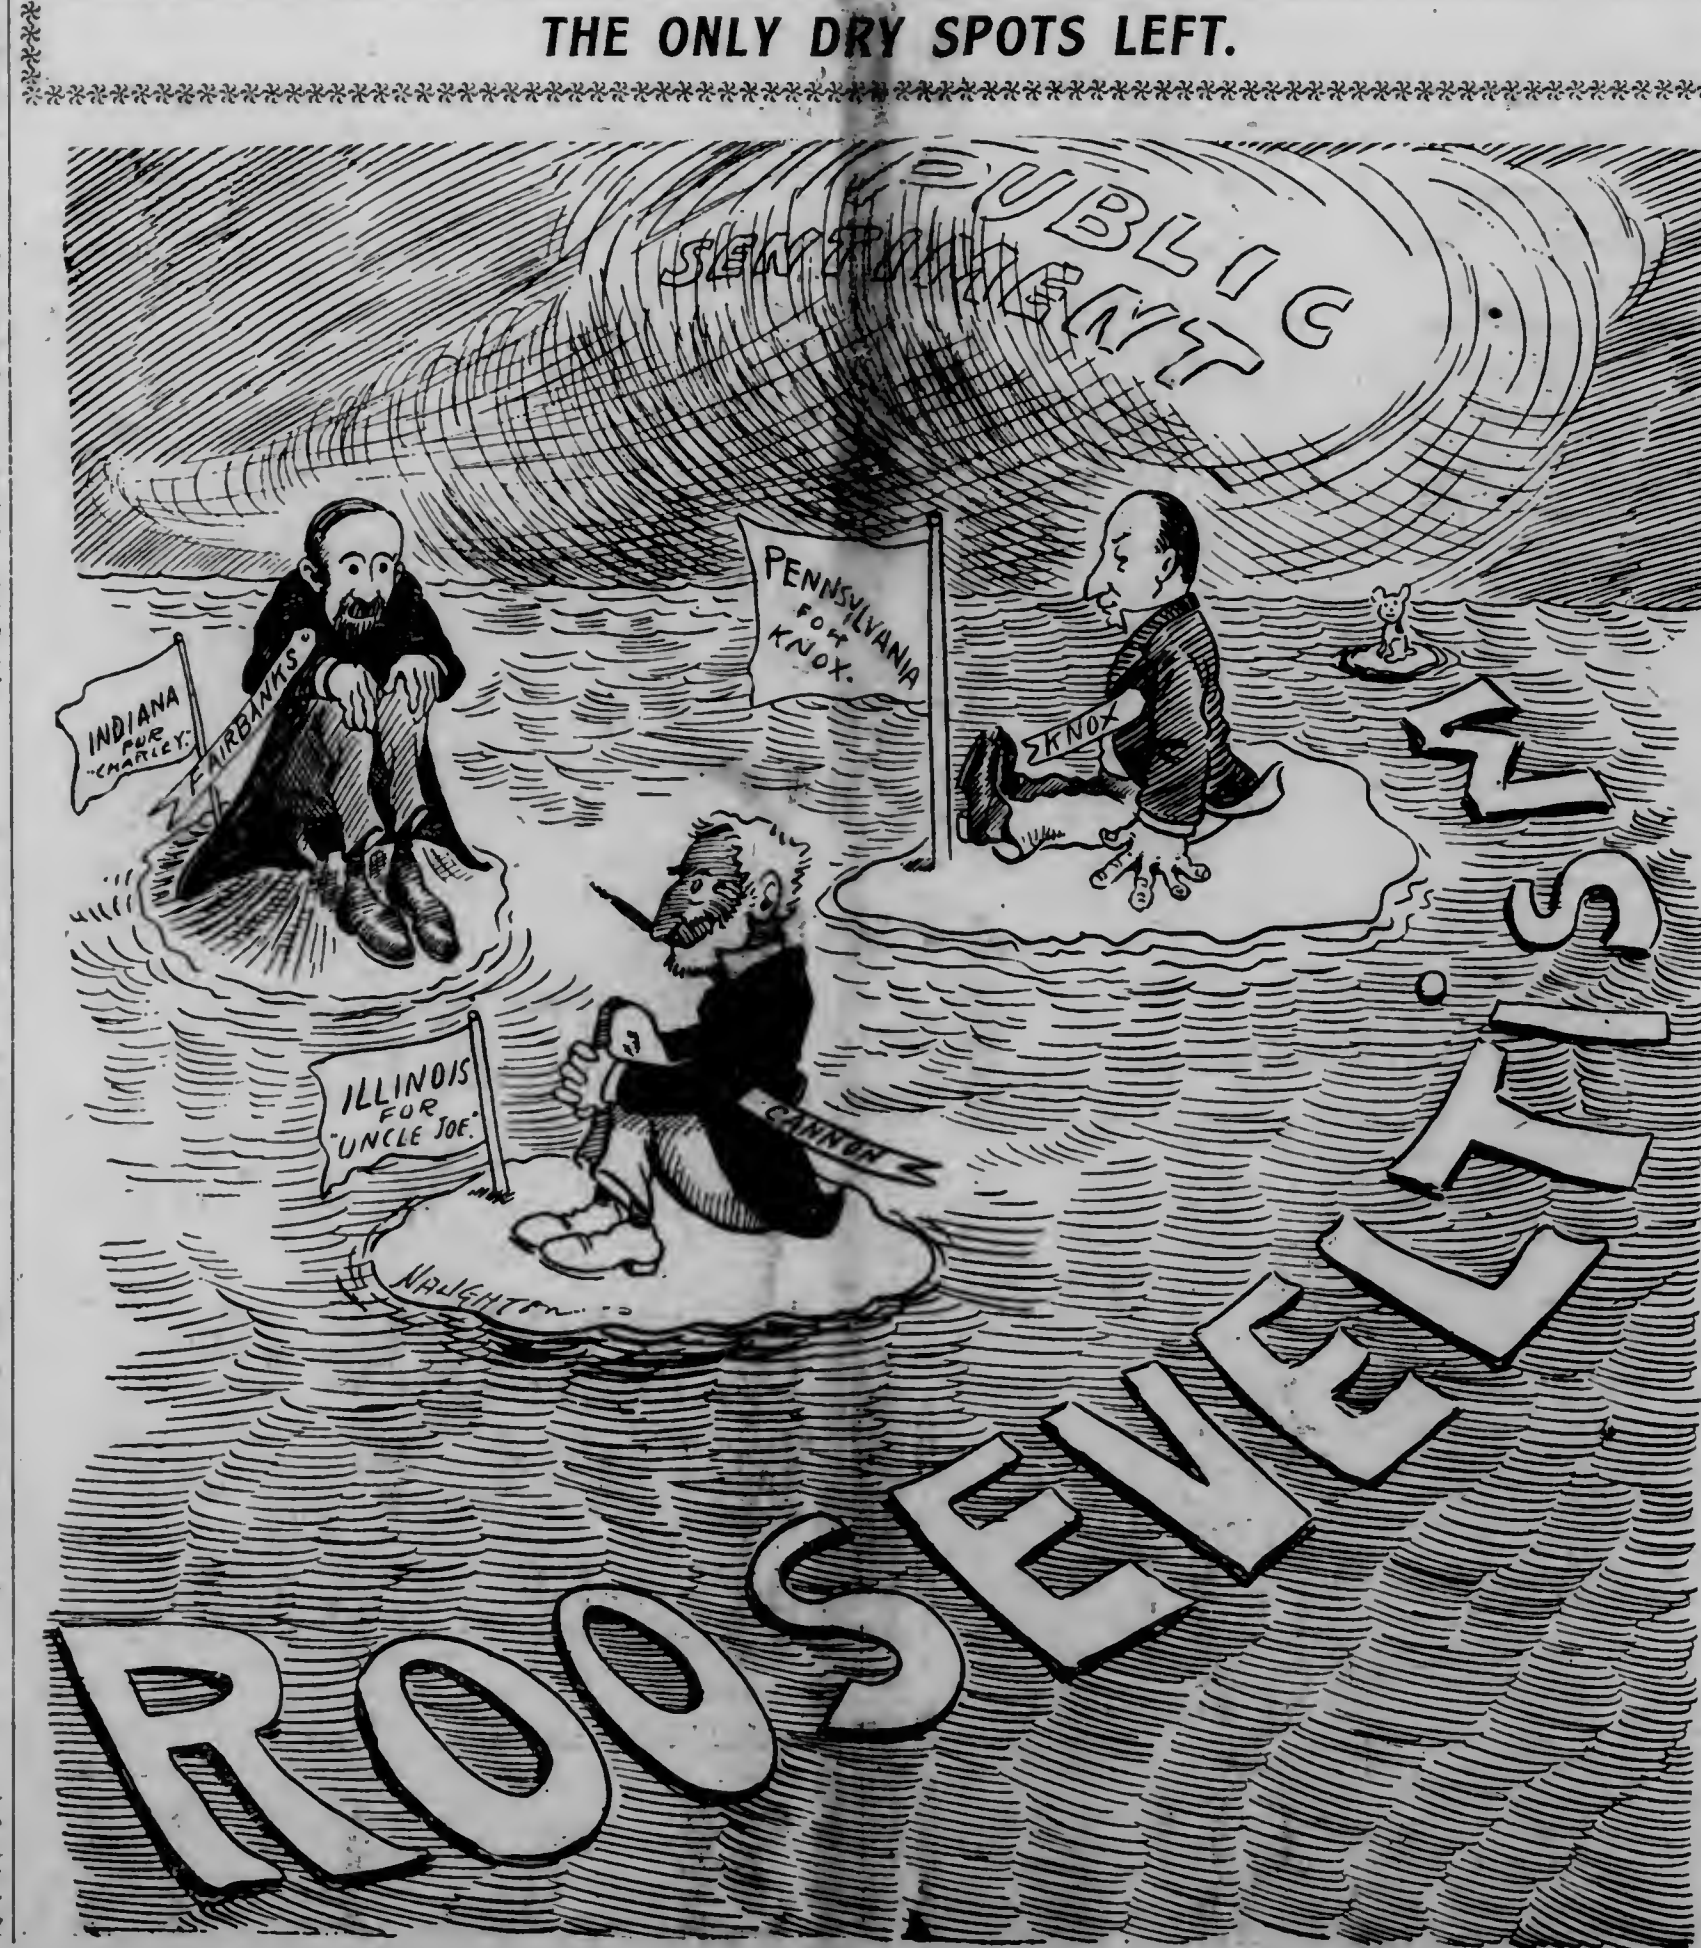

New York, Feb. 15.—The Cunard line steamer Lucania went aground on the south side of Gedney channel while leaving port today for Queenstown and Liverpool.

The Lucania grounded while trying to avoid a collision with the tank steamer Deutschland, also outwards bound. A strong southwest wind is blowing and there is a ground swell on the bar where the steamer is lying. The Lucania succeeded in moving ahead nearly a length after she struck the bar.

The steamer was floated just before 10 o'clock and started for sea.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Two men, who gave their names as Marion Bell and William Dolan, and who said they had just arrived from Janesville, Wis., were arrested early today as suspects in connection with the mysterious deaths of three women in Janesville. The Janesville authorities have been notified and the men will be held until word is received from that city.

The Men's club of Lester Park held a dinner and meeting last evening, and thirty-nine members were in attendance. There was a program of songs and toasts, and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. Attorney S. T. Harrison delivered an interesting address on municipal government by commission, describing the system as employed at Galveston, Tex., and Des Moines, Ia. He told in detail of the commission government, and said it had met with great success wherever tried.

DRUNKEN WOMAN'S END.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 13.—The body of Mrs. Martha Peterson, who disappeared from her home at Ashby in a heavy snowstorm ten days ago, has been found in a drift in a railway cut a short distance from her home. She had been drinking and laid down beside the track and was frozen to death, the snow gradually drifting over her. She had been living alone.

YOUTH HAD GRAND TIME

Boy Stole Check and Spent $15 in a Celebration.

His Short, But Dizzy Career Was Ended by Arrest.

Edward Nelson, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. Elda Nelson, 618 South Sixty-third avenue west, yesterday afternoon was arrested on the charge of grand larceny and was arraigned before Judge Ensign.

Young Nelson told the whole story yesterday at the West Duluth police station. He told how, on Tuesday, he found two letters addressed to Mrs. Strandlund, the Nelsons' next door neighbor, lying at his door, left there by mistake by the postman. He opened one of them and found a check for $20.00 in it, made out to Mrs. Strandlund. Knowing that he could get money for the check the boy took it down to some little store near the Peerless laundry. He could not remember its name, and there he forgot Mrs. Strandlund's name to it and got it cashed by the proprietor, who took $1 as his commission for cashing it.

When the boy began to revel in his wealth, he bought skis, moccasins and all kinds of sweets and toys, expending about $15. When he got home that night he told his mother about it. Yesterday the affair was reported to the police and the boy was arrested. The police have the things the boy bought and the balance of the money. They are also looking for the man who cashed the check.

Install Officers.

The Morning Star lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., installed the following officers for the next three months, last night, at Gilley's hall: Lodge deputy, Gust Sledman; chief templar, E. O. Lundin; vice chief templar, Alma Sjundin; treasurer, C. O. Bergquist; financial secretary, Peder Durken; secretary, Axel E. Peterson; vice secretary, Minnie Carlson; past chief templar, Conrad Wicklund; marshal, Gust Sledman; vice marshal, Alfred Peterson; chaplain, Thea Pearson; inside watch, Kristina Nyström; outside watch, John Lundin.

Valentine Party.

Mrs. Roderick J. Mooney and Mrs. Charles A. Matthews were hostesses at a Valentine party last evening at the rectory of Holy Apostles' Episcopal church. It was also the birthday anniversary of the rector, Rev. Roderick J. Mooney, and he was presented with a library set by members of the parish.

The rectory was prettily decorated with valentines and ribbons. Miss Florence Oikie had charge of the box and array table, at which the young women present might shoot at hearts, for prizes. Miss Gretta Wright presided at the door, and Miss Cora Campbell was in charge of the candy table.

Boards Vaccinated.

Yesterday the boards at the Murphy house, 205 South Fifty-fifth avenue west and Raleigh street, attempted to leave the house after the board had been vaccinated. The police discovered them in the act, and held them there until the health officer and physician had time to get to the place and quarantine it, and vaccinate the entire party.

Club Meeting.

Last night, at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club, W. B. Getchell, one of the committee appointed to promote the matter of getting a large building for the sub-postoffice, said that several parties were making proposals for the building. Mr. Getchell also said there had been some talk of trying to get the recently vacated Mulligan saloon building for the branch office, but he understood some parties are applying to the council for a license to reopen that saloon. It is doubtful if the council would grant this, and in case they did not, the chances for getting it for a postoffice are very good. It is a building well suited to the purpose of the office.

The reports of the Onco street committee and the club banquet committee were also read, the banquet's date has been changed from March 17 to March 11.

West Duluth Churches.

At the Immanuel Lutheran church, corner of Fifty-seventh avenue west and Roosevelt street, there will be evening services Sunday, conducted in the Norwegian language by the pastor, Rev. E. Wulfsberg. Sunday school will meet at 9:30 in the morning.

At the Holy Apostles Episcopal church, there will be Sunday school at noon and in the evening prayer and sermon at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Roderick J. Mooney, the pastor, will preach on the subject, "The Second Temptation."

At the Plymouth Congregational church, Fifty-fourth avenue and Bristol street, there will be services Sunday morning and evening. At the morning service the pastor, J. A. Lumley, will preach on "Christian Idealism." In the evening W. E. McGowan will deliver an address on "Christian Industrialism." The choir will have special music for the day. Sunday school will meet at 12 o'clock and the young people at 6:45 o'clock in the evening.

The young man can be reached at No. 10 of The Herald building, and he desires to secure a position as a clerk or stenographer. SOLDIERS HOLD CELEBRATION

Are Pleased With Favorable Action on Army Bill.

News reached Duluth today of the favorable reporting of the bill raising the pay of the United States regulars from the present wage of $13 to $17 a month. The original bill has been modified so that the increased pay does not include the officers.

There was a little joy fest among the men and infantrymen stationed here when the news of the probable passage of the bill was learned. The soldiers who are stationed here for recruiting duty have been impatiently awaiting some favorable news of the bill's progress, so that the information that the military committee of both houses has passed favorably upon it came as a most agreeable surprise.

If the bill is passed it will mean that about $4,000,000 additional appropriation will have to be made for the army.

Submits Figures on Lots.

J. D. Gillette has offered to sell seven lots on the west side of Haight avenue, opposite the Blaine school for $5,000, the property to be used as a playground for the school children. The plan of purchasing the playground is meeting with general approval. The move to acquire a playground on the property adjoining the school was started a few months ago. The school board has been negotiating with parties with a view of getting the remainder of the block.

Owners Would Defer Paving.

At a meeting of the street committee the council with property owners last evening a strong sentiment developed against making any improvement on the street between Haight and Bolnap and Twenty-first streets and on Belknap street between Oak and West Seventh streets. The committee will report to the council that a majority of the property owners are against any paving improvement this year.

IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Moses Hall Charged With Grand Larceny in Second Degree.

Charged With Luring Old Man Into Room to Rob Him.

Because he is believed to have lured Pat McMillan into a room in the Sixth Avenue hotel, last Tuesday night, and relieved him of $15, Moses Hall, who says he came from Floodwood, was held to the grand jury this morning, after a hearing before Judge Cutting, in municipal court.

McMillan and Ernest Llesen, the clerk of the hotel, were the witnesses against Hall. McMillan didn't know much about the case, as he was dead to the world when he was robbed, but Llesen, who played the part of the detective, made out a strong case against Hall.

According to the testimony, McMillan, who is a good-natured old Irishman, was drinking in the saloon in connection with the hotel, and was carrying his money with a free hand. Hall saw that the old man had a nice little roll, and he said to have stuck pretty close to him all evening. Finally, according to the testimony of the clerk, Hall induced the old man to engage a room and pay the lodging of both men.

The clerk became suspicious, and set a watch on the room. He said McMillan had no sound sleep, and he was nervous. When Hall went into a shirt pocket and drew out some money, the clerk saw him.

When Hall was arrested a $5 bill was taken from him, and later it was discovered he had one of the same denomination in each shoe. He protested his innocence of the robbery, and the way through, and was much put out when remanded to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

John Hagenberg, the victim of a slashing affray in a St. Croix avenue hotel house a month or so ago, who received a verdict of $250 damages in municipal court from the slasher, was heard in the criminal court yesterday night. John drew $1 or three days this morning, and settled.

Ed Johnson and Andrew Nelson were a couple of troublesome drunks. They were gathered in on the Bowers, and were given an unsavory reputation by the police, who say that they are well known characters. Andrew and Ed admitted the drunk charge, the former getting $10 or ten days, and the latter $5 or fifteen days.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY NEWS

The next lecture to be presented by the evening department of the Twentieth Century club will be given Tuesday evening, Feb. 24th, at the library club room and the speaker will be Hon. Clarence B. Miller. As the semi-annual meeting of the club will be held on the 25th, the lecture will be given on the 24th.

Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Pearce of 2105 East Superior street have returned from a several months' trip to Europe.

A delightful affair of the week was an informal musicale Monday evening, at which the West side residents of the block between Lewis and St. Andrew avenues of Glen Avon, east of the city, were entertained. The affair was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nichols. Solos and choruses were given and two original topical songs were heard with much pleasure. The evening was a most enjoyable one.

The Greyhound Club chapter of the D. A. R. will meet Saturday afternoon of next week with Mrs. W. M. Hubbard. The program to be studied will be:

1. Reading of first inaugural address.
2. Description of Mt. Vernon.
3. The Washingtons in painting and art.

Miss Hazel Tallmadge was the guest of honor at a pleasant surprise party last evening at her home, 115 East Fourth street. Games and music were the amusements of the evening. The rooms were decorated in hearts. A pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Monday evening, at the club room of the library, "Hamlet" will be studied, with Miss Waterworth as leader, and the characters will be read as follows:

Hamlet—Mr. Le Voy.
Ophelia—Miss Johnson.
Claudius—Mr. Wierberg.
Gertrude—Mrs. Mary A. Nelson.
Colonius—Miss Waterworth.
Horatio—Mrs. Sickles.
Gildenskerne—Miss Ely.
Rosenkrantz, Reynaldo—Mrs. Hills.
Voltimeand—Miss Fleer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Skelton of this city have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Agnes Skelton, to Joseph W. Gannon. The marriage will take place soon at St. Paul, from the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. William Bostwick.

The children gathered at the library this morning for the regular story hour were treated to a delightful surprise. Bird stories occupied the regular story time, and in this connection a wonderful singing bird was heard. The bird might come under a nature fakir series, as it is a mechanical toy, but one of the wonderful manufacture. It is the property of Bishop McGilchrist, and was brought by him from abroad. The children were enraptured and the day, for the entertainment and instruction of the children. When the bird, which is of the mocking bird variety, sings the song of the species with a slowly turning head and other life-like maneuvers. The children were enraptured and the hour was prolonged for their enjoyment.

There will be no meeting of the children next Saturday, as the library will be closed, being Washington's birthday anniversary and a legal holiday.

The annual ball of the Marine Engineers was danced last evening at Maccabee hall. Decorations of red were used most effectively, and almost 400 guests were present. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of John Adams, Moss Horton, Guy Webb, Kenneth McGregor and James Bishop. The event was a most successful and enjoyable one.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The older boys' meeting at the boys' department Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, will be addressed by Mr. Baxter Waters on "The Art of Walking." The Knights of Sir Galahad Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, will be addressed by William Lipold.

The masquerade social last evening was one of the most successful social affairs of the season. About 100 boys were present, and they were dressed in every imaginable costume from a tramp to a soldier. The prizes for the best dressed were awarded to Caldwell Burris, who wore an animal's costume; Melville Magie, in livery; Dale McAlline, in a wild west costume, and Howard Crosby, as one of Uncle Sam's officers. The crowd was divided into two sides for the burlesque field meet. The reds were captained by Olie Olson, and the blues by Elmer Gatzke. The honors were awarded to the blues, who were entertained with tea and coffee. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments.

This afternoon Jefferson and Endon schools play in the inter-scholastic basketball series, and the Jackson school will play one of the Blaine, Superior, teams.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH.

Lumberjack Vaguely Wonders at the Passing of Old-Time Resort.

"How the place has changed," as they say in the melodrama. These were the words muttered by a bemuddled lumberjack this morning as he rubbed his eyes and surveyed his surroundings.

About two years ago Julius Cook kept a saloon in what is now the space occupied by the Spaulding billiard hall. Like other Michigan street liquor refreshment emporiums, it was a place frequented by lumberjacks. In fact, it was one of the favorite hangouts.

The furnishings of the Cook place were not anything to make you reach for your eye glasses, and there wasn't any statuary in the old place. The present billiard hall has been renovated somewhat and presents a different appearance from the whilom woodmen's thirst quencher.

So it was with aplomb and confidence that the jacksy opened the door of the billiard room and walked into the place. He hadn't been in the city for over three years and he expected to greet some old companions and make some new ones in his former trysting place.

Instead of the mackinawed knight of the woods, crooking the elbow and immersed in joyous revelry, he beheld staid and well-dressed business men and nattily garbed traveling men engaged in the game of billiards. The transition was too great for Jack to grasp its full significance in one look. He stalled for time.

It was only when the porter asked his pleasure that Jack realized that Julius held forth here no more, and that the Bowers is moving westward. Sadly he moved forth to seek other old landmarks and genial companions.

A Strange Business Duel

The Partners is the most extraordinary story of business published in recent years; one of the strangest duels known to business history. On the one hand are opposed all the subtleties, all the ruses and expedients known to the mind of a highly trained financier. On the other are deployed the magnificent resources of strength, energy, organization and combative spirit that animate the pioneer's soul.

The Partners is Stewart Edward White's story of the riverman—the man who gets the logs to market—whose success is measured by his ability to deliver the goods; to whom obstacles mean something to overcome; peril a thing to laugh at.

The Partners has all the fascination of Stewart Edward White's earlier stories of the woods; the toil, the danger of lumbering; the humor and the tragedy of it. But it is greater than Mr. White's earlier work.

SHIPS SALUTE VALPARAISO

American Battleship Fleet Passes Chilean Port Going North.

Valparaiso, Feb. 15.—The great American fleet of sixteen battleships, under the command of Rear Admiral Evans, passed Valparaiso yesterday afternoon and continued on its voyage northward for Chile, Peru, the next stopping place. All Valparaiso and thousands of persons from every city in Chile witnessed the passing of the fleet.

President Monte and other high officials of the republic came out from shore to greet the battleships and almost the entire Chilean navy exchanged salutes with the American ships. President Monte and other Chilean officials embarked on the training ship, General Baquedano, and took a position well out in the harbor. Around the Baquedano, the fleet swung at a speed of four knots, firing the presidential salute as they passed in review. It was one hour from the time the head of the fleet entered the bay until the last vessel had passed the president's ship and turned toward the open sea. Then the Baquedano lifted anchor and escorted the fleet well out of the bay and on its way to the north. It was a view such as never has been seen in Valparaiso bay, and one that will long be remembered by the people of Chile, who came miles to see it.

IS WEARY OF THIS LIFE

Albert Ostrom, Vagrant, Furnishes Three Sensations in Three Days.

Albert Ostrom has been leading the strenuous life. At the present time he is passing through a stage of the delirium tremens at the police station, awaiting his hearing on the charge of vagrancy. This trouble, however, is but a drop in the bucket as compared with the exciting events that Ostrom has figured in within the past five days.

Ostrom came into the limelight in Superior, Feb. 10, when he was ejected from a street car at Tower and Belknap for drunkenness and using obscene language.

Thereafter Ostrom seemed to have but one idea, that of getting even with the street railway company. The methods he undertook to accomplish his revenge, however, were of the unusual sort and nearly caused two motormen to have attacks of heart disease.

The day following his ejection from the car Ostrom deliberately laid down in front of a rapidly moving car on the South Superior line and had to be dragged off by the motorman, who stopped the car to his body.

The next day Ostrom, while walking down Tower avenue with some companions, in a drunken condition, jumped in front of another street car and was saved from death only by the presence of mind and quick efforts of the motorman. When the car stopped the fender was touching Ostrom's body.

The Superior police gathered Ostrom in after this stunt and he was tagged a vagrant by the municipal court with the order that he get out of that city as fast as possible.

Boarding the ferry boat for Duluth, Ostrom, seeming to recollect that he was not carrying out his intention of furnishing a daily sensation for the public, jumped overboard and was nearly drowned in the icy waters of the bay. The tug crew pulled him out and turned him over to the police, who had word that Ostrom was in the bay.

He was hustled to the police station where he was been ever since. Ostrom will probably be found a vagrant and the local authorities will be confronted with the problem of getting rid of him.

Ostrom claims his residence is "Duluth-Superior." Both cities are reluctant about claiming him as a citizen and there is the possibility that if he gets out of the hands of the police he will attempt to stop more cars or by getting under the wheels.

So far as known Ostrom has no relatives that will look after him, although it has been suggested that some might turn up to claim damages if he happened to be killed by the cars.

DULUTH IS NOW ONE OF THE IMPORTANT IMMIGRATION PORTS OF THE COUNTRY

the Montreal Office.

Some Facts Regarding the Inspectors and Their Work.

A good deal of curiosity has been expressed in Duluth from time to time as to how it comes that the local United States immigration office is under the supervision of an office in Montreal, Canada, which is the head of the whole border service. The general public cannot understand why an important office of this nature is established in another country, when it is intended to control the actions of officials on this side of the border.

As a matter of fact, the immigration officers of the United States are in Montreal at the express invitation of the Canadian government and the Dominion transportation companies, and the fact of their being there prevents an immense amount of inconvenience to the traveling public that otherwise might arise through the enforcement of the United States immigration laws at the border.

Canada herself has no reason to complain of these laws, considering that under them the Canadian traveler is recognized and treated as a brother, and considering also that the Dominion government has been ever becoming more and more particular as to the quality of the people admitted into Canada.

From the fact of the United States having laws of this kind, it follows naturally that government supervision must be exercised over the people entering this country, not only by way of the seaports, but also over the border dividing it from Canada. Now there are certain people who, under the regulations, would be refused admission at the border, and others who would not be admitted after certain formalities and inquiries, which might occupy considerable time, had been gone through.

To take a journey to a border town only to find that admission was refused, or only granted after a most annoying delay, would certainly be a great inconvenience to travelers, and the fact that all the formalities necessary can be completed with before setting out on the journey is an advantage of which travelers ought to be the last to complain.

Had to Go to Border. Formerly all travelers from Canada to the United States had to go to the border and take their chances, but for the last six years the United States immigration bureau has maintained an office in Montreal in charge of a resident commissioner of immigration. There is a sub-office of a similar nature in the other great Canadian travel centers, Winnipeg, and officers of the department are also maintained at Quebec, St. John, Halifax and Vancouver, and all principal points along the border, such as Duluth, where Inspector in Charge William H. Dean and assistants have an office.

The officers at all these places are under the immediate control of the commissioner in charge of the head office in Montreal, John H. Clark, and they have to keep in such constant touch with him that the question of an immigrant or traveler arriving in Canada, or passing through to the United States, are at once available in Montreal so that questions arising as to identity can immediately be settled.

It was primarily with a view to preventing delay that the office was established in Montreal. The number of immigrants destined to the United States who are brought to this continent by the Canadian shipping companies, and the number of immigrants who, after a short stay in the Dominion, decide to come to the states, is now so great that it became necessary that in Montreal, the principal center of immigration in the country to the north, there should be a place where such immigrants could be given a certificate of admission, which they surrender to the inspector at the border, and which avoids the necessity for further inspection. If the immigrants are found unsatisfactory, they are told at once that they cannot be admitted, and they remain in Canada, for they have already passed the less rigorous inspection of the Canadian immigration officers at the point of entry.

Another matter that is now being attended to by Commissioner Clark and his staff is the carrying out of the new law which requires that all Canadian citizens coming to the United States for permanent residence must be registered. The officers have to make the necessary records and issue the registration papers. These latter are valuable to the holder, for under the new United States naturalization law, the record of entry into the country must be shown before naturalization is granted. Hundreds of such prospective citizens pass through Duluth, on their way from Canada, and are placed on record by Inspector in Charge Dean and his assistants.

Then again the same staff has to attend to the deportation of all those entering the United States from Canada who within three years become charges in the public funds. The law is such that they are liable to be deported.

It is a matter of fact that the Canadian government has no objection to the United States having an office in Montreal, and the fact that the United States does not accord its officers the same privilege.

WILLIAM H. DEAN.

That the steamship companies who brought such people to the continent have to return them to the port of embarkation, where they are turned over to the authorities and returned to their old homes. The steamship company stands half the cost of inland transportation in America and all other transportation expenses.

Arrangements have also to be made for the return of such Canadians as become public charges in the United States. Similar investigations have to be made into the cases of citizens of the United States who became public charges in Canada, and arrangements made for their return to proper institutions of the locality from which they came originally in the United States. Another thing upon which the officers have to keep a close watch is to prevent smuggling of undesirable aliens across the border. In this respect it may be pointed out that Canada has a much more rigorous law than the United States. For instance, any Canadian immigration or other government officer can, without a warrant, arrest an immigrant and remove him from the country by force if necessary, but the United States does not accord its officers the same privilege.

Once a man gets over the border into this country, he causes no end of trouble before he can be deported. Inspector in Charge Dean in Duluth always has several of these deportation cases on hand, and a large ball of red tape has to be unwound before the undesirable immigrant can be forced out of the country. First of all, a warrant has to be obtained for the man's arrest. The officers have to send to Washington for it, and that consumes some little time. Then the evidence, in the form of questions and answers, has to be sent to Washington, via Montreal. If in the Montreal district, as is the case with Duluth, and only the secretary of the immigration bureau at Washington has a right to say what shall be done with the man or woman. If it is decided to deport him, it is necessary for a warrant to be issued by the officers by the secretary. All this takes time, especially in the case of western stations like Duluth. The law is framed, of course, to insure absolute justice being done the immigrant, but at the same time it seems rather cumbersome to a good many people, and not all of the latter are outside the service.

Then, again, no single immigration officer of the United States has a right to deny any applicant admission to the United States. If he has any doubt as to the admissibility of an alien, the alien must appear before a board of special inquiry, comprised of three special inspectors, and only that body can deny admission. Duluth has such a board. When this board excludes a person, only the secretary of the bureau at Washington can order otherwise. During the past fiscal year 64,000 aliens were examined by the staff under Commissioner Clark's direction.

ure duties—the advantages and hardships of an army career—Secretary of War W. H. Taft yesterday presented diplomas to the 108 members of the graduating class of the United States military academy.

The secretary impressed upon the young men who were commissioned as second lieutenants in the army that the military service must ever be subordinate to the civil government and that it was the soldier's duty to "keep his mouth shut and obey orders."

The young soldiers were called to receive their diplomas in the order of class standing. The honor of heading the list fell to Cadet Glen E. Elbertson of Manhattan, Riley county, Kansas.

Mr. Taft congratulated him heartily upon his success. George R. Goethals, who stood fourth in his class, is the son of Col. Goethals of the Engineering Corps of the army, who now is in charge of the construction of the Panama Canal. Col. Goethals was present when his son was handed the diploma.

The board of water and light commissioners, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, adopted a resolution abolishing the all flat rate assessments for water consumption and establishing a universal meter rate.

This action of the board was forecasted by The Herald several days ago, and being known at the time the sentiment of the commissioners was strongly for the meter rate instead of the flat rate. The change is made because the department feels that it will be an injustice to the people using meters if the flat rate is continued any longer. Hereafter, as soon as the meters can be established, all the water furnished by the city water plant will be metered.

Following is the resolution of the board of water and light commissioners:

"It is resolved, That the installation of water meters upon all consumption is hereby determined upon as the policy of this department; and to the end that this may be accomplished systematically, it is hereby ordered that the introduction of meters be immediately required upon such public or business consumption as is not already metered; and also upon all occupied residence property of more than 2,000 square feet of land and having also more than one bath, or one closet, or one basin for the use of one family.

The board, which is comprised of T. T. Hudson, president; J. B. Erd, president; George S. Smecher, H. H. Phelps and L. E. Manley, all well known business and professional men, has given the subject of water rates careful study for several months, and they are unanimous in the opinion that the meter rate should prevail.

Attention is called to the fact that two-thirds of the receipts of the department from water consumption are derived from the flat rate, though the use of meters and the board believes that it will be no hardship to require the other one-third to submit to the same conditions.

"The meter rate is 17½ cents per 100 feet, which allows the use of 43 gallons of water for one cent. It is claimed that with care the payments should, undoubtedly, be less than under the flat rate.

The economy suggested consists in keeping the plumbing in repair and shutting off of the faucet after all the water needed is drawn.

The public is asked to remember that this action by the board is entirely in the interests of the people, for their benefit only, and that no other motive has influenced the commissioners in the adoption of the resolution. The members of the board have expressed the hope that their fellow citizens will cheerfully comply with the requirement.

Young Men.
West Point, N. Y., Feb. 15.—With plain words of advice as to their future duties—the advantages and hardships of an army career—Secretary of War W. H. Taft yesterday presented diplomas to the 108 members of the graduating class of the United States military academy.

The secretary impressed upon the young men who were commissioned as second lieutenants in the army that the military service must ever be subordinate to the civil government and that it was the soldier's duty to "keep his mouth shut and obey orders."

The young soldiers were called to receive their diplomas in the order of class standing. The honor of heading the list fell to Cadet Glen E. Elbertson of Manhattan, Riley county, Kansas.

Mr. Taft congratulated him heartily upon his success. George R. Goethals, who stood fourth in his class, is the son of Col. Goethals of the Engineering Corps of the army, who now is in charge of the construction of the Panama Canal. Col. Goethals was present when his son was handed the diploma.

The board of water and light commissioners, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, adopted a resolution abolishing the all flat rate assessments for water consumption and establishing a universal meter rate.

This action of the board was forecasted by The Herald several days ago, and being known at the time the sentiment of the commissioners was strongly for the meter rate instead of the flat rate. The change is made because the department feels that it will be an injustice to the people using meters if the flat rate is continued any longer. Hereafter, as soon as the meters can be established, all the water furnished by the city water plant will be metered.

Following is the resolution of the board of water and light commissioners:

"It is resolved, That the installation of water meters upon all consumption is hereby determined upon as the policy of this department; and to the end that this may be accomplished systematically, it is hereby ordered that the introduction of meters be immediately required upon such public or business consumption as is not already metered; and also upon all occupied residence property of more than 2,000 square feet of land and having also more than one bath, or one closet, or one basin for the use of one family.

The board, which is comprised of T. T. Hudson, president; J. B. Erd, president; George S. Smecher, H. H. Phelps and L. E. Manley, all well known business and professional men, has given the subject of water rates careful study for several months, and they are unanimous in the opinion that the meter rate should prevail.

Attention is called to the fact that two-thirds of the receipts of the department from water consumption are derived from the flat rate, though the use of meters and the board believes that it will be no hardship to require the other one-third to submit to the same conditions.

"The meter rate is 17½ cents per 100 feet, which allows the use of 43 gallons of water for one cent. It is claimed that with care the payments should, undoubtedly, be less than under the flat rate.

The economy suggested consists in keeping the plumbing in repair and shutting off of the faucet after all the water needed is drawn.

The public is asked to remember that this action by the board is entirely in the interests of the people, for their benefit only, and that no other motive has influenced the commissioners in the adoption of the resolution. The members of the board have expressed the hope that their

WORK PROGRESSES AT FAYAL SHOPS

On Ore Cars Being Built—Other Eveleth Mining Notes.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Fayal Machine shops work is progressing rapidly to completion on the underground ore cars, that are being built for the Fayal and Gilbert mines. The day shifts are working as heretofore, and no effort is being made at present to take on an additional night shift.

It is very possible that in the immediate future, the one steam shovel, that is being worked in the Fayal pit, may be taken off for repairs. All new shaft work in the pit are in need of overhauling and the officials consider this an important matter.

In case such action is taken the engine and shovel crews will doubtless be put to work in the machine shops, as has happened before, this winter.

The work of retraining the No. 1 Spruce shift has been completed and underground mining is going on. The shift work in the pit are in need of overhauling and the officials consider this an important matter.

In case such action is taken the engine and shovel crews will doubtless be put to work in the machine shops, as has happened before, this winter.

WANT RECOGNITION. Growing Range Communities Desire Members of County Board.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the county board of hewas meets, March 14, the plans for reorganizing the county along lines proposed by the county auditor, in order to make a more equitable distribution of the offices of county commissioner, some of the more populous range communities, notably Coleraine and Nashua, will be heard from if they are not each given at least one of the five commissions. The subject is being freely discussed all over the county, and especially in the two places named. Coleraine and Bovey will insist the reorganizing be effected in such a way that one of those places secure one of the commissions, while Nashua will make a similar claim. While politics enters more or less into the discussion of the subject, there is also a feeling that equity should also be considered.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Many People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you use of it the better it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities which are in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the odorous gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are a pleasant chewing lozenge, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

Lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their use, and, in fact, the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the value of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas, indigestion, flatulence, the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe in some cases a patient's preparation, yet I believe I got more and better results from Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.

TO DEVELOP OUR FIND Recently Made at the Embarras Dam by the Longyear Drills.

Bivabik, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big ore find made at the Embarras dam by Longyear drills is to be developed in the near future. The announcement is made that at least the preliminary work will be done during the summer, and that work on the shaft will be started.

This was the big find of the past year, and by some it is predicted that here at some time in the future will be located the biggest underground mine on the Mesaba range.

While the development work will, it is claimed, be done by the Longyear, there is every reason to believe that the steel corporation will be the ultimate operators.

It is believed that the quicksand formation here is similar to that at the Bangor, and that the difficulty can be overcome without going to too great expense.

From an inside source it is learned that the steel corporation has been working west of Bivabik and which completed their task with the end of last week, really made some good strikes. It was given out officially that the steel corporation had a twenty-five-foot body of ore that was very promising. The claim is that this assertion was made with an ulterior motive and that a really big body of ore has been found. The steel corporation of this claim is important to Bivabik, as this mine would be practically in the village limits. The alleged find, the ore of which is said to be in the village limits, is controlled by Duluth parties, thus date development of this property is not expected.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Many People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you use of it the better it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities which are in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the odorous gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are a pleasant chewing lozenge, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

Lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their use, and, in fact, the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the value of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas, indigestion, flatulence, the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe in some cases a patient's preparation, yet I believe I got more and better results from Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.

TO DEVELOP OUR FIND Recently Made at the Embarras Dam by the Longyear Drills.

Bivabik, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big ore find made at the Embarras dam by Longyear drills is to be developed in the near future. The announcement is made that at least the preliminary work will be done during the summer, and that work on the shaft will be started.

This was the big find of the past year, and by some it is predicted that here at some time in the future will be located the biggest underground mine on the Mesaba range.

While the development work will, it is claimed, be done by the Longyear, there is every reason to believe that the steel corporation will be the ultimate operators.

It is believed that the quicksand formation here is similar to that at the Bangor, and that the difficulty can be overcome without going to too great expense.

From an inside source it is learned that the steel corporation has been working west of Bivabik and which completed their task with the end of last week, really made some good strikes. It was given out officially that the steel corporation had a twenty-five-foot body of ore that was very promising. The claim is that this assertion was made with an ulterior motive and that a really big body of ore has been found. The steel corporation of this claim is important to Bivabik, as this mine would be practically in the village limits. The alleged find, the ore of which is said to be in the village limits, is controlled by Duluth parties, thus date development of this property is not expected.

WITH Edward Grieg, the Norwegian, dead, in 1907, and Edward Alexander MacDowell, the American, dead, less than a month ago, the world can boast of very few really great living composers.

Of these Saint-Saens is so old that he has quit writing music, and Dudley Buck, the American, practically went into retirement a few years ago when he retired as organist of Holy Trinity church, Brooklyn, where he has been musically supreme for upward of a quarter of a century.

Italy, with her trio, Mascagni, Leoncavallo and Puccini, easily leads the list of the nations in living composers of international fame. Then there is Richard Strauss of "Salome" fame or notoriety, just as you care to look at it. In these men we undoubtedly have the six most famous living composers.

Among these of lesser fame, but more or less widely known, are Reginald De Koven, George W. Chadwick and Edgar Stillman Kelly, Americans all, the last named being located in Berlin, where he is looked upon as a celebrity.

Italy's three all had the traditional hard time of it before their fame smiled on them and led them to walk along the paths of Easy street. All are under 50. Mascagni is the youngest, being only 42. Each of his compatriots is seven years older. Puccini is the only one who comes of a musical family; there were four generations of musical Puccinis in a line before him. All three, however, early in boyhood displayed a strong liking for music, and each has done nothing much in this world but music, play music and write music.

Leoncavallo's Egyptian Adventure. Ruggiero Leoncavallo did dream once of a military career, but the appearance of English rifles speedily dissipated the dream and he is so going probably saved the Neapolitan to the world of music. Leoncavallo at the time was in Egypt, whither he had gone with a boy to live with his uncle, who was director of the press in the Foreign Office. Through his uncle he got the position of piano player to the court of Mahmoud Hamdy. That swarthy son of the Nile fell so much in love with the Italian melodies that he promised him a regimental appointment and a big salary of 10,000 francs a year.

But before Mahmoud could get around to the brass business there was an uprising against the English. Mahmoud cast in his lot with the instigators of the trouble. The British are still in Egypt—Leoncavallo had to flee in disguise. He made his way to Port Said, and at the first opportunity took boat for foreign soil. He landed eventually in France. But before he could get aboard ship—he was penniless when he reached Port Said—he had to raise the necessary passage money by giving a concert. All the time he was playing he was in mortal terror lest some Tommy Atkins should swagger in and arrest him. The concert netted him between five and six hundred francs.

About the time that Leoncavallo reached Paris he made the discovery that he was again flat as a pocketbook. The first work that offered itself was as a singer in a cafe. Then he began to teach singing, and, a little later, to work up artists in their repertoires. In the midst of his struggle to make a living by doing such odd musical jobs he wrote a poem called "Medici." Fortunately for his future, he got an opportunity to read his lines to Massenet, who advised him to go to Milan and read them to Ricordi. That is how Leoncavallo came to pawn the furniture of his flat—that he might have enough money to get to Milan and before M. Ricordi, who commissioned the café player to write music for the poem, the pay to be 20 francs a month for twelve months. This was the name of Leoncavallo was being coupled with that of Mascagni. Leoncavallo was 34 when Italy learned of his existence. Mascagni was 26.

There are many persons in Germany who don't think any too well of Leoncavallo. This is because Emperor William, after hearing "Medici," decided that its composer was the man best fitted to write for him an opera with Roland as the theme. The opera called "Roland" was composed by Leoncavallo after long and arduous work. When produced it pleased the emperor immensely, but the German critics and newspapers "roasted" unmercifully both the work and the composer, because the warlord had dared to select an Italian instead of a German to write a pet opera for him. Outside of Berlin, Leoncavallo and his works are pretty highly thought of the musical world over.

Puccini, Composer of "Madame Butterfly." Giacomo Puccini, composer of the popular opera, "La Bohème," "La Tosca" and "Madame Butterfly," got his musical education at the conservatory of Milan, and incidentally while there lived the life of a true Bohemian, because, forsooth, he had not the means to live in ordinary comfort.

During the three years that he was a conservatory student his food consisted largely of coffee, milk, bread, He, his brother Michael and a friend, all lived together in a top floor hall bedroom. Sometimes, when bread and milk failed them, they would feast on an omelet of two eggs. Once they gave a little dinner party of four, and the rare treat—they served a herring. Puccini's landlord ran a restaurant in connection with the boarding house, and he naturally forbade cooking in the rooms. To circumvent the crusty old fellow by drowning the notes of cooking things, Puccini was wont to play enthusiastically on the piano while his brother played chef. On one occasion, when the three roommates got hold of a live chicken, Puccini could himself at the instrument. Even the brother, who killed the fowl, declared himself unable to hear its dying squawks for the racket of the piano.

To secure coal in infinitesimal quantities as needed, the trio resorted to a clever ruse. Arranged in his best suit of black, Michael Puccini would take a little black traveling bag in his hand and be noisily waved away as for a trip by his fellow conspirators. At night, when all the house slept, Michael would softly steal back to the little top floor room—with the black handbag full of coal. Michael, poor fellow, went to South America to seek his fortune, and he died of yellow fever, just when Giacomo was coming into his own. Many of the incidents of his life as a conservatory student Puccini has woven into "La Bohème."

When the government guaranteed Puccini's expenses for a year at the Milan conservatory Puccini at first failed to pass the entrance tests. In other words, he lived up to his school reputation. But this time failure gratified him, and he went hard to work. At the next trial he was successful. Once in the conservatory he worked indefatigably, but his music was wretchedly written on scraps of paper, and for this reason his teachers were almost persuaded not to read his graduating composition. Only their fondness for Puccini at last led them to sit down in an attempt to decipher the notes. They had not been at the task many minutes before they discovered that they had before them an unusual composition. Puccini had culled his work "Capriccio Sinfonico." When it was played at one of the conservatory concerts its composer was enthusiastically hailed as a genius.

A subsequent concert performance led to Puccini's introduction to Poniati, the librettist, then a beginner like himself. Together they wrote a short opera for a competition. They lost, but nothing discouraged, they set over a few dollars to his important work. Puccini's first sustained effort, "La Villi." For the time and labor Puccini put in on the score he received the meager sum of $20, and no sooner was it handed to him than he was compelled to part with all of it to buy a new coat. He was then a bankrupt and Puccini's leg was fractured. Eight months passed before the leg healed sufficiently to permit its owner to go to Paris for special treatment. It was while he was convalescing that he wrote the greater part of "Madama Butterfly."

As the composer's father was a baker in Leghorn, where Pietro was born, the father wanted to make a lawyer of him, but when he saw that the youngster's head was full of music, he let him have his way, taking him out to the Milan conservatory for the purpose. When he was 16, Mascagni had progressed so far as to take a prize at a Milan exposition for an "Ave Maria." Then an uncle decided to look after the boy's musical education, but before he could do much he died, and Pietro returned home. About this time he composed a cantata, which attracted the attention of a rich nobleman, who placed Pietro in the Milan Conservatory. Of course the youngster was duly grateful, but his restless temperament got in its way, and it was not long before Mascagni was waving a baton here and there over Italy for a traveling opera company.

announcement that the paper would pay $500 to the person submitting to it, within a certain time, the best one-act opera. All the while he had been leading the band, Mascagni had been studying music and composing. Thoughts of having $500 all his own fired him to enter the contest, especially as he was then having a harder time of it financially than ever before, and he had been shy of money from his youth up. He succeeded in getting two friends to adapt a novel for the libretto, and in the eight months that ensued he wrote "Cavalleria Rusticana." His joy when he received word that he had won the prize can easily be imagined.

"Thank God," he exclaimed fervently, as they poured out their words of praise, "now I shall be able to buy my wife a new dress." As soon as he could break away to a telegraph office he sent her this message: "Come, bring the children, that I may know I am the same man."

Mascagni's love for his family has been what might be termed the hobby of his life. When he composes he likes to have a gay time with them. He has a habit of naming each child and his wife for characters in the opera under composition.

Mascagni's wife was a member of an opera company; he met her after he left the Milan Conservatory and while he was traveling about the country as conductor for an opera company. It was at this time that he gained his practical knowledge of the stage, which has stood him in such good stead since he became a composer.

spins more than a mile or two. While directing he shows his extreme nervousness by working his whole body. This habit has led to his being called eccentric as a director. He also has been dubbed abnormal for this and other manifestations of restlessness and also because of his musical style. Abnormal was the word quite a few Americans used last year to describe him, following the initial production of "Salome" at the Metropolitan opera house.

Unlike a great many "big" men, Strauss has not been a bit "swelled up" over his success. He is as simple and unaffected as a child; fond of his home; a lover of the out of doors, to which he escapes at every opportunity; and an enthusiastic and expert skat player. Like Puccini, he does most of his composing at night, and once he he produced his first opera, "The Young Princess," he has been organist at the Church of St. Mary in Paris for fourteen years. He remained at this post until 1877. During this time he composed an enormous quantity of church music. In accordance with his contract all this music has been left with the church and was not to be published until after his death. It is now inaccessible in the church library.

Saint-Saens's habitation in his conservatoire days was a little attic room, almost as barren of furniture as the Sahara is of trees. One day, as the boy was playing scales, Henri Appy, a violinist, heard him, and was so charmed with the melody of the notes that he climbed up several flights of stairs to get a sight of the person at the piano. Asking and learning the boy's name, Appy made him blush by

Only One Game Will be Played in Copper Country.

With the championship of the Northwest firmly in their grasp, the members of the Northern hockey team will leave Tuesday evening for Houghton, as the first stopping place in their trip to Cleveland, by which they will conclusively settle the championship of the West in the Canadian national sport.

Wednesday night they will play Houghton, and there are four other games on their schedule, as follows: Canadian Soo, Feb. 21; American Soo, Feb. 22; Detroit, Feb. 24; and Cleveland, Feb. 26. They expect to be back in Duluth Feb. 23, giving them ten days for the entire trip.

The regular lineup will be taken along, with Cargill and McKenzie as spare men. The regular men are Ray Fenton, goal; Ed Furl, point; Charles Horn, cover-point; Frank Winter, rover; Roy Deet, center; John Steinback, right wing; Earl Cummings, left wing.

Nothing has been heard from Calumet in regard to the game for Monday night, as it has been called off, and the departure postponed for two days. Houghton will, therefore, be the only Copper country team to be met, and the Duluth boys are anxious to repeat their performance of Tuesday night, when they defeated Houghton here by a score of 2 to 3. The game Tuesday night was played under unfavorable conditions for both teams, and was not a fair comparison of them. However, in Houghton the teams will meet in the Amphidrome, and if the ice is good, the Hockey enthusiasts will see a whirlwind game. The Duluth boys believe that instead of handicapping them, the big rink will give them a better opportunity to show their worth, and they will show just as much improvement over their form of Tuesday night as will Houghton.

The defeat of the Houghton team by the Northerns was a surprise to Copper country people. The Houghton boys have excused their defeat on the grounds that they were handicapped by the conditions, and it will be up to them to make good their claims next Wednesday night. The Duluth boys expect to have the biggest crowd of the trip at Houghton and look forward to a great game to open the schedule.

At the Soo, the two strong semi-professional teams will be the American Soo team, known as "Chief" Jones in goal, Pud Hamilton, Herb Meinke and other International league stars in the line-up, while the Canadians have a gang of stars, who have been playing together for years. The Soo teams are stronger and faster than those of the Copper country and will probably give the Northerns the stiffest contests of the trip.

Hockey is pretty firmly established in Detroit, and one of the strong teams of the city will take on the Duluth boys. At Cleveland, a semi-professional team, which has successfully competed against the crack teams of Pittsburgh, will be the opposing seven.

The trip of the Northerns is made possible by liberal subscriptions on the part of Duluth businessmen, who are anxious to see the boys make good and at the same time give Duluth a little advertising. The team will start from Duluth with funds enough to pay railroad fares all the way, and they expect no trouble in financing the venture.

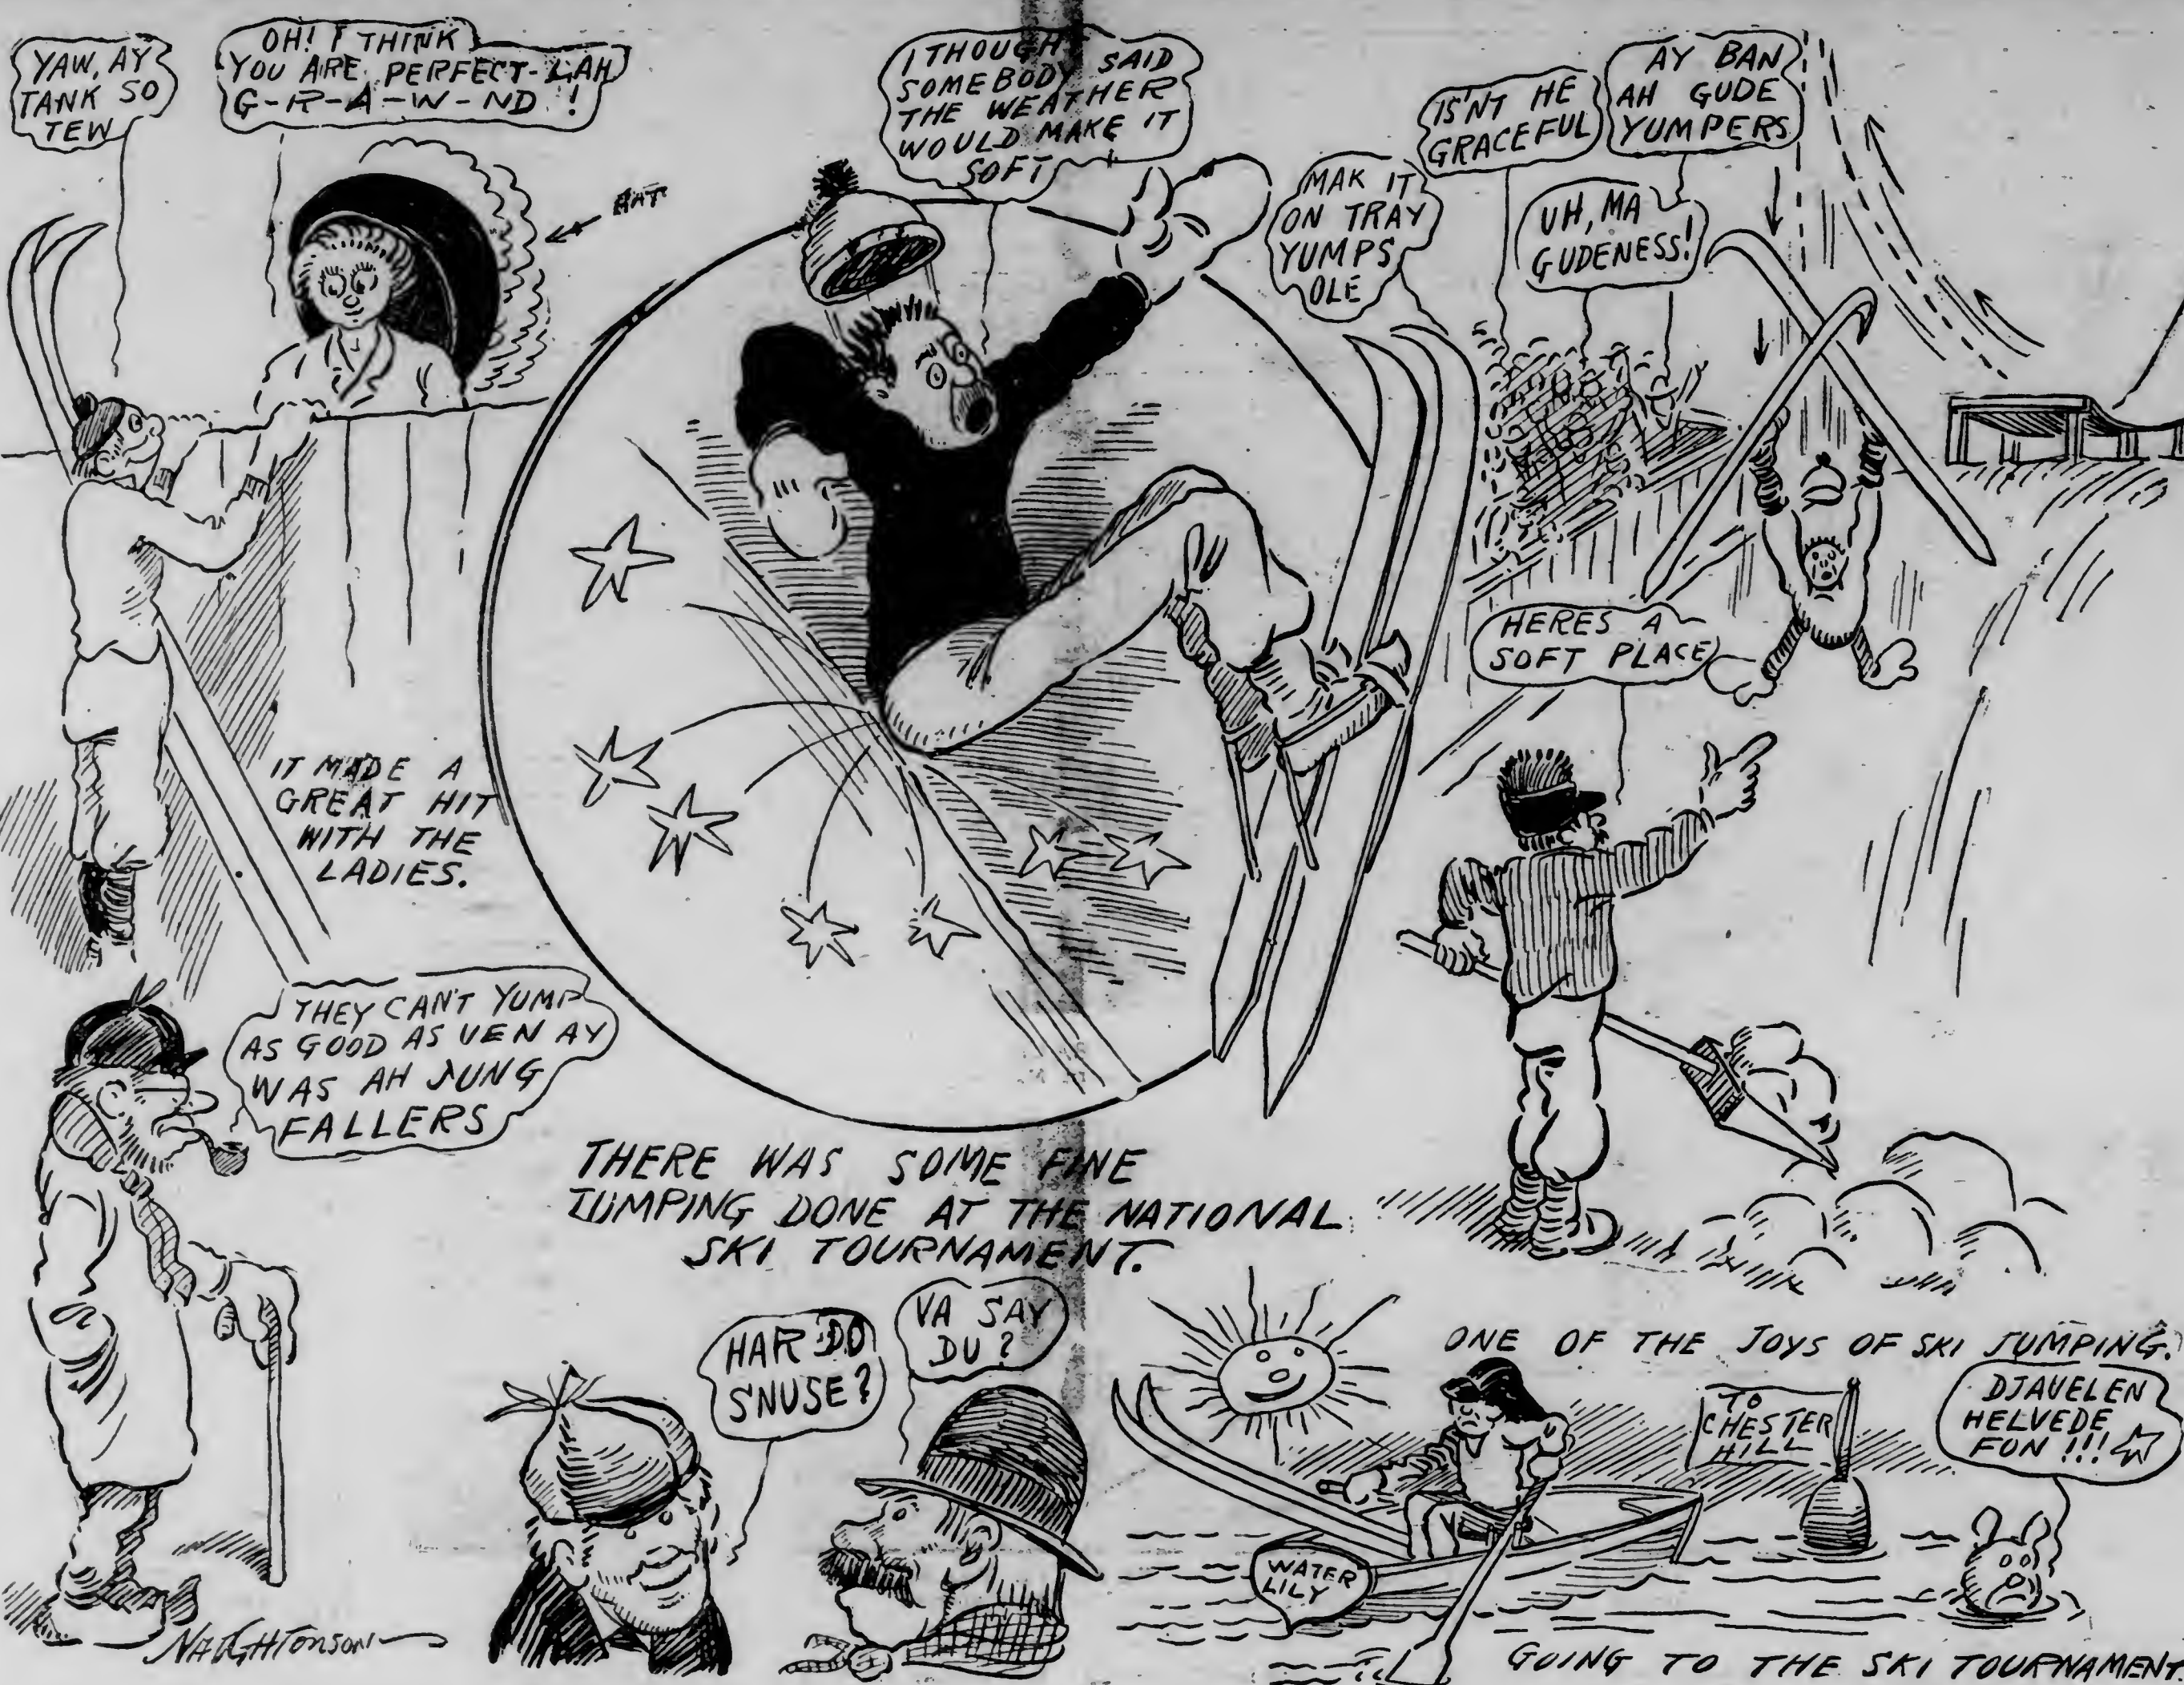

GLEAMS IN THE SPORTING FOG.

The higher the stand, the farther the fall. A fellow from Ironwood, Mich., made the descent of the Chester hill slide six times in the national ski tournament Sunday, didn't make over eighty feet, and rolled to the bottom of the hill every time. But the people don't notice it. Ole Feiring couldn't do better than ninety-five feet and stand up, and an idol was shattered.

Ole was the one best bet before the tournament started. He was the sure enough bird of the city, who was going to crack every American ski record that was ever set and jump up into a little niche in the sky of shining lights. Norwegian wonder. Before the tournament, Ole's friends would have fought at the drop of the hat, had anyone suggested that their hero was to be beaten out by a field of good, bad and indifferent riders. They were backing Ole to the limit.

Their disappointment when the great Ole didn't even get inside of the money, which was divided among fifteen riders, isn't hard to imagine. Ole was very much of a frayed remnant. He was a very dim suggestion of a spark from a comet's tail in a sky of shining lights. He tumbled like a novice and jumped like a twentieth rater.

But Feiring will have his revenge. Tomorrow, he says he'll be back into his own form. His skills will be different, the slide will be different and he'll show some of the disappointed ones that there's nothing on the skis

In this whole nation can beat him if Ole's the goods, he'll come up smiling tomorrow. If he's a frayed remnant, he'll have to postpone his second flight to glory. Great will be the joy tomorrow, if he comes back into his own. And joy is so good as a reaction from grief.

The "wrestling trust," a gang said to be responsible for the pulling of fake matches on the dear public of Chicago and the exclusion of real wrestlers, that this may gather in the coin, had a fine game worked on them by Al Ackerman and Charlie Olson the other night. It didn't do the wrestling game any good, but Ackerman and Olson are about $1,000 to the good and they showed up at least one of the false alarms, the promoters are ringing in on the somnolent public.

In the preliminary to the Beale-Gotch match, the promoters put Gold against Bert Hudson of St. Louis. They bet their money on Hudson against the dub. Fully $1,000 was wagered, it is said, and the backers of the Chicago boy had visions of easy pickings from the St. Louis youngster. The youngster was Ackerman, the cleverest 145-pound wrestler in the country. He spun Gold around a few times and then sat on him. Gold didn't know whether it was a Kansas cyclone or a plain Hoosier mule. At any rate, he went down and out, and the Windy City sports didn't discover their mistake until the money had been paid over. Now they're letting up a yell.

The promoters in Chicago, with the aid of a few mercenary wrestlers, are killing the game for fair. It's a waxy old trick that past history has been throwing on its pages for years and years. The public will fall for it for a time, but when it does take up, wrestlers and promoters alike will hit for the hods and the truck-seats.

"I would like to see Duluth given the annual tournament of the National Ski tournament as a permanent institution," said one of the Chicago delegates meeting the city he national association, as he watched the riders descending the big slide at the Chester hill Thursday afternoon. "This is the city for the tournament. The hill can't be beaten, the city is centrally located for riders and spectators alike, and the national tournament should be held in a big city, where there would be no trouble about accommodations for the visitors. I was going to suggest at the annual meeting, that Duluth be given the tournament again, but the Eau Claire people were so hot on the trail of the 1909 tournament that they didn't give anybody else a chance to say a word."

The Chicago man is radical and his statement will not strike a popular note among the ski enthusiasts of the smaller towns, who look forward to entertaining the national association at some time in the future. But the Chicago friend of Duluth shows good sense.

Nothing would suit Duluth better than to entertain the National Ski association year after year. The big winter ski carnival is an attraction that to be ignored by any city. It brings thousands into the city and furnishes an afternoon of enjoyable sport for the natives. Duluth would guarantee the national association entertainment such as it can receive in no other city. Duluth always has an outdoor stadium for the devotees of clean sport, and the members of the ski clubs of the Northwest are all of that.

But all members of the national association do not see things in the same light as the Chicago man. Shouldn't attention be made to locate the national tournament in Duluth permanently, the howl that would go up from the other delegates would be heard on the other side of the earth. So Duluth is forced to await its chance to line the delegates up again for the Zenith City. That should be soon. The weather man didn't give the city a fair chance to show its appreciation of the skiers this year, although the tournament was the greatest ever held by the association. With a fair break on the weather, Duluth will establish a record in more respects than length of jumps.

DULUTH SKATER WINS INTERNATIONAL HONORS

Carl Ahlroth Makes Good Among the Eastern Speeders.

He is in the Game for Sports' Sake Only.

Carl Ahlroth, who last year broke the half-mile skating record at Minneapolis, won new honors this year by being selected as one of the two representatives of the Western Skating association to compete in the international races at Saranac Lake, Montreal, Pittsburgh and Cleveland. His trip brought him recognition throughout the country, as he won the indoor skating championship of Canada at Montreal by winning two events, and he was the star of the meet at Saranac Lake. He fell down in his form at Pittsburgh and Cleveland and failed to score any first honors.

Ahlroth is the best skater Duluth has turned out. He has speed combined with grace and is believed to have a great future on the steel blades. He has been racing for several years with great success, but the present season has been his best. When racing in form in the East, he drew wide attention and it is predicted that next year, he will send some records flying. Ahlroth is a window decorator, employed by one of the Superior street stores, and gave up racing for the sport only. He has a large collection of medals won in different events throughout the country.

LONGBOAT A "PRO."

Indian Runner Can No Longer Compete as Amateur.

New York, Feb. 15.—Tom Longboat, the Canadian long distance runner, is now, according to the officers of the officers of the Amateur Athletic union, an out and out professional. This, the union officers say, ends all question as to the possible reinstatement of the Indian.

SERIES OF REGATTAS

Five Yacht Clubs Are Planning on Permanent Association.

Duluth, White Bear, Calhoun, Minnetonka and Possibly Superior.

There is a possibility that some of the Twin City boats will again come to Duluth this year, although not in the regular association regatta that is planned, as explained above.

The Duluth club was never in a more flourishing condition than at present, and the indications are that the coming season will be by far the most successful in the history of the local organization. There will be additions to the Duluth fleet, and further improvements are being planned for the new club house on Park Point. It is expected there will be a big increase in the membership. The social side of the club will come in for considerable attention during 1908, and in succeeding seasons, and the new dancing pavilion, which was completed last summer, will prove a strong attraction to members.

Just now members are confining their attention to ice boating, and there are more ice boats on the harbor than ever before. The last snow spoiled the sport for a time, but the three or four days of warm weather this week melted the snow to such an extent that it has disappeared almost entirely, and in the place is a fine sheet of ice for boating. This is being made the most of by enthusiasts.

A permanent regatta association, to consist of four, and possibly five, yacht clubs of Minnesota and Wisconsin, including Duluth, White Bear, Lake Calhoun, Minnetonka and Superior, is being organized by Commodore Horace Johnson of the Duluth Yacht club, and the officials of the White Bear organization.

The indications are that plans for the association will materialize before the opening of the 1908 season. It is practically an assured fact that an organization of the kind proposed will be perfected within the next few weeks. Arrangements will be made for it immediately following the annual meeting of the White Bear club, which will be held early in March.

Superior is a doubtful quantity, but Duluth, White Bear, Lake Calhoun and Lake Minnetonka will surely be in the association, if formed, and it is considered rather probable that Superior also will get into the next few weeks. The association will be a regatta every year, in which members of the association will participate, and to hold the events in rotation—in Duluth one year, the next at White Bear the following year, and the one following at Lake Minnetonka, and so on. Lake Calhoun is considered small for such an event, and possibly the races will be held at White Bear, Lake Minnetonka and in the Duluth-Superior harbor. Lake Calhoun participating just the same as the other clubs.

A state championship cup will be hung up, and will be raced for every year. Besides the cup for the winning club, there will be trophies for the individual winning yachts, and prizes for members of the winning crews, in the shape of appropriate cuff buttons, watch fobs, or something of a similar character.

Thirty-two footers of the type used in the 32-foot class on the local harbor will be eligible to entry, and the regattas will be primarily for boats of this type. They are known as the "Wye" type boats.

The first regatta will doubtless be held this year, but it will not come to Duluth, because of the fact that Duluth had an event of this kind last summer, in which the other clubs named participated. The Duluth boats and so on. Lake Calhoun is considered small for such an event, and possibly the races will be held at White Bear, Lake Minnetonka and in the Duluth-Superior harbor. Lake Calhoun participating just the same as the other clubs.

COMPANY I WINS AGAIN.

Superior Basketball Team Defeats Bemidji Five.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 15.—(Special to The Herald).—The Co. I basketball team of Superior defeated the "Big Bemidji" team last evening for the second time, in succession, the score of last night's game being 21 to 15.

The game last evening was very evenly contested, the accuracy of Burr, the big center for the visiting team, in throwing free baskets from the foul winter of field baskets, each team made three, scoring six points. Bemidji got but seven points from free throws, while Co. I made eleven, four points to the good.

Brewer is Victor.

The second semi-final game in the International League event of the Northwest basketball left unplayed at the end of the bonspiel, was won last night by Brewer from Huron, by a score of 11 to 8. The finals will now be played by the Stokings and Brewer and the contest promises to be an interesting one.

BOWLERS IN CLOSE RACE

Fittwells and National Bank Team Tied at Head.

Sam Olson Still Leads Field in Individual Average.

The end of the week finds the Fittwells and National Bank teams tied at the head of the percentage column in the Duluth City Bowling league, with the Oak Hills and Columbia in a tie for second place, only two games behind the leaders. Interest is keen in the league race and the close scores and rivalry between the teams keeps it up. Both the Columbia and Oak Hills have come up strong during the past two weeks, while the big Duluths are only one full game behind. The Fittwells have still failed to hit a winning pace.

In the grand average, the Columbia, Central, Fittwells and the Duluths stand in the order named, with only one point between each. Sam Olson still leads the individuals, with Misses and Schultz tied in second place with 187.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1888.

For the first time in the history of the road regular trains on the Iron Range run into the union station.

It is reported here that the Northern Dakota Elevator company, the major interest in which is the property of A. J. Sawyer, has been sold to other grain men and capitalists.

Last evening the Chinamen living in Duluth—of whom there are forty-five—gave a dinner of thirteen courses to the Americans who have been interested in the Chinese Sunday school during the past year. Nearly forty guests were at the dinner.

Yesterday's special congressional election in the Marquette, Mich., district resulted in the election of Seymour, Republican, by a vote of about 500 over Green, Democrat.

H. P. & F. E. Wieland have plans drawn for a building to be erected on the present location of Rainey & French's furniture store. It will be 50 by 110 feet, probably four stories high on Superior street, and will cost about $40,000.

The marriage of Ronald M. Hunter, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hunter, and Miss Josephine Earhart, sister of Mrs. P. M. Graft, took place last evening at the residence of Mrs. Graft. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Boyd of Preston, Minn., and Rev. A. W.

Ringland, D. D. of this city. Little Miss Virginia Graft and Catharine Macfarlane acted as bridesmaids, and R. R. Macfarlane as groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter have gone East and will visit the bride's home in Pennsylvania, returning to Duluth early in March.

A decision was handed down yesterday afternoon by the state supreme court on the St. Louis county courthouse question, which was appealed by the county from the decision of Judge Sleeper. The latter's decision is affirmed, and the law is held unconstitutional, thus leaving the advocates of a county building no further ground for action.

Yesterday afternoon a large party of prominent citizens of Tower arrived in Duluth, bringing the body of Peckford, Murray, late of that place, and formerly of Chippewa Falls, where he will be buried. Mr. Murray was employed at Chippewa Falls by John T. Murphy. He entered into business at Tower with P. R. Hildner, under the firm name of Richardson & Murray. On the dissolution of this firm, he formed a partnership with Victor Dashi of the Portland hotel. Mr. Dashi has engaged Frank McWhorter of this city to proceed to Tower and assist him in the management of the hotel.

Governor McGill has appointed W. D. Tomlin to be state boiler inspector of this district, taking the place of Inspector Patrick, dismissed.

REPRESENTATIVE W. C. ADAMSON OF GEORGIA

BY SAVOYARD.

W. C. ADAMSON.

Cleveland and Stevenson ticket. In 1896, at the age of 41, he was returned to the Fifty-fifth congress, and has been five times re-elected, a tenure on the seat unprecedented in that district, where the vicious practice of "rotation in office" so long maintained. There is no more sense in rotation in the office than there is in rotation in the guilds. As well say that as soon as a man gets to be a Christian, he should drop that trade and turn blacksmith, as to do so when a man has well served a country, is as senseless as when a man is made to take up something else. Your new member is at great disadvantage, unless he has gained eminence before he gets to congress, as was the case with David Dudley Field, and as is the case with Philander C. Knox. The only way to secure for oneself a position, gets desirable committee assignments. The rule is that the new member must take years to make up to a place where he can be of practical use in the real work of congressional legislation.

Congress cannot be, and if it could, it will not be, stamped by a conflagration of the Potomac river, a piece of machinery, or a piece of property, as a new member, even if that member were a Tom Marshall. William J. Bryan found that out, though he did not like it. He was a Democrat and stamped a Democratic national convention after he left congress. The first time I ever saw him, he was in the life of the Forty-sixth congress, his second term. Nobody then supposed that Adamson made his making of half the man he became, and that he would not have been had rotation held good in Maine. The same was true of Dingeldey and Boutwell, and is true of Hale and Frye. Experience in the legislature is what discipline and drill are in the army.

Adamson is one of the most popular men, personally, in congress—in the class with Ollie James, of the Democratic side, and Fred Landis on the Republican. Everybody hails him as "Charlie." It is a habit Georgians have of calling their friends "Charlie." "Alec" Stephens, "Joe" Brown, "Jim" Griggs, and so on. This diminutive of the man, "Give me a match, Joe," said the little Georgia man, and he held out a match. He needed a better insight into Joe Blackburn's character—his democratic openness and his warm fellowship—than that of familiarity discloses. It was on the Dingley tariff that Adamson made his mark. It was not only a characteristic speech, but an able argument. John Sharp, of Mississippi, never flew at the speaker more accurately or more viciously. It was no such speech as Carlisle's against the McKinley tariff, but it was a masterpiece of a different kind. It was in the favor of it.

One day the great Toombs made one of his terrible assaults on a bill of Judah P. Benjamin to dispose of some public lands in Louisiana. Benjamin, the senator from Georgia, is not familiar with the principles of the tariff, but he is familiar with the principles of the tariff. He recognized stealing when it is right before his eyes. I pray God I may always remain as ignorant of the tariff as I am of the tariff. Adamson did not understand the philosophy of the tariff as expounded by William Smith, the protectionist, George Bentham, the protectionist, and so on. He was a most successful beginning, and Adamson found that day had the respect of congress as well as the good will of every member who made his acquaintance.

When he came here he succeeded in retaining in their positions several ladies whom Mr. Toombs had pointed postmasters in his district. He defeated the nominations of four negro postmasters out of five in this district. He broke the red tape of the circuit court office, had the Chattahoochee river cleared of obstructions and thus gave a point of view to the cotton growers sooner than they otherwise would have received it. Later he got an adequate appropriation in the river and harbor bill for the improvement of the river. His popularity was as great with the heads of departments as it was with his associates on the floor, and to please him many Democrats

His success at the bar was rapid and substantial, due mainly to a common sense that unerringly taught him the right way to win a case and the weak point of his adversary's; but this was not all, and not enough. Adamson has a mind that engages in a fight, like a bulldog in a dog fight. He seizes on the material issue, clings to it with a persistent energy that will take no denial. This was the quality that gained him success in the state courts, superior and inferior, and in the federal courts.

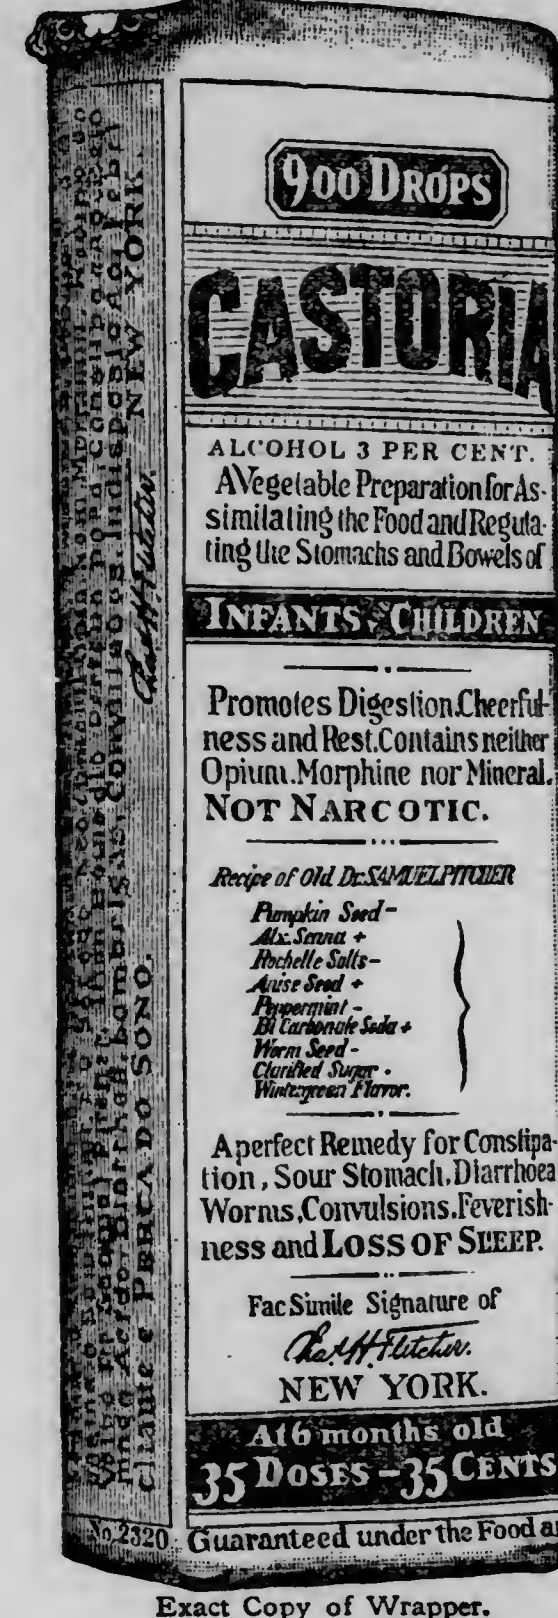

Adamson, like all Southern gentlemen, took a keen interest in politics. The policy of the Republican party in the days of reconstruction left no election to any man of the cotton states, who had a spark of self-respect, as to the party with which he should affiliate. He was bound to be a Democrat or a Pariah. Sir Robert Walpole never said that every man had his price. What he did say was that "Some men have their price." The history of the second South Carolina election, the great old statesman—some hundreds had their price; countless thousands had no price. Had Lincoln survived, or had he been succeeded by Andy Johnson in the White House, there is little doubt that there would have been a formidable, and what is better to the purpose, an respectable Republican party in the cotton states, but Sumner, Stevens, Wade, Morton, and others, who were the leaders of the seceding states, other than the mountains of Tennessee, a man had to cease to walk on his legs and crawl on his belly.

Hence, the South remained Democratic, and when yet a cure is necessary as from sincere conviction. Adamson stuck closely to the bar, however, and except a term as city judge, he held no office until 1892, when he was chosen presidential elector on the Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. ANNIVERSARY OF THE MAINE'S DESTRUCTION Decade of Mighty Import to the United States Has Been Rounded Out—Results That Have Been Stupendous.

Today completes perhaps the most important decade in the history of the United States.

Ten years have passed since an explosion from the ocean sent the battleship Maine to the bottom of Havana harbor, started a war that was to blow Spain from the New World and launched the United States on its new career as a commanding factor in the affairs of the nations.

The ten years' run of the nation's life from 1875 to 1885 were important because they saw a nation born; the ten years from 1885 to 1895 were important because they witnessed the salvation of that nation after one of the most terrible internecine wars in history, but the decade now in its final days, will take at least as big, perhaps a bigger, place than the two preceding epochs of notable events because of the immense bearing it is likely to have on the future of the republic.

The Maine and Cuba "to relieve the tension between Spain and the United States, to be a token of the resumption of friendly relations between the two nations."

The historic letter in which Senor Depuy de Lome dealt so insultingly with President McKinley, and the subsequent sinking of the Maine, enraged a nation already maddened over the horrible atrocities perpetrated by the butchers of Cuba. The Cuban, Spain speedily withdrew the offending diplomat, and a more welcome minister was sent to replace him. Then, to improve the feeling, the Maine went to Cuba.

Perhaps war would eventually have come anyway, but the step in the conflict was the innocent one of sending the Maine to Havana. There was a greater force in the destinies of the country than any since Washington and Lincoln.

The shock of a thundering steel plates had hardly sent its message quivering through the frame of the doomed vessel before the gallant seaman, Bill Anthon, a perfect picture of composure and discipline, was quietly saluting the captain in charge, now Admiral Sigbee, and announcing:

"I have the honor to report, sir, that the ship is sinking."

A nation chafed at act of quiet heroism, but before the salve had died out, doughty little Joe Wheeler sent a fresh thrill of patriotism throughout the length and breadth of the land by tendering his services to Washington with the announcement that though on the side of the Confederacy in the Civil war, he "would fight like hell" for Uncle Sam in the conflict against the Dons.

This sword was eagerly accepted, and the former rebel leader was made major general of volunteers, U. S. A. He adorned the post, and the spirit of strenuousness told him that the field was the place for him. The Rough Riders were organized with Roosevelt as colonel, and from the minute he donned the slouch hat and buckram of the trooper, he had started his ride to the White House. A nation cheered the former student as he dashed up San Juan hill.

Knowing it to be their only chance of victory the Republicans of New York in their next convention traded their great war reputation and made him their candidate for governor, a nomination followed by an election. He was a satisfactory governor to the people, but not to the game, and noting his growing power, Platt and Quay sought to commit him to obsequy, but he refused to let them. The unhappy off-taking of the president sent Roosevelt to the White House, and in 1894 he went there again by the biggest majority ever given a candidate for the office.

On his way to fame, though he took no actual part in it. Ten years ago he was unknown, but his work of restoring order in the Philippines disclosed administrative skill of such rarity that he has gone from preference to the leading candidate for the succession to Roosevelt.

Dewey, too, might have gone into retirement, but he saved for his minor exploits as a young lieutenant in the Civil war, had not the destruction of the Dons at Manila bay given him a place in the American gallery of naval heroes beside Paul Jones, Decatur, Bannbridge, Barry and Farragut.

Dewey, only a few weeks ago, celebrated his 70th birthday, wearing a title bestowed to few men in the naval service of Uncle Sam—admiral.

The Oregon completed its wonderful voyage around Cape Horn, and dropped anchor with its sister warships, ready to get into action in any minute. Capt. Clark had made his place secure in the affections of his countrymen, and he had a chance to gain further prestige when in the conflict a few weeks later, the American fleet under Sampson and Schley sank the Spanish fleet in the battle of Manila.

Schley is still living, but Sampson has died, and his name is a household word. He was a man of great character, and his death was a great loss to the country.

Now the captain, made more serious by the years that have passed, has just become a member of the house of representatives, where he promises to be most useful to his country.

Gen. Shafter and Secretary of War, Alger, who came in for much criticism during the war, have passed into the history of the nation. Root, who succeeded Alger as secretary of war, is now secretary of state, and the man who was the hero of the war, is now the hero of the peace.

McKinley and his great secretary of state, John Hay, have both passed to their final rewards, the former the most revered American since Abraham Lincoln.

In another decade nearly every big leader in the war will have probably passed, but the influence of the conflict will outlast a century.

Already the results have been stupendous. A policy of insularity of the party regulars of being in the country for a century and a quarter, has been abandoned never to be resumed.

The acquisition of Cuba, Porto Rico, but more especially the Philippines, made Uncle Sam a world power.

His first tried his sword in the arena of world diplomacy when, after the Boxer insurrection, the powers would have made an excuse of the disorder to divide China among themselves. It was the heroic stand of John Hay that prevented this piece of international robbery.

This victory was followed by another still more notable when President Roosevelt put a period to the war between Russia and Japan.

Save Money by Buying Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. You will pay just as much for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as for any of the other cough medicines, but you save money in buying it. The saving is in what you get, not what you pay. The sure-to-cure you quality is in every bottle of this remedy, and you get good results when you take it. Neglected colds often develop serious conditions, and when you buy a cough medicine you want to be sure you are getting one that will cure your cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always cures. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle. For sale by all druggists.

BETTER THAN SPANKING!

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. South Bend, Ind., will testify true to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your child troubles you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adult and aged people troubled with urine difficulties day or night.

were restored to the Blue Book in his district. He had been turned out of the beginning of McKinley's first term. He had the good sense to oppose the Spanish war, and the Democratic side of the Fifty-fifth congress took the hysterics every time the word Cuba was pronounced during a sitting. Living in retirement, he was a foolish way, the prosecution of which was bound to add strength to the Republican party in the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. Of course, his work in that committee was not only a characteristic speech, but an able argument. John Sharp, of Mississippi, never flew at the speaker more accurately or more viciously. It was no such speech as Carlisle's against the McKinley tariff, but it was a masterpiece of a different kind. It was in the favor of it.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The high school was absolutely quiet all day Wednesday in commemoration of the great statesman, Lincoln. On Tuesday morning Principal Smith read to the assembled students Shipman Andrews' "Perfect Tribute," which gave to the listeners a better insight of the inner nature of Lincoln than is generally given in the histories which they struggle over, and presented a lesson on human character of absorbing interest. After the reading, the faculty and students arose and sang "America" with the kind of vim and patriotism that predicts new honor and respect for "old glory" for the next half century. Applause rang through the hall when it was announced that Wednesday would be a holiday, and on that day every one splashed around town to their heart's content.

On Tuesday afternoon Miss Edna Munsey delighted the members of the Musical society with her charming voice and the unlucky ones who missed the treat hope to have the pleasure of listening to her later in the year.

Poor juniors! It is pretty hard to have lovely air castles rudely smashed, but the seniors are too wonderful for the juniors to compete with. Last Tuesday the fast senior five made baskets at will and missed doubling their score and the juniors by only a few points. The juniors will now have to take a back seat with the freshmen while the seniors and sophomores struggle through three games for the championship pennant. The juniors hope to retaliate by defeating the seniors at hockey in the near future.

Freshmen are wearing the "smile that won't come off," for they have humiliated the sophomores as they have not been humiliated for many years. At hockey the 1901 heroes handled the puck in a way that pod of okra or a pod of cowpeas, or a cotton plant, or a corn pod, or a watermelon. It is a splendid race, and speaking of their ancestry, in the Old World, Sir Walter Scott puts in the mouth of grim, the stern, the pitiless Cromwell the most flattering compliment. Horace Greeley, within a few weeks after Appomattox, expressed the wish that Davis and Toombs, Benjamin Butler, Stephen A. May, and all the rest of the trusted Southern leaders surviving the war, would be invited to return to their former places in the councils of the republic to help cement the nation anew and restore the full and equal citizenship of the United States. It is with pleasure that I recall that one of my most enthusiastic, and all odds my most enthusiastic, was given to that same Horace Greeley in 1872.

For seventy years the South had in keeping the political destinies of our country. What she made of it is shown by the millions of men who volunteered, and the billions of money that were expended to preserve it.

Thursday afternoon school closed a few minutes early and a few hundred students made a grand rush for the ski tournament and spent a very delightful time watching the experts from all over the country hurt themselves through the air for long jumps, lighting as best they could. The sight inspired the hearts of many of the students, and several have formed a ski club and will sport upon the hills where the grade is not quite as steep as the slide at the park. The tournament has been the subject of many literary productions in other schools and many themes vividly describing the sport have poured in on the English teachers. A delegation of Superior students attended the tournament and seemed to enjoy their visit to the "city" very much.

Prof. Lambert, with the exception of "Chief Colby" of the lunch room, is perhaps the busiest man in school. Besides Whose fingers were clumsy as thumbs;

And her pen, so I'm told,
This never could not hold,
So she never could write out her sums.

Hunting George's Hatchet.

A Jolly Little Game Which is Appropriate to Play at a Washington Birthday Party.

In one corner of the room place a little hatchet, either on a wall bracket-shelf or suspended from a picture rail, about four feet from the floor. About the handle of the hatchet tie as many very narrow ribbons as there are to be guests. These ribbons must be of equal length—say about 18 inches long, and only one end of each ribbon is to be confined to the hatchet, the remainder to be passed about the room in a mysterious, hidden manner, running behind pictures, beneath sofas, around chairs and through books, all emerging at one common center, preferably a small table. To the free ends of the ribbons are attached the names of the guests, and each participant in the game finds his or her ribbon by the cords thus attached.

When all have been given their ribbons the signal to start is sounded by a bell in the hands of the little hostess. All start at once to follow the ribbons which will lead them to the coveted hatchet. But as the ribbons have come in a most confusing way, the guests find themselves much tangled up, crossing each other's paths in a strange labyrinth, so intricate at times that much fun is had and much laughter provoked while the contestants are struggling to follow their respective ribbons.

A simple little gift is promised as a reward to the boy and girl who first reach the hatchet. Those may be miniature portraits of George Washington simply framed in silver oak, or two tiny hatchets, gilded and adorned with ribbon bows, bearing the name of the hostess and date of the party on the blades.

ELIZABETH AND THE SWAN. A Fairy Story by Maud Walker

Little Elizabeth was an orphan. At the time of her parents' death her aunt—a very cross and selfish old woman—took her to her home, promising her food and clothing for a certain amount of work in return. The work proved plentiful and heavy, but the food was small in quantity and poor in quality, and the clothing that was given to the little orphan to wear was some castoff garments of a former little servant whose lot had been so hard that she had run away, leaving her old rags behind her. And thus Elizabeth found herself dressed in dirty and ragged clothes as soon as her own little wardrobe was worn out. And with the constant work it did not take long to ruin her pretty frocks that her dear mother had made for her.

And as the weeks wore on Elizabeth grew thin, pale and weak from the effects of her hard and constant work and insufficient food. And never an hour had she to play, for as soon as her daily tasks were completed she was so weary and sleepy that she would go to her cold, cheerless attic room and creep into the miserable bed that had been occupied by the former little servant.

One night as Elizabeth lay shivering and shivering in the dark room a voice whispered in her ear: "Come, awake and harken to me. I have something to tell you."

Elizabeth opened her eyes and was surprised to see standing there a beautiful little girl. She was comfortably dressed in nice warm garments trimmed with fur. She held a silver lamp in her hand, and its brilliant flames lighted up the miserable room, showing its aged and rotting ceiling and broken bits of old furniture.

"Who are you, beautiful and happy little girl?" asked Elizabeth in a voice of surprise. "Are you a fairy? If so, please take me away from this awful place. I shall die soon if I am not helped here."

"No, I am not a fairy, but the little girl who used to be a servant in this house. One cold night last winter—just about a year ago—I became so miserably unhappy that I determined to run away from this wicked old woman and this house, which was nothing more than a jail to me. I stole out while the old woman was asleep in her easy chair beside the great and beautiful fire that always lit up the room when I was here, and which lit me to the bone. As I sat there a strange thing happened, a thing which I shall not tell you about for I want you to experience the same delightful surprise that I experienced. But this much I want to tell you. I have never, never regretted the moment when I ventured forth from this house. I have found happiness and a lovely home. Go to the river bank tonight when the moon peeps into your window; sit beneath the clump of shrubbery that stands in the little bend of the river at the foot of the mansion grounds. You know the spot I mean, do you not?"

"Yes, yes," eagerly replied Elizabeth, her pretty childish eyes wide with surprise and hope, and her poor heart all a flutter. "I have seen that lovely clump of evergreen shrubbery, but have never had time to go near it. What if nothing good should happen and she should find me? She might really freeze in the snow, for her clothing was so thin and her shoes full of holes. But was this place to be preferred to a more sudden death? Here she was dying by inches, working and starving her poor little life away. Yes, she would go to the river—to the shelter of the clump of evergreen bush and wait—wait! If nothing happened—well, she would not be any the worse off. Her bed was almost as cold as the out-of-doors. Her room was like ice. She could only freeze, anyway. Taking her thickest garment she wrapped it about her and crept down stairs. Just as she reached the front door and opened it to pass out she heard her old aunt's voice calling from the library: "Who dares to go prowling about my hall? Is that you, Liz? Come right here, you little sneak-thief. What are you doing out of your room at this time of night? It's 9 o'clock. Come here this instant. And if you can't give an account of your stealing down stairs in this way I'll hunt you I will."

Elizabeth stepped upon the floor, went to the window and looked out. It was a moonlight night, still, but intensely cold. Should she go to the river? What if nothing good should happen and she should find me? She might really freeze in the snow, for her clothing was so thin and her shoes full of holes. But was this place to be preferred to a more sudden death? Here she was dying by inches, working and starving her poor little life away. Yes, she would go to the river—to the shelter of the clump of evergreen bush and wait—wait! If nothing happened—well, she would not be any the worse off. Her bed was almost as cold as the out-of-doors. Her room was like ice. She could only freeze, anyway. Taking her thickest garment she wrapped it about her and crept down stairs. Just as she reached the front door and opened it to pass out she heard her old aunt's voice calling from the library: "Who dares to go prowling about my hall? Is that you, Liz? Come right here, you little sneak-thief. What are you doing out of your room at this time of night? It's 9 o'clock. Come here this instant. And if you can't give an account of your stealing down stairs in this way I'll hunt you I will."

But Elizabeth did not hear all the old woman's threats. At the first sound of her voice she hurried out of doors and softly closed the door behind her. Then to the river she flew, her poor little half-bare feet scarcely touching the ground as she sped over it. She was so afraid that her old aunt might go into the hall and look from the window and see her running away. But she knew that the only other servant in the house was an old woman who slept like a log, and whom it was almost impossible to rouse from her slumber, for aside from her being deaf she was usually so tired at night that as soon as she got into bed she was as one dead. So it would take the wicked aunt sometime to rouse the old woman; then it would take the old servant sometime to get up and see what was the matter. Elizabeth knew that she was to pass out after the runaway. And considering all this delay Elizabeth knew that she would have time to reach the river and so hide beneath the clump of shrubbery. Besides, whatever was to happen might happen before the old serving woman came after her.

As soon as she reached the bank of the river little Elizabeth found the clump of evergreen shrubbery and sank beside it, drawing her thin wrap about her, for she was shivering with the cold. Scarcely had she taken her place by the shrub when to her amazement she saw coming on the surface of the frozen river a huge swan, gliding over the ice as though swimming. It came nearer and nearer to where Elizabeth sat, and when opposite her it stopped and turned its head in her direction. Then the most marvelous thing happened. Up went one of the giant swan's wings and out stepped as dainty a fairy as one could wish to behold. Straight up the bank to where Elizabeth sat came the fairy, smiling and beckoning to the wondering child. Elizabeth, her heart so full of gladness, could not speak, but she followed the fairy upon the river and into the suggest little place under the giant swan's wing. Oh, how cozy and warm it was there. Soft feathers wrapped her about and the cold soon left her limbs, and she fell into a sweet sleep, the little fairy sitting beside her, smiling.

And how they did travel! The swan fairly glided over the ice with the swiftness of the wind. But so soon Elizabeth fell asleep that she took no notice of the time that passed. Indeed, so peacefully did she slumber that no dreams came to her, and she felt only the sweetness of rest and warmth.

When at last Elizabeth awoke she found herself in a cozy room, all furnished in pink and white. Beside a window sat a sweet-faced lady of middle age. At the moment of Elizabeth's waking she was looking out of the window watching a flock of birds that had just alighted to feed upon some crumbs she had evidently thrown out for them, for in her lap she held a great bowl full of crumbled bread. And as Elizabeth watched her she kept throwing handfuls of the crumbs from the window, smiling as the birds scrambled to get them.

Having fed the birds to their fill the lady rose and came softly towards the bed in which Elizabeth lay. "Ah, are you awake, little one?" And as she asked the question she bent over Elizabeth and took her hand, gently stroking it. "How came I here?" asked Elizabeth, looking about her.

"You were found half-frozen in the snow last night. One of my servants was out hunting rabbits and came across you on the bank of the river. Instead of hunting about among the houses that border the river for your home he put you in his sleigh, wrapped you snugly in a fur robe and brought you to me. And how much I should love to have you for my own little girl, for I have no children of my own, and my heart has a place for a dear little daughter. But, come, dear, tell me where you live and what your name is."

Slowly Elizabeth told her story, not omitting the visit to the little girl to her attic bedroom and her advice. And then she told of how she had gone to the river and how the great swan had taken her with a fairy hidden beneath its wing. And how she—Elizabeth—had gone with the fairy; but whether she did or not, she did not know. "Ah, then you may be my little daughter, for the fairy and the swan brought you to me," said the good lady, kissing and embracing Elizabeth. "And as soon as you are able to go out we shall see a lawyer about the matter, for I shall make

The Boy Who Could Not Lie.

There was a little fellow,
In the very long ago,
Who found it wasn't very hard
To tell the truth, you know.

He cut down a young cherry tree
With his new hatchet, bright.

For welding blade in orchard glade
Was such a great delight.

But when his father saw the harm
He said, "George, come to me;
Now, tell me, son, about this deed—
Who cut this cherry tree?"

And George, with noble head erect,
And courage in his eye,
Said: "It was I who cut it down;
For, dad, I cannot lie."

WILLIAM WALLACE.

You mine by adoption. And that wicked old aunt shall never—never get her hands on you again. We'll see to that."

The following week Elizabeth's good new mother went to call upon the aged and cruel old aunt, but she found that the wicked old woman had caught cold on the night of Elizabeth's leaving-taking and had suffered a severe attack of pneumonia which had taken her away from the field of her wickedness. She had failed to come to the old servant sufficiently to force her to run out in search of Elizabeth, and striking the defenseless old servant a terrible blow had set out herself in search of the runaway. And the consequence of her wickedness was that she forfeited her life, which was a worthless one.

And now there was no reason why Elizabeth should not be adopted by the sweet, motherly woman who took her late home and her heart and loved her dearly, being deeply loved in return by little Elizabeth.

OUR PUZZLE CORNER.

BEHEADINGS.

- Behold the name that is often applied to an infant and leave the nickname of a famous little character.
- Behold a word describing a head covering and leave that which we could not live without.
- Behold a word applied to water when it is put into a kettle for heating and leave a liquid much used for lighting and heating.
- Behold a word applied to a bird on the wing and leave that which we enjoy each day.

LETTER ENIGMA.

THE TALKING CHERRY TREE. By Helena Davis

Charlie Spooner and his sister Aggie went into the big grove half a mile from their home to get a tree. They were building a bridge across a little brook that ran through the garden, and as they wanted a nice long log, one which would reach across the brook, they decided there was but one way to obtain it—to go into the grove and cut it down.

Charlie carried the hatchet, and saw and Aggie carried herself. Of course, that was quite load enough for Aggie, for she was only six years old, and half a mile is a long walk, when it leads through a deep meadow, and the leaves of last year's grass stubble. But Charlie, being ten years old, was quite a big man and as strong as most boys of 11. He could have carried an ax instead of a hatchet had he been the owner of such a tool. But his tool chest contained no ax, and a nice, sharp-bladed hatchet had to answer the purpose.

"Ah, here's a fine, straight tree about the size we want!" exclaimed Charlie.

Answer to last week's Letter Enigma—Bilzard.

"I'll reach clean across the brook." The tree in question was a small, bushy one, and stood some distance from any others. Also, it did not look like a forest tree, but resembled some of the trees in the big orchard back of the Spooner's house.

"Well, brother, let's cut it down," said Aggie. "Shall I help you?" "No, you sit over in that cozy nook between those old stumps. You see, there's a pile of soft dead leaves there for a seat, and as the snow was all melted off days and days ago the leaves are nice and dry. See how warm the sun shines there? Why, it's just like a spring day here in the edge of the grove. And mamma was afraid we'd catch cold down here. If she could but be here she'd say the summer is coming over the hills. See, the buds are filling the trees now."

"Yes, and I do believe I heard a bee buzzing!" cried Aggie. Then she sank down to rest in the mass of soft leaves. At the same moment Charlie began to use his hatchet on the bark of the pretty tree. But after making the second cut—or, as he afterwards expressed it, just after he had drawn the first drop of blood from the little tree's side—there fell on his ear the same sound which Aggie had mistaken for the hum of a bee. But it sounded more like the moan of a human being in distress or pain than like a bee singing.

Charlie put his hatchet down and looked about in awe. "Did you hear that noise?" he asked Aggie, who was sitting bolt upright and straining her ears to listen. "Yes, I heard it two times," declared Aggie. "What on earth can it be, brother?"

"It is I, the little cherry tree that you have come to kill," spoke a faint voice. Charlie and Aggie both heard it distinctly, and were accordingly much amazed, not to say a wee bit frightened. To hear a voice coming from a tree was, indeed, such an unheard of thing that it was enough to make them think they were asleep and dreaming.

"If it's a matter, son, I can see if I'm awake," said Charlie. "Come, hit me good and hard."

Aggie did as bid, and inflicted a sharp, stinging slap on the cheek of Charlie's face. "Good!" yelled Charlie. "I guess I'm awake all right. Say, sis, you've got a mighty strong right hand!" And Charlie rubbed tenderly the burning spot on his cheek.

"You said for me to hit good and hard," defended Aggie. "But—what was that talking? Was it—was it—that tree?" "It was this tree," came the mysterious little voice. "And you need have no fear of me, little ones. It is I who have come to be afraid of you. See that ugly sharp blade on the ground? You have come to cut me down with it. And already you have hurt me by a bit, although the hurt is so slight that it if it is not increased I shall quickly recover. But will you listen to my story, little ones? I have never had the power to speak before, and now that voice has been given to me I must plead for my life. In so doing I shall have to tell you of my life, my parents, my ancestry."

"Oh, then you have a family tree?" he asked Aggie, who was sitting bolt upright and straining her ears to listen. "Yes, I heard it two times," declared Aggie. "What on earth can it be, brother?"

"It is I, the little cherry tree that you traced in all this land. I came from the most celebrated cherry tree that ever had existed."

At this Aggie came closer to hear all that the voice said. Her eyes were big and full of question. And when the voice said it came from the most celebrated cherry tree that ever grew she at once recalled a story of George Washington that her mamma had just told her a little while ago.

"Ah, good little tree," cried Aggie; "then you must be some kin to the cherry tree that George Washington cut down." "Sure!" And Charlie became more interested in the words spoken by the strange voice. But, he asked instantly, "you couldn't be a descendant of that cherry tree, for George Washington killed it."

"No, he did not kill the roots," explained the voice. "He cut away the little tree, which was no larger than your wrist. But the root still lived and sent up another tree, one which grew and grew. And many were the baskets of cherries that were gathered off that tree for use in the home of the first president of this country."

"Oh, how wonderful!" cried Charlie and Aggie in a voice. "Come, tell us more of your ancestry." "Now, to begin: The tree that grew from the roots of the 'hatchet' cherry tree for your ancestors."

"Well, I shall be brief, for my voice is growing weak." "Come, tell us more of your ancestry." "Now, to begin: The tree that grew from the roots of the 'hatchet' cherry tree for your ancestors."

"Well, I shall be brief, for my voice is growing weak." "Come, tell us more of your ancestry." "Now, to begin: The tree that grew from the roots of the 'hatchet' cherry tree for your ancestors."

and grew. From one of these five families I have descended in unbroken line. But here you find me in a wild wood of forest trees, accompanied by none of my kind. It happened this way: One day while I was clinging in the form of a ripe cherry to one of my mother's limbs along came a group of children, carrying a basket. 'Oh, we must have some of those red cherries for our picnic!' they cried. And at once they began to gather all that their basket would hold. I was one of the first to be taken, for I was full and rosy. 'My, what a juicy fellow!' exclaimed the little boy who gathered me.

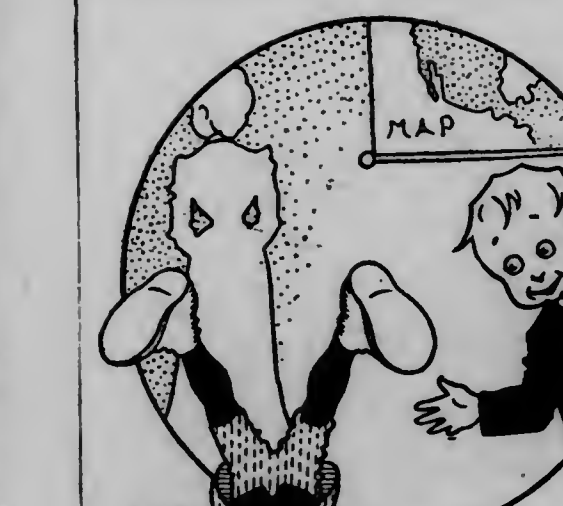

"Well, that same afternoon we—the basketful of cherries—were all brought to this spot in the grove, where the children held a picnic. That happened before either of you were born."

"Oh, so long ago as that?" exclaimed Aggie, who felt so very old.

"Well, after their luncheon—the children's I mean—they threw the crumbs and cherry pits away. I fell into a soft spot, where leaf mold would hold. I was to myself, hiding me from sight. What ever became of the other cherry pits I do not know. For a long time I lay in that leaf mold. It grew damp and more solid. One day something heavy pressed upon me, driving me deeper into the mold, and eventually I found myself buried in soft earth. I suppose someone walking through the forest had stepped upon me and had unconsciously planted me in rich soil."

"Well, all that winter I lay hidden there, but I was not idle. I swelled and burst, throwing forth little green sprouts. Early in the spring I thrust myself through the earth, and the sun smiled upon me. Then I began to grow and grow. That was years ago, and I have been sheltered from the winter by the tall forest trees that stand about me in rich soil."

"There was a bad boy in the school
Who loved to break every rule.
No lessons learned he,
And the kind teacher, she Said that boy would sure be a fool!"

Transformation.

Some dear little snowflakes,
Fast falling down,
Made some queer changes
All over the town.

And the dear girls, too,
Looked out in the morning
Not one of them knew
Their former surroundings.
For at every place
The dingy old town
Had on a clean face.

me. The fruit I have borne has been very small and sour. I know that it is so, for one day two boys came through the grove and picked some of the fruit from my limbs. They made faces and spat out the cherries, saying they were very sour. But that's because I lack cultivation. Now, could I be transplanted in your garden, in rich earth, I'd show what fine cherries I could bear for you."

"Then you are lonely here?" asked Charlie. But the voice did not answer. "Well, you shall be transplanted in the spring," said Charlie. "Will that please you?" But again no response from the little tree.

"It's voice is gone," whispered Aggie. "But we know what it wants. Come, get your saw and hatchet and let's go home and tell papa and mamma all about it. And, brother dear, please don't cut down any trees. They may all be cherry trees from the great one that grew in George Washington's orchard."

"Oh, only cherry trees could come from that," explained Charlie. "But never—never shall my hatchet touch a cherry tree. And we'll have this beautiful little tree transplanted in our garden, and we'll call it the George Washington."

"Yes, an' only you and I shall ever eat the cherries that grow on it," suggested Aggie. "We'll have mamma make a huge cherry pie for us—a pie what will last a whole day."

And Charlie, with his hatchet and saw over his shoulder, and Aggie beside him, went homeward, whistling a merry tune. And when their mother heard their story she laughed and said:

"Why, isn't that strange! And this is Washington's birthday, too."

MARKET RATHER QUIET IN DULUTH REAL ESTATE

Some Deals Are Being Negotiated, But Few Were Closed This Week—Bargain Hunters Are Out, But Find Little Offering at Cut Prices—Prospects Too Bright for Any Sacrifices on Part of Owners—Real Estate Men Predict Building Movement This Spring Will Be Larger Than People Anticipate.

The week has been a rather quiet period in local real estate circles. For several days the weather conditions were not favorable to the taking of prospective purchasers out to view property. Some new inquiry has been reported at various offices, mostly for unimproved lots for improvement. The local real estate men are unanimous in the opinion that there will be a larger building movement this spring than most people anticipate. Actual sales have been few this week, but there are some negotiations under way at a number of the local real estate offices that are expected to bring results within a few days. Bargain hunters are reported by the brokers, but so far as can be learned there is practically little or nothing doing in the way of bargains on the local market. Owners of Duluth realty have passed that stage where they may have felt disposed to shave prices. Unless there is some pressing need for money, the owners are firm as to prices, and those who are in a position to purchase as a rule, are an advance of what the property was held for a year ago.

SUBURBAN DWELLING OF A NOVEL DESIGN WHICH WOULD COST $4,200

For a suburban dwelling the above design is appropriate, especially so in the neighborhood of Duluth. It is distinctly characteristic of this rugged country and would make an unusually attractive home. The site should be somewhat elevated, the approach to the house being on an easy rise. To carry out the true sentiment of the design, native material should be used as far as possible. Native rock and the pine, birch and cedar that grow in this vicinity, could all be worked to good effect in building. The enclosing walls from basement to roof are of stone, laid in cement. The veranda, posts and beams, the brackets and large board of gables are of solid timbers, showing in a pleasing design, the genuine strength of construction. The roof should be of cedar shingles, stained a moss green, or left to weather without staining.

bought for an investment. Peter Eastman has purchased a residence property on Fifty-seventh avenue west, near Cody street, from Mary Horton for $1,515.

James Curran has sold his residence property on the lower side of First street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues east, to D. H. Clough for $2,750.

Mary McKillop has sold a residence property on the northwest corner of McCulloch street and Forty-second avenue east, to J. Driesbach for $2,700. The property is described as lot 9, block 55, London addition.

A. W. Kuehnow reports the sale of a half section in 47-17 to Iowa purchasers. Mr. Kuehnow says that the building of the Soo road to the Head of the Lakes, through the southern part of Carlton county, has caused a lively demand for lands in that locality for agricultural purposes. The new road will afford the settlers an opportunity to market their products.

The Carpenter-Glass Lumber company has sold a lot on the lower side of the Soo road to the Head of the Lakes, through the southern part of Carlton county, has caused a lively demand for lands in that locality for agricultural purposes. The new road will afford the settlers an opportunity to market their products.

J. J. Wangenstein, the architect, has plans prepared for a two-story brick store building, 25 by 115 feet, for the Grand Union Tea company. The construction will be of pressed brick and stone, the building to cost $15,000.

Radcliffe & Price, the architects, are preparing plans for a two-story veterinary hospital, 34 by 48 feet, for the city of Duluth. The improvement will cost $10,000. Bids will be received about March 1. The same architects are preparing plans for a two-story residence, 28 by 44 feet, for Mrs. G. W. Strayer, 217 Second avenue west. The improvement will cost $10,000.

A. W. Puck, the architect, has plans prepared for seventy-five two-story five and six-room cottages for the Minnesota Steel company. The buildings will be of frame construction, with maple floors, and furnace heat. Mr. Puck is preparing plans for a residence for C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids, Minn.

Plans are being prepared for the three-story store and apartment building to be erected this spring at the southeast corner of Superior street and Fifteenth avenue east, by George S. Munsey. The building will have ground ground dimensions 40x120 feet. The improvement will cost about $25,000. The foundations were laid last fall.

Frecker Bros. are said to be contemplating the erection of a four-story mill-constructed building, 50x140 feet, to cost about $60,000.

The contract for the residence of L. N. Case at Lakeside has been awarded to Appleby Bros., for $6,500.

Following are the transfers recorded this week:

ELEVEN JURORS IN THE SNELL CASE SAID TO BE IN FAVOR OF BREAKING WILL

On the Ground That He Was Insane When Making It.

Twelfth Juror Obstinately Holds to the Contrary.

Been Out Since Saturday and No Agreement in Sight.

Clinton, Ill., Feb. 17.—After having been out since Saturday evening the jury in the Snell will case had not reached a verdict up to 10 o'clock today.

Rumors were broadly current that eleven jurors favor the breaking of the will left by Col. Thomas Snell on the ground of insanity, but the remaining juror obstinately holds out.

The $2,000,000 Snell will case went to the jury late Saturday afternoon. Judge Cochran's instructions are regarded as favorable to the defendants of the will. In particular he told the jurors that a man might be a moral leper and still make a sound will and that the proof of mental and moral depravity does not disprove testamentary capacity.

TO BANISH EUROPEANS

From Her Entire Empire is Now the Object of China.

She is Now Raising and Equipping an Army of 1,000,000.

San Francisco, Feb. 17.—At a meeting in the Young Men's Christian association headquarters yesterday the Rev. Ng Poon Onsw, editor of the Chinese World, told his audience that China was raising an army of 1,000,000 men to drive the European nations from the empire.

"But she will never be a menace to America," said the editor, "because, among other things, we have learned recently that the United States is the only nation on earth with a conscience."

The journalist talked on "China's Possibility and the Church's Responsibility," and he interspersed his address with epigrams and figures of true Chinese terseness.

"China," he continued, "is just awakening from her slumber and she is getting ready to go to arms. When she does she will send Germany, France, England, Russia and other robbing and thieving nations like rats in a hurry. If Russia ever tries again to grab any Chinese territory we will fill her full of gory holes. Just as Japan did. China is destined to be the greatest nation on earth."

WINNIPEG RINKS ARE WINNERS

Blue Ribbon Event Goes to Home Curlers by Big Score.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Blue Ribbon primary was played Saturday night between eighteen Winnipeg rinks and a like number picked from the visitors, and resulted in many surprises. Dunbar, St. Paul, and his first defeat, being beaten by McFarlane of the Winnipeg rink, 12 to 5. Labatt, Minneapolis, was beaten by Buettner, Winnipeg Grizzlies, by 7 to 6, and Stocking, Duluth, went down to the Winnipeg rink of the Assiniboines by 17 to 6. But the greatest surprise of all was the winning of the Winnipeg rinks by 262 to 155, despite the fact that the all-conquering rinks which have visited Winnipeg for some years.

Yesterday afternoon the Duluth, Dawson City and Minneapolis rinks were driven out in automobiles to Deer Lodge.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the play off for the international takes place at the Granite rink, Stocking meeting Orde, Minneapolis, and Dunbar playing Labatt, the winners of these two playing off for the trophy.

FORMER DULUTH MAN Has Written the Book of a New Musical Comedy.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arthur A. Frudenfeld, assistant manager of the Garrison theater at Waukegan, and formerly connected with newspapers at Duluth, Connell Bluffs and Sioux Falls, has written the book of "In Pensacola," a new musical comedy, which is to be produced in the West next season. Mortimer C. Brown assisted in the poetry and Irving H. Jones has composed the music. Theatrical critics who have sampled it predict success.

PASTOR RESIGNS.
Worcester, Mass., Feb. 17.—The Rev. Dr. Lemuel C. Barnes, pastor of the First Baptist church in this city, has announced his resignation to become secretary for the American Baptist Home Mission society. Dr. Barnes came here from Pittsburg, Pa., five years ago.

INDUSTRIES START UP

Many Plants at Wells-ville, O., Again in Active Operation.

Six Thousand Operatives Return to Full Time in Maine Mills.

Wellsville, Ohio, Feb. 17.—Nearly all the industrial concerns in this vicinity have resumed operations after having been closed down for a number of weeks.

The United States, Pioneer, Pattersons and the McNicol potteries have resumed, giving employment to over 750 men and women. The Wellsville plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company also has resumed, giving work to over 1,000 men. Extra labor is being employed at the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad shop, and it is reported additional freight runs are to be posted within a few days, to care for an increased freight traffic.

Sever pipe and fire brick plants have started, and this industry gives employment to nearly 500 men. Extensive railroad improvements have been started, and this means that hundreds of laborers are to be put to work at once.

Back to the Cotton Mills.
Bridford, Me., Feb. 17.—Employees of the cotton mills of the Pepperell Manufacturing company, in this state, and of the York Manufacturing company in Saco, went back to work on full time today. About 6,000 operatives are affected.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO AN ENGINE

Five Persons Injured in Collision at Black Rock, N. Y.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Five persons were injured, one probably fatally, when a Michigan Central passenger crashed into and telescoped a New York Central yard engine at Black Rock late last night. The injured:

James Barry, Buffalo, engineer of the yard engine, fractured skull, internally injured, will probably die.

Leif Crutts, St. Thomas, Ont., engineer of the passenger train; knee badly crushed.

Alfred J. Meyers, Detroit, commercial traveler; badly wrenched back, wrist sprained.

Miss D. A. Ri-bonkam, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; lips cut, face lacerated and bruised and badly shaken up.

Mrs. Ida Visebaum, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; wrenched back, body lacerated, badly bruised.

Great Activity Among the Turkish Reserves in Asia-Minor.

The Troops Are Being Sent Rapidly to the Frontier.

Tiflis, Feb. 17.—Reports have been received here from Armenia that all the Reding or Turkish army reserve forces, in Van, Mush and the other vilayets of Asia Minor, have been called to the colors, and are proceeding rapidly for the frontier. At the same time a league of all the Turkish revolutionary parties is increasing the revolutionary agitation. Appeals and proclamations are being issued, exhorting the population to protest in every way possible against the warlike plans of the sultan. The league holds that war would be especially disastrous at the present

Large and Small Cruisers Also Advised by Admiralty.

At Least Twelve Torpedo Craft and More Submarines.

Believed That Opposition of Radical Party Can be Overcome.

London, Feb. 17.—In view of the threatening attitude of that section of the Radical party, which advocates reduction in armaments, there has been government speculation as to whether the government will persist in the determination, reached on the advice of the lords of the admiralty, to submit increased naval estimates to parliament. Those in a position to know say they will, and, backed by strong public opinion, will be able to carry them through without difficulty. What these estimates provide for in the way of new construction is another question that has been much discussed.

A naval officer, who, while not admitting the possession of any inside information, is nevertheless well informed, gives the following as the probable program:

Three armored vessels on the improved Dreadnaught type; ships that will embody many changes devised after the thorough trials through which the first of this class has passed.

Two cruisers, improvements on the old Edgar class; a heavily armed, well-protected ship.

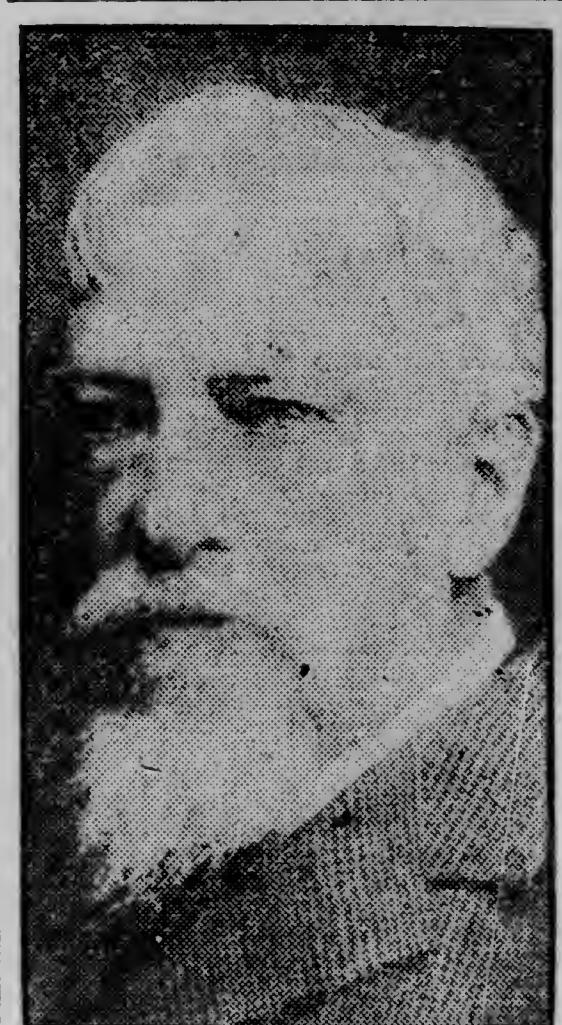

Six smaller cruisers of the Beadica class, 2,500 tons, with a great radius of action, enabling them to remain at sea for long periods, whether engaged as scout ships for torpedo craft, or as scouts or dispatch boats.

At least twelve torpedo craft, the CITIZENS OBJECT To Any Further Carnegie Libraries at East Orange, N. J.

East Orange, N. J., Feb. 17.—A loud protest has gone up here against the proposed action of the city council in accepting $39,000 from Andrew Carnegie for three branch libraries. The city already has one Carnegie library, which originally cost $50,000 and costs $16,000 a year to run. Many people think the cost of running the library is too high, in view of the fact that nearly 80 per cent of the books circulated are fiction.

TWO BRICK DWELLINGS COLLAPSE AT PITTSBURG WITH DEAFENING ROAR

COMPLETELY PROSTRATED

Are Congressman and Mrs. Steenerson Over Son's Death.

Mr. Steenerson Leaves for Newport to Secure the Body.

FROM THE HERALD, WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Halvor Steenerson and Mrs. Steenerson are completely prostrated over the sad news concerning their son, Ben, who is reported drowned at Newport. Mrs. Steenerson was completely prostrated last night, and the congressman was unable to leave her bedside. The loss of their only remaining son is a sad blow, and although Mr. Steenerson tried to bear up bravely, he broke down several times.

Remain With Family.
At the Calro hotel, Congressmen Stevens, Nye and Volsted remained with the Steenersons all night, and this morning Mr. Volsted went home and arranged to start for Newport by first train. He left at 11 o'clock. Congressman Stevens went to the bureau of navigation, and urged that all haste be made and nothing spared to recover the bodies.

Gen. Elliott, head of the marine corps, advised Mr. Stevens that he had wired to Newport and other points along the Narragansett bay to extra forces to drag the waters.

Leaves for Newport.
At noon today Mrs. Steenerson had sufficiently recovered to permit Mr. Steenerson to leave for Newport. He wants to be on the ground and do all possible towards recovering his son's body. Ben Steenerson was very well in Washington. He lived here several years, and graduated from George Washington university. He was captain of the university football team and won several games on the gridiron. Mr. Steenerson visited his son Christmas at Newport. Mr. and Mrs. Steenerson have had experiences before. They lost a son, who was killed in an accident, and an only daughter died when 17 years of age. Their son Ben was the only surviving child.

INSANITY PLEA IS ABANDONED

Beach Hargis Will Claim He Killed Father in Self-Defense.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 17.—In the defense of Beach Hargis for the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, the expenses will be paid out of the $50,000 which is the boy's share of his father's large estate. When Judge James P. Adams convened the Breathitt circuit court at Jackson today the Hargis case was the most important matter awaiting action.

The defense will claim that Hargis father choked him and knocked out his teeth before he fired. The insanity plea has been dropped.

TWO MORE BURNED TO DEATH.
Bradford, Pa., Feb. 17.—Two men were burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed a dwelling house at Limestone, N. Y., near here.

Undermined by Flood Waters, They Fall in Street.

One Person Hurt and Eighteen Others Have Narrow Escapes.

Cracking of the Walls Give Warning to the Occupants.

Pittsburg, Feb. 17.—With a great roar, two brick dwelling houses, at Nos. 22 and 24 Penn avenue, in the district inundated by the flood waters, collapsed early today, and fell into the street.

A score of occupants, warned by the cracking walls, barely had time to reach the street before tons of brick and plaster tumbled into the streets.

E. C. Anderson was cut and bruised by flying debris, and eighteen other persons narrowly escaped being crushed to death. All but Anderson rushed to the street in their night clothes just a moment before the three-story brick building fell in a heap. For some time great excitement prevailed, as it was reported many persons had been buried under the debris. Harried calls for police reserves, ambulances and firemen were sent in and search of the ruins began. Anderson's voice could be heard calling for help, and frantic efforts were made to release him. It was found the man was wedged between heavy timbers. In the basement, and over him were tons of brick and plaster, braced in such a manner, however, that he was not seriously injured. After several hours' work he was released and sent to a hospital, where it was learned he would recover.

Miraculous Escapes.
The escape of the other occupants was miraculous. The loud cracking of the walls, a few minutes before the houses collapsed, served as a warning and saved all from being crushed. The passing flood was responsible for the accident.

The foundations of both dwellings, which were old, had been weakened by the high water, causing them to collapse.

Other buildings in the vicinity are in a like condition, and building in

Pennsylvania Police Capture 270 Members of Black Hand.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 17.—With 270 men captured in thirty-two raids conducted by the state police department in its war against Black Hand bands that have been terrorizing the foreign population in various sections of the commonwealth, the authorities count on crushing them out before the operations can extend to Americans.

For months the state policemen have been waging war on criminal gangs in the anthracite regions, where hands have been preying on credulous foreigners, but lately there have been signs of the terrorizing being extended to Northumberland county people of native birth.

Policemen have also been sent to Allegheny county, where threats were made against several prominent men and special details will operate about Pittsburg for some time to come.

By the wholesale arrests a large number of law-abiding foreigners will be free of the extortion of money for some time. During the past year they received letters signed "Black Hand," threatening them with murder or having their homes burned unless they contributed money to the agents of the outlaws.

IF ROOSEVELT WAS MAYOR Of Chicago, There Would Be No Sunday Saloons, Says Speaker.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—"If Roosevelt was mayor of Chicago there would be no Sunday saloons," declared Charles W. Trickett last night in St. James' Methodist church at one of scores of simultaneous meetings held in Chicago and throughout Illinois, in response to a call by the Chicago Law and Order league, to cause the enforcement of the state Sunday closing law. Mr. Trickett added:

"If Roosevelt was governor of Illinois he would not tolerate treason and rebellion in Chicago if he had to root a soldier at the door of every saloon to keep it shut."

The speaker prophesied that in five years not only would Chicago have a dry Sunday, but that there would not be a licensed saloon in the state.

WHIPPED BY NIGHT RIDERS.
Eddyville, Ky., Feb. 17.—Night riders, 300 strong, visited Eddyville at 1 o'clock Sunday morning and whipped ten men, four of them white and six negroes. None of the victims was known to be either active or influential in opposition to the farmers' pooling movement.

M. J. HARNEY MAKES REPLY

Answers Statements Made by the Citizens' Association, Saturday.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In The Herald of Saturday the so-called Citizens' association, which is engineering the so-called open shop epidemic in this city, had an article of a whole column in length with big black headlines. The article is purported to be an answer to statements claimed to be made by Mr. Harney. I do not know what Mr. Harney said, so that I am not going to have anything to say as to what was said. I do not know what Mr. Harney said, so that I am not going to have anything to say as to what was said. I do not know what Mr. Harney said, so that I am not going to have anything to say as to what was said.

MUST FORCE THE WATER

Gravity System to the Poor Farm is Not Possible.

City Engineers Will Report Results of Surveys to Council.

City Engineer T. F. McGilvray will report to the council tonight the results of a survey of possible lines from the ends of the water system to the poor farm, together with the distance of each and the amount of rock cutting necessary. He will report on two systems, in both of which it would be necessary to force the water. They are:

A—From the end of the water system at Duluth Heights on Highland avenue at Myrtle street along Highland avenue to Locust street on Locust street to Arlington avenue and on Arlington avenue to the poor farm. Distance, 7,600 feet; rock to be excavated, 200 cubic yards.

B—From the end of the system at Third avenue east and Mesaba avenue along Mesaba avenue and the Rice Lake road to the poor farm. Distance, 8,000 feet; rock to be excavated, 300 cubic yards.

It was thought at first that the end of the system at Duluth Heights was high enough to force the water to the poor farm, but Mr. McGilvray discovered in making the survey that there were several high points between and a gravity system would not be practicable. The water system is a long and expensive. It would run through long and heavy up and down grades and the construction work would be difficult. In that case also, it would be necessary to force the water through the pipes.

Little but routine business will come before the council tonight. The board of public works will present its award of the contract for the West end dock station and there will probably be some discussion over its confirmation. Jacob Jacobson, the lowest bidder, was offered for only $20, while 10 per cent is required. Emil Zauf, was the next bidder, with only $1 difference. His check was sufficient, so he may receive the contract.

MORSE TRIAL IS SET FOR MONDAY

Former Banker Enters Plea of Not Guilty on Arraignment.

New York, Feb. 17.—Charles W. Morse, the former banker, organizer of the American Ice company, and the $120,000,000 Consolidated Steamship company, pleaded not guilty, before Judge Dowling today, to two charges of grand larceny. A hearing of the case was set for next Monday.

When his counsel informed the justice that Morse did not know what the specific charges against him were, and that the district attorney had refused permission for his counsel to examine the minutes of the grand jury which indicted him, the judge ordered that he should apply to the court for authority to examine the minutes, and that one week was not enough. The judge asked for two weeks to permit to frame his application. Assistant District Attorney Kresel argued that his counsel should be allowed to examine the minutes of the grand jury. In the meantime, his counsel said, he would decide whether to change or withdraw Morse's plea.

PROMINENT MEN ARE CHARGED WITH PERJURY

New York, Feb. 17.—Foster M. Voorhees, former governor of New Jersey and Frank C. Conner of Philadelphia, were indicted today on charges of grand jury last week on charges of perjury. They were arraigned before Judge Dowling in the supreme court and gave bail of $25,000 each. The indictment on charges of perjury against each of the men grew out of an annual report of the Bankers' Life Insurance company of this city in which they were named as having declared that $20,000 of the dividends of the company were not due to the stockholders.

"RANGERS" WIN HONORS. Substitutes for Champions Win International Bowling Event. Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 17.—Although they had appeared as substitutes for the National Bowling association champions, Smith and Dunbar of the Cornishians, Newark, N. J., have won the international two-men championship. A protest filed Saturday against the entrance of any except the actual champions in the contest, was today decided by President Hermann. He declared that any congress or bowling association had a right to be represented in this tournament and could designate members of the organization to participate in the championship events. Smith and Dunbar defeated the champions of the Canadian, the American and the Western Bowling associations. The National association champions were unable to compete and had designated Smith and Dunbar, who were their team mates in five-team contests, to take their places.

COFFEE DRINKING. A Doctor Says It Weakens the Heart. "In my opinion," says a well known German physician, "no one can truthfully say that coffee agrees with him, as it has long since been proven that caffeine, contained in coffee, is an injurious, poisonous substance which weakens and degenerates the heart muscles. "For this reason the regular use of coffee, soon or late, causes a condition of undernourishment, which leads to various kinds of organic diseases. "Convinced of this fact, I have often sought for some healthful beverage to use instead of coffee. At last I found the thing desired in Postum. Having had occasion to forbid people using coffee, whose hearts were affected, I have recommended Postum as a beverage, since it is free from all injurious or exciting substances. I know this from results in my own family, and among patients. "Hundreds of persons who now use Postum in place of coffee, are greatly benefited thereby. "There is a Reason. BOY "VAG" TO GO HOME

John Finn of St. Paul Wanted to See the World.

Leaves Good Home and is Stranded on Duluth's Bowery.

A desire to see some of the world outside of the boundaries of the peaceful city of St. Paul, a disinclination to work and a devotion to cigarettes, brought John Finn, an 18-year-old St. Paul boy into municipal court this morning with a motley array of drunks and vagrants. The boy was charged with vagrancy and he pleaded guilty.

By questioning Judge Windom brought out the fact that the boy comes from a good family in St. Paul. He has a good home, parents willing to do anything for him, and brothers and sisters, who are associated with fast companions. He thought he didn't need to work in one place continuing, so he threw up his job and came to Duluth. Arriving here, he picked up with a crowd on the Bowery. He doesn't drink much, he says, but he was content to hang around with a gang, which is under the eye of the police.

The court gave a little fatherly advice. The boy was advised to get back home, and the companions who were responsible for his appearance in court, and sentence was suspended to give him a chance to make good his promise to go home.

William Esce is a mild-looking young fellow with a quiet, gentle voice, but he has some wild ideas. He was seen several girls reported to the police last night that they had been chased by a man on Lower Lake avenue. An investigation resulted in the arrest of Esce on a drunk and disorderly charge. He was very friendly. He gave glad nods and smiles and he didn't seem to mind anything. He was thinking he was crazy, were badly frightened.

Esce said this morning that he thought he knew a girl, to whom he spoke just before he was arrested. He said he didn't know her name, but he was pretty drunk when he did it. He was warning to put a curb on his tongue when liquor gets the better of him.

William Griggs and William Kelly pleaded guilty to vagrancy and each drew $10 or ten days. Ole Anderson pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing. The court also heard and suspended sentences and five others for various offenses.

HOOD AND WIFE ARE RECONCILED

Man Arraigned for Non-Support in Line for Reformation.

Judge Windom took upon himself this morning the role of mediator between James Hood and wife of 2026 West First street, and he will probably be successful in bringing about a reconciliation between the two. Hood was arraigned for non-support, the court heard the evidence and the case was taken under advisement, while the judge held a private conference with the couple.

Mrs. Hood testified that in the past year she had received but $10 from her husband. He went away about a year ago, going to the range to work. He was home in October, when a child was buried, didn't give his wife a cent, she claims, and went away again. He had two of his sons working with him all summer and the woman received nothing from them.

Hood testified that he was paying his debts and was not able to send the woman any money. He talked as though he meant well enough, but was careless. The judge advised a private conference to remedy the difficulties of the family. The couple have three children. Hood is a stationary engineer.

A little discontent may be the harbinger of content itself. If your discontent makes you hasty and advertise while you hustle—this will prove to be true in your case.

CAPT. CHRISTY PASSES AWAY

Well-Known Lake Captain Dies at Erie, Pa.

Word was received in Duluth this morning of the death at Erie, Pa., of Capt. Charles Christy of the Anchor line boats, who was well known in Duluth, probably as any captain who ever made this port. He was the oldest captain in the service of the Anchor line, both in age and the number of years of service. He was 62 years of age at the time of death.

Capt. Christy sailed into Duluth for years on different boats. He was captain of the China for several seasons on his trips to the Head of the Lakes and brought the Flomesta on her first trip up the lakes, acting as her captain. He was probably the first captain of nearly all the new Anchor line boats as they were put into service. Last season he said the Wisconsin, a new freighter. Paralysis caused his death.

RAILROADS IS IN SIGHT

Japan Getting Powder-Making Materials From Duluth Territory.

Railroads Shipping Acetate of Lime to the Orient.

Certain Duluthians who are posted on what the railroads are doing have it doped out that Japan is preparing for war with the United States. They base their suspicions on the fact that the Japanese government is securing large consignments of acetate of lime from the Duluth territory and shipping them to Japan. Acetate of lime is a furnace by-product that is understood to be used extensively by the Japanese in the manufacture of their famous smokeless powder.

Just prior to Japan's war with Russia, the rushed numerous shipments of the same material from this district, and it is to be assumed that the same hold true of other districts where the by-product can be obtained. The material cannot be secured in Duluth, but in other parts of the district, through Wisconsin and Michigan, considerable quantities are to be had. The consignments go by way of the Head of the Lakes to the Pacific coast, and thence are shipped by boat to Japan. It is a fact that such shipments are being made, and not a pipe dream, as some people might easily imagine. Whether Japan is preparing for war, or whether the country is making powder and not expecting war, or whether it is making powder for the manufacture of powder for acetate of lime, is all conjecture, but it is true that in the past this substance has been used by the Orientals in making explosives, and that the biggest and most hurried shipments of this material have been made during the early stages of the war with Russia. Since that time the demand has almost entirely fallen off, so far as this district is concerned, but in the last few weeks rush orders have been coming again, and several of them have been filled. Only last week three carloads of the by-product passed through Duluth on their way to the Pacific coast.

TRAINS RUNNING

Milwaukee Road Extends Service as Far as Terry, Mont.

Terry, Mont., Feb. 17.—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway yesterday extended to this city the train service of the company's Pacific coast extension. The new line crosses the Yellowstone river for the first time at Terry. The train service is daily between Aberdeen, S. D., Narmath, N. D., and this city.

The record of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway in building its Pacific coast extension has, it is announced today, never been equalled in the matter of time by any similar undertaking. Track is now being laid at the rate of five miles per day, and by the end of the week the east and west track laying forces in Montana will meet in the vicinity of Miles City. It is confidently expected that trains over the new trans-Continental railway will be operated through to Butte, Mont., by May, 1908, and into Seattle and Tacoma about one year later.

SECOND ANNUAL BALL

given by the DULUTH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY, Eagles' hall, 114-116 West Superior street, Tuesday, February 18, 1908. Ladies' full orchestra. Tickets 50c per couple.

YOU ARE INVITED.

THE SUBSTITUTIONIST STUNG. Success Magazine: The poor but honest young grocer had sold a bill of goods to a customer who was a substitutionist. He intended to honor with his hand and shop, and for the first time in his business career he was troubled by being obliged to palm off "Blink's Codfish" against "U-boat-wash with Soap" was distinctly specified. In the story session which his stock arguments were resolved, he felt a totally new sensation, which must have been the stung.

That evening, when the sailor called, he was met at the door by the old grocer, who after a moment's hesitation, and ignoring all hints about Miss Virginia, proceeded to lead him to his daughter. The young man fidgeted in his chair, and as he saw no way to lead him to his daughter, he decided to wait. He waited for a long time, but the old grocer did not come. He was very disappointed, and he was not "nervous" his principal asset?

"Mr. Grouse," he began, "I have come to ask your consent to my m-marrying your daughter."

"I'm sorry," responded the old man pleasantly, "but Virginia's out just at present. In fact, there has been so little demand for her lately that we have decided not to keep her in the future."

"But we have plenty of her Aunt Maria's portrait," he continued persuasively. "She's only 47, and has two sets of teeth that cannot be told from the genuine a little way off. I'll admit that she's not as well known for beauty or vivacity as Virginia, but she has substantial virtues that need no advertising; for instance, she makes better rag carpets than any other woman in the country."

"I-but I don't want any rag carpets; I prefer—"

"She's very thrifty and saving," the father continued, ignoring the interruption, "and she won't cost you half as much to keep. Suppose you take Aunt Maria's portrait, and I'll send her to Virginia when you get used to her. Although she's not just what you asked for, I can assure you she is in many respects superior. Well-Known and Much Beloved Duluth Citizen Dies.	Prominent People Will be in Charge of Movement.	West End Man Loses Pocketbook Containing $600.
--	---	---

One of the most daring and most cleverly executed robberies pulled off in Duluth in a long while, cost Charlie Johnson of 1722 West Superior street last night $600. Johnson was at the first performance at the Bijou theater, and, on reaching the sidewalk, reached into his hip pocket, where he had the wallet. He discovered that the pocket had been cut out and the wallet taken.

The robbery is very likely the work of a professional crook. He probably figured on picking pockets in the big crowd at the theater and looking for a victim felt the wallet in Johnson's pocket. The reason was that for a clever thief.

The detectives of the central station were put on the case as soon as Johnson discovered his loss, but they have little to show for a clever thief.

nothing to work on, as Johnson didn't notice anybody about him.

S.S.S. CURES CATARR

Catarrh is not merely a disease of the mucous membranes and linings of the body as some of the symptoms would seem to indicate; it is a deep-seated blood disease, in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Like all other blood diseases, Catarrh comes from poisons and impurities accumulating in the circulation and irritating and inflame the tissues and mucous surfaces, and then the unsightly symptoms of the disease are manifested. There is a ringing noise in the ears, a watery discharge from the nostrils, filthy matter drops back into the throat, the breath has an offensive odor, and many other annoying pleasants symptoms are characteristic of the trouble. Sprays, inhalations, etc., cannot reach the blood, and are therefore valuable only for the temporary relief they afford. To cure Catarrh the blood must be purified. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose; it goes down into the circulation, removes the catarrhal matter, purifies the blood and makes a lasting cure. When S. S. S. has removed the cause, the blood being pure and healthy nourishes the membranes and tissues instead of irritating them with noxious matter, and the symptoms all pass away. C. W. MORSE OFFICERS ARRESTED ARE NAMED

Two Indictments Brought Against Him for Grand Larceny.

Taken Before Judge Dowling and Released on $20,000 Bonds.

New York, Feb. 17.—Charles W. Morse, financier and promoter of many large combinations, including the so-called "ice trust" and of a merger of nearly all the coastwise steamship lines, returned yesterday from his brief trip to Europe, was arrested in his stateroom when the steamer Etruria reached. Quinquina in the lower bay, was held in custody until the ship was docked and then was whisked away in an automobile to the home of Justice Dowling of the supreme court, where he gave bonds in the sum of $20,000 to answer to two indictments charging grand larceny and involving the sum of $100,000.

Mr. Morse was released and went immediately to his Fifth Avenue home, where he gave out a statement asserting his innocence and asking the public to suspend judgment until he has had the opportunity of facing his accusers in court. He denied that his trip to Europe was a "flight." He said he had gone abroad to sell stock in a large interest and to secure a fortnight's rest. Both purposes were spoiled by the publication of reports that he was a fugitive from justice, he declared.

Charge Against Morse. The charge against Mr. Morse, grows out of a note given to him by Former Chief Justice Morgan of O'Brien's court of appeals. Judge O'Brien is said to have deposited three notes for $100,000 each with Mr. Morse in payment for a block of 1,000 shares of stock in National Bank of North America. The notes were to be held three years and not discounted, according to Judge O'Brien, and at the end of the three-year period he was to have the privilege of consuming or withdrawing from the bargain for the purchase of the stock. It is charged that Mr. Morse discounted one of these notes at the Mercantile National bank in New York, and was thereby enabled to secure a loan. It is further alleged that the check given to Mr. Morse was made payable to Judge O'Brien, and was cashed by Mr. Morse at the National Bank of North America, Morse signing Judge O'Brien's name "per C. W. Morse."

It is the theory of the indictment that the check, never having passed the hands of O'Brien or of his authorized agents, its use by Mr. Morse constituted grand larceny from the Mercantile National bank, and never having passed from that institution. Justice O'Brien, it is stated, refused to appear as complainant against Mr. Morse, and in the jury room is said to have had a sharp tilt with District Attorney Jerome when he told the latter that an indictment found upon the transaction would not hold.

Both of the indictments against Mr. Morse are said to involve the one transaction.

WILL BE NO WAR WITH JAPANESE

Takahira Says 'It is "Too Hellish" to be Thought of.'

New York, Feb. 17.—Declaring that war between the United States and Japan would be "the most inhuman event in the world's history" and was "too hellish to be thought of," Baron Kogi Takahira, the new Japanese ambassador to Washington, today declared in New York from the steamer Etruria that the Japanese people know absolutely nothing of the relations between the two nations. As to the cruise of the American fleet to the Pacific coast, he regarded it as purely a naval maneuver on a grand scale, designed to show the world at large that the United States has the power which can be dispatched anywhere at a moment's notice. In support of a legitimate cause, which always is at the bottom of American diplomacy, "the baron is returning to his native land after an absence of two years spent in Rome as ambassador to Italy. The baron left Washington as minister, and was subsequently elevated to the rank of ambassador. He was one of Japan's envoys at the Portsmouth peace conference.

New Smelter Will be Built as Soon as Possible.

Directors and officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year at the annual meetings of the stockholders and directors of the Shattuck-Arizona and Denn-Arizona Copper companies, held Saturday afternoon in the First National Bank building. If there was internal warfare among the heavy stockholders of both big concerns for control in the affairs of the companies, the smiling faces of the directors after the sessions did not show it. No word of any of the kind was said and it was admitted that there had been any dissent among the directors—which, it was rumored, had its first public airing when Byron M. Patterson resigned just fall as general superintendent of the properties of both companies. However, the directors of both companies accepted the resignation which Mr. Patterson tendered some time ago, and for the present L. C. Shattuck will have general supervision of the development work at the mines. Later the directors of Denn and Shattuck will likely meet and select a man to take over the title and the duties lately those of Mr. Patterson.

The directors of Shattuck-Arizona will also advise at once for the construction of a smelter, at which the ore of Shattuck and Denn will be treated. This plant will cost something like $500,000 and will be in operation in a year. It will take at least a long time before it can be completed. In the past the Shattuck and Denn ores have been handled by the Calumet & Arizona and Old Dominion smelters.

Development work at both properties will be kept right up now, and actual mining on an extensive scale will be commenced as soon as the copper market improves, said Thomas Bardon, president of the Shattuck-Arizona company and a director in both concerns, to a reporter of The Herald. This is going to be an active year for both Shattuck and Denn. We will not be idle. The new smelter will be put in during the next twelve months, and as soon as some improvement is shown in the copper market, we will commence active mining once more. Although those present at Saturday's meeting were not in a position to see any strife to see which particular faction among them was in control, the families with the stories that have been afloat in the past can judge for themselves how things turned out by glancing at the names of the directors and officers of the companies elected Saturday, which follows:

Stockholders in the Shattuck-Arizona company elected the following directors: L. C. Shattuck of Bisbee, A. Guthrie of St. Paul, Thomas Bardon of Ashland, Martin Patterson of Duluth, A. M. Chisholm of Duluth. The directors met immediately afterwards and elected the following officers: President, Thomas Bardon; vice-president, A. Guthrie; secretary and treasurer, A. M. Chisholm.

Stockholders of Denn-Arizona elected the following directors: Maurice A. Bisbee, L. C. Shattuck, A. Guthrie, A. M. Chisholm, Thomas Bardon, Martin Patterson and L. M. Patterson of Bisbee. The directors elected the following officers: President, Martin Patterson; vice-president, A. Guthrie; treasurer, L. C. Shattuck; secretary, John G. Williams of Duluth.

Youngstown, Ohio, Feb. 17.—George Coschetto, a wealthy Italian of this city, is a raving maniac in the county jail, driven suddenly insane by a glimpse of the face of his long-lost wife in a picture of a crowd on the New York streets, flashed on a canvas in a moving picture show.

Five years ago Coschetto and his young and handsome wife were living happily in a cozy home on Manning avenue, this city. Coschetto had a great success in business and had not been a cloud to mar the happiness of their two years of married life. One day Coschetto's wife disappeared without any known cause. The husband was almost crazy, and for almost three years traveled all over the country making several trips to Europe, and advertised for her all over the world. In spite of his efforts, the only clue that he ever received was that she was somewhere in New York. He spent much time and money to locate her there, but without avail, and he finally came back here broken-hearted.

A few evenings ago Coschetto wandered into a moving picture show. Almost the first scene that was flashed on the canvas after he entered was a view of the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, New York. The central figure of the scene was a beautiful young woman walking along in an animated conversation with a man. Coschetto uttered an scream. The woman was his long-lost wife. The scene shifted and she was lost to view. Coschetto hunted up the manager and demanded that the picture be shown again. It was flashed on the canvas the second time and all doubt as to the identity of the woman was removed. Coschetto rushed out on the street, raving. For hours he wandered about until he was finally picked up by Patrolman Hanis. He was taken to central station, but was later committed to the county jail. His condition is serious.

OUT OF MANY CASES, ONE FINALLY CONVICTED.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 17.—In the district court the jury in the case of the state versus C. H. Ahlstrom, brought in a verdict of guilty, making the third conviction in ten years out of over 100 blind pig cases. Ahlstrom was charged with failure to register his government tax receipt for the sale of liquor, and made a hard fight. This is the first conviction in the state under the new statute, an act which it will probably be a considerable interest. It will probably be appealed.

Do You Like Honest, Square Dealing?

Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines are put out under the belief that publicity is the best possible guaranty of merit, and that the most intelligent people generally want to know what they take into their stomachs, whether it be food, drink or medicine. Although it was a bold step to take, and quite out of the usual practice of makers of proprietary medicines, yet Dr. Pierce, some time ago, decided to publish broadcast and on all his bottle-wrappers all the ingredients entering into the composition, or make-up, of his celebrated family medicines. A square deal is therefore assured every one using his medicines, for one knows exactly what he or she is paying for when purchasing them, since every ingredient is published in plain English on the bottle-wrappers and the correctness of the same attested under solemn oath. These several ingredients are selected from among the very best known to medical science for the cure of the various diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

The most eminent and leading medical teachers and writers of all the several schools of practice have endorsed each of the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines in the strongest possible terms. The makers of Dr. Pierce's medicines believe that intelligent people do not wish to obtain their medicine like a lot of young boys and girls down whatever is presented to them, either in the way of food, drink or medicine, without knowing something of the properties and harmless character of the agents employed. They believe that health is too sacred a heritage to be experimented with, and that people should not take medicines at all, unless they are sure they are kept in proper place. Dr. Pierce's medicines are made wholly from the roots of plants found growing in the depths of our American forests. They are so compounded that they cannot do harm in any case, even to the most delicate woman or child. By open publicity Dr. Pierce has taken his medicines out of the list of secret nostrums, of doubtful merit, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. They are therefore, in a class all by themselves, being absolutely and in every sense non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny. There is a boldness of honesty on every bottle of Dr. Pierce's medicines in the full list of its ingredients duly attested as correct under solemn oath.

No other medicines put up for general use through drug stores can make claim to any such distinction, and none other than Dr. Pierce's medicines have any such professional endorsement of their ingredients. Such professional endorsement should have far more weight with the afflicted than any amount of lay, or non-professional, endorsement, or testimonials. Of course, the exact proportion of each ingredient used in Dr. Pierce's medicines as well as the working formula or manner of preparing the same, and the specially devised apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may be fully protected from such unprincipled imitators as might be practically inclined. The preparation of these medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol, so generally employed and yet so harmful, in the long run, to most invalids when its use is long continued, even in small doses, cost Dr. Pierce several years of careful study and labor, with the aid of skilled pharmacists and chemists to assist him. Naturally, he does not care to give away his scientific and exact processes for preparing these medicines, but he does want to deal in the most open manner with all his patrons and to give them the scientific and exact honest way of dealing, they may know exactly what they are taking when using his medicines.

What Do They Cure? This question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alternative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorant and acts especially favorably in a curative and healing way upon all the mucous lining surfaces as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in effecting cures. The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve. For weak, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system. Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 cent stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

GRUESOME RELIC.

Old Rifle That Killed Major Wilkinson During Pillager Uprising.

Fosston, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A valuable relic is to be turned over to the Minnesota State Historical society by Charles J. Chapman of this city. It is the old Winchester rifle with which Chief Bog-Ah-Mah-Ge Shig is supposed to have shot and killed Maj. Wilkinson during the Pillager uprising at Leech Lake in 1898.

On Oct. 5, 1898, the people of the state were startled by the report of an uprising on the part of the Indians at the Leech Lake reservation. Government troops were dispatched at once to the scene under the command of Maj. Wilkinson. The Indians retreated to the islands in the lake and awaited the soldiers.

The troops were transported from Walker to the island in boats, and as soon as they landed, the Indians opened fire on them.

Almost before Maj. Wilkinson could give the command to his troops to charge, he fell, pierced by a bullet. A hot fire ensued, and the Indians were finally driven to cover. Later they laid down their arms and submitted to the government. Chief Bog-Ah-Mah-Ge Shig, who was believed to be responsible for the outbreak, surrendered his gun to Maj. Scott, the Indian agent, and rumor among the Indians placed its credit to the death of Maj. Wilkinson. The gun was later presented by the agent to Mr. Chapman.

The rifle is one of the first guns turned out by the Winchester people, and bears the date of Oct. 18, 1891. The original stock had rotted away, and a new one had been made for it by the old chief.

BIRDS NEED CHILD HELP

School Army is Enlisting to Save the Crop Guards.

Young Folks' Movement May Do What Adults Still Try.

New York, Feb. 17.—On the 18,000,000 school children in this country, final hope of averting the extinction of the valuable species of insectivorous birds in America has been rested today. What the federal government, the state legislatures and even the granges, women's clubs or national commercial organizations have failed to accomplish completely, the National Association of Audubon Societies have announced will be now given to the children of the land to bring about. It is the first of a series of efforts to organize every body of pupils, from the largest public school in this city to the most remote district school on the Pacific coast, into a general movement for housing, feeding and protecting the wild birds that save the country's crops, is the object of the Audubon workers today.

General headquarters for this new campaign of the children are being established in the offices of the National Association of Audubon Societies, at 141 Broadway, today. Already the organization is in touch with thousands of teachers and girls' and boys' clubs all over the country, to which it has regularly sent literature on bird guarding and care. With these as a nucleus, the children are to push the fight out into every section of their locality, till the members of each school, every neighborhood, are enlisted in the work of building bird houses and restaurants to sustain the sadly-thinned ranks of the feathered army of insect destroyers.

Special ammunition in the form of printed directions and suggestions for making bird lawns, and for building bird houses, is being prepared for every boy and girl who will write and ask for it.

Old kettles, boxes or milk, tomato and kerosene cans are being used by the children as emergency bird shelters. Elaborate houses, made of hollow limbs and neatly furnished apartments are also being planned. All must be made cat-proof, and soiled and soiled. Like any human married couple, the feathered pair, who are seeking quarters for nesting, find the old-fashioned structures, where birds might flock under open eaves, are being replaced by modern roofs that shut out bird life. Whole races, old-style chimneys. Such conditions, combined with lax laws for spring shooting and pothunting, will soon drive the valuable insect-eaters to extinction, it is agreed. It will be the children's work to house the excited birds at the time when they not only rear their young, but eat most copiously of the insect crop-destroyers.

"The children are now the great factor in the great economic movement," said William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies today. "Not only their patriotism, but the self-interest of every one of their parents, is the motive for preventing the extinction of the beautiful and highly valuable birds of this country. We are calling on congress, the state legislatures, the school country and on every adult body to help; but I believe the work of the school children in the land will accomplish more than all the other methods combined. It is a fine chance for every boy and girl to do something for his village, his state and the country at large, and I know they will not neglect to do their part. 'Save the birds' is the motto and rallying cry of the school children of America."

It is said that the islands will strengthen our position in the Pacific. It can be proved that the islands are a source of weakness rather than of strength. That the possession of them has already cost us more than it is worth, and that demanding an enormous increase in navy. Alarmists tell us that we are constantly in danger of being overtaken by the islands and that it is only a question of time when we shall be completely

TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR.

SPECIAL MAIL EDITION FOR WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 19, 1908.

(ON TRAINS, FIVE CENTS.) TWO CENTS.

SNOWSTORM IS GENERAL ALL ENTOMBED MINERS BUT ONE RESCUED FROM MID VALLEY COLLIERY

Heavy Downfall Throughout Central and Western States.

Traffic Interrupted at Chicago and Many Other Places.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—One of the heaviest snowstorms of the winter began here today and is rapidly increasing in intensity. The snow fell in blinding sheets and was piled in drifts by a 30-mile gale. Street cars and elevated road traffic and telephone service was badly interrupted.

General in Nebraska.
Omaha, Neb., Feb. 18.—A foot of snow, drifted four to six feet deep in many places, greeted the people of Omaha today. Traffic within the city was practically at a standstill for the entire forenoon, and the swirling snow continued to fill the thoroughfares with drifts. Trains from the West were from one to eight hours behind time. The snow began falling early Monday evening and continued throughout the night and today. It is general throughout the state.

Freight Trains Delayed.
Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 18.—Railway and street car traffic is demoralized as a result of a heavy fall of snow last night in this part of Nebraska. The storm continued today, the snow drifting badly. Passenger trains kept fairly close to the schedule, but freight trains were snowed in and delayed.
Telephone and telegraph companies encountered trouble.

Worst of Season.
Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 18.—The worst snowstorm of the season is in progress here today. Traffic is greatly impaired.

Heavy and Wet.
Kansas City, Feb. 18.—With a temperature slightly below the freezing point, a heavy wet snow began falling throughout Western Missouri early today.

ICE GORGES ARE FORMING Warm Weather Would Bring Bad Flood at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 18.—A big ice gorge, six miles long has formed on Raccoon river, just above the city.
Should warm weather, with rain, follow, a flood of serious proportions is feared. Dynamite is being used to up the gorge, but with poor success.
People are moving out of houses in the low lands.

Today a blizzard raged throughout this part of the state, delaying trains, stopping street car traffic and interfering with telegraph and telephone communications.

Much Flooding Ice.
Gallipolis, Ohio, Feb. 18.—The crest of the Ohio river flood passed this section today, a stage of 41 feet has been reported. The river is full of the heaviest floating ice, from the Allegheny valley, that has passed here since 1884. Much damage may be done by the ice. Pomeroy, Point Pleasant and Henderson are partly inundated.
There is much suffering on account of the extreme cold.

JAPAN'S REPLY ABOUT READY
Plans for Control of Emigration Believed to be Satisfactory.

Tokio, Feb. 18.—The reply of Japan to the memorandum from the American government, Jan. 26, will be handed to Ambassador O'Brien tomorrow. The document, which has been carefully prepared, outlines plans for the proposed future control of the emigration of Japanese to America. It includes many concessions which followed conferences between Ambassador O'Brien, Viscount Hayashi, Japanese minister of foreign affairs,
Haron Ishii, chief of the bureau of commerce, and D. W. Stevens, advisor to the Japanese embassy at Washington. The latter is acting as advisor to the foreign office, pending the arrival of Mr. Tanaka, who is expected to resume the duties of that position on April 13, upon his return from his vacation. It is believed among the Japanese officials that the proposed plans for the restriction of emigration will be satisfactory, and therefore will finally settle all the existing differences.

MAYOR'S CLERK GETS PRESENT FROM COUNT.

New York, Feb. 18.—Presumably because of his courtesies to them while they were obtaining their marriage license at the city hall, Lieut. William Kennel, in charge of the mayor's office, has received from the Count and Countess Szechenyi a present of a set of amethyst waistcoat buttons, cuff and shirt studs. Yesterday Lieut. Kennel obtained permission from Mayor McClure to accept the gift, which was sent by messenger to the city hall.

HEAVY SNOW IN MISSOURI.
St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 18.—The worst snowstorm in several years is raging here, and railroad and street car traffic is interrupted.

IOWA HARDWARE DEALERS.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Feb. 18.—The tenth annual convention of the Iowa Retail Hardware Dealers' association began here today. The convention will last three days.

FOLA LA FOLLETTE.

SMOKING OF CIGARETTES Must be Stopped to Save the Children, Says Wolfer.

Warden of State Prison Speaks of Evil of Growing Habit.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Speaking before the Lyndale Prater association of the Lyndale Congregational church, last night, Henry Wolfer, warden of the prison at Stillwater, declared that if the boys of the country were to be saved from becoming criminals, the smoking of cigarettes by them must be stopped. The habit was growing, he said.

"The neglected child," said Warden Wolfer, in his remarks before the society, "is the budding possibility of a future criminal—a criminal, if he has spirit and courage—a pauper if he has not. We not only concede to every child the right to be well born, but insist that every child shall be well raised. If the whole truth were known about the boys of this country, the school boys who smoke, the picture would be shocking. If you want to save the boys, and kill off one of the most active influences which help to make criminals, stop cigarette smoking. Stop it, for God's sake and the sake of humanity."

"If society does its duty by the child, crime will not entirely cease, but will shrink into its proper social life, a moral hazard, a power for the general betterment of the race."

FIRES FOUR SHOTS AT WIFE

Minneapolis Man Attempts to Kill Spouse
With a Rifle.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Rathner, a plumber, last night fired four shots at his wife with a rifle in an attempt to kill her, after he had unsuccessfully tried to lure her into the cellar of their house, 722 Twelfth avenue, southeast, for the same purpose. He was arrested on a charge of drunkenness, to be held until more serious charges may be preferred against him.

According to Mrs. A. Holmes, from whom the Rathners rent their rooms and who lives in rooms above them, Rath-ner has several times threatened to kill his wife, accusing her of unfaithfulness to him. When Mrs. Rathner returned home last night from a shopping expedition she found Rathner in a surly mood.

Afraid of Him.
He was loading a rifle, and she asked him to put it away as he was drunk and she was afraid of him. Later he asked her to go into the cellar with him as he wished to show her something. "I will not go into the cellar with you," she replied. "I know what you want to do—you want to kill me."

Refusing to believe in the failure of his plan to lure her into the cellar, turned on her at this and began firing. Mrs.
Rathner and their little daughter fled across the street to a neighbor, followed by Rathner, still firing.

PRIEST KILLED.
South Bend, Ind., Feb. 18.—Rev.
Andrew J. Salmon was killed and Rev.
T. J. Murphy was seriously injured last evening when a sleigh, in which they were driving, was struck by an interurban car. Both priests were members of the faculty of Notre Dame university.

Frank Orloskie Falls Down Chute and is Killed.

Men Themselves Dug Long Way Toward the Surface.

Miners Showed But Little Effect of Their Imprisonment.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 18.—All but one of the twenty-eight men and boys, who were entombed yesterday in the Mid Valley colliery were rescued early this morning. Frank Orloskie, a miner of Mid Valley, fell down a chute after the accident and was killed.

The men were entombed by a number of pillars of coal running, causing a gangway to close in. When the miners were imprisoned they gathered in a long well-ventilated gallery and made plans as to the best means of digging their way through the blockade. The men had picks and shovels and began work without delay. The imprisoned men heard sharp raps on the steam pipe running through the mine.

KING ALFONSO IS ALL RIGHT Report That He Was As- sassinated Proves to be Groundless.

Madrid, Feb. 18.—There is no truth in the report current in Paris last night that King Alfonso had been assassinated. The rumor probably was an outgrowth of the bomb explosions at Barcelona yesterday, which now appears to have been the work of anarchists. In addition to killing one woman and dangerously wounding another and a child, the explosions caused much damage to buildings.

The precise object of the outrages has not yet been made clear, but it is interesting to note that the factions of the parliamentary opposition recently united in a request to the government to restore the constitutional guarantees in Barcelona, declaring that normal conditions prevailed there.
King Alfonso is at present at Seville.

BUT LITTLE INTEREST

Taken in the Municipal Election On in Philadelphia.

All Republican Candidates, But One, Will be Elected.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—With the exception of contests in several of the wards, but little interest is being shown in the municipal election, here, today, for city solicitor, magistrates, councilmen and minor ward officers. A light vote is being cast. The Republican candidates, with possibly one exception, will be elected by substantial majorities.

The feature of the election is the contest for council in the fashionable suburb of Germantown, between Capt.
John Davidson, Republican, and Former State Senator Bayard Henry, City party or Reform candidate. The contest probably will be the last stand of the City party against the Republican organization, and the result is awaited with much interest throughout the city. Both sides claim victory.

A novel contest is in progress in the seventh ward, the home of Israel W.
Durham, one of the Republican leaders, where Owen Wister, the novelist, is the City party candidate for council, in opposition to Charles Seger, one of Durham's lieutenants. Wister has conducted a vigorous campaign, and in his appeals to voters has called his issue "honesty."

Goldfield, Nev., Feb. 18.—Thomas Tighe, an assemblyman from this county, was set upon by three members of the Western Federation of Miners yesterday, and in the struggle that followed was badly cut about the face. He fought off his assailants with his revolver, which he used as a club, the miners getting the worst of the encounter. The offense charged to Tighe was that he had supported the state police bill in the special session of the legislature recently closed.

MUNICIPAL-OWNED PLANT MAKES A GREAT RECORD FOR YEAR JUST CLOSED

Duluth Sets Pace for Country in Administration of Plant.

Water and Light Department Shows Net Earnings of $86,700.

Predicted That Net Earnings Will Reach $130,- 000 This Year.

That the city of Duluth sets the pace for the whole country in the administration of its municipal water and gas plants, is shown by the annual report of the city water and light department, which was filed by the commissioners with the council last evening.

Notwithstanding the fact that the city has cut its selling rates over one-half, it has paid all the expenses of operation and maintenance of the plants, all of the interest accruing on the bonds issued for their purchase and extensions and has invested from its earnings $200,000 in new construction.

The excess of the earnings over its cost of operation, maintenance and interest was $86,700 in 1907, as compared with $47,500 in 1906, $25,500 in 1905, and $20,000 in 1904. It is safe to predict that the net earnings of the department will be at least $180,000 in 1908.

The People's Business.
A municipal owned plant is the people's business. The Duluth plant represents a capital of over $3,250,000.
During the nine years that the people have owned the plants there has been a total saving to them of over $1,000,- 000. This it is claimed, is the measure of the profit to the people so far attained by the purchase from private control.

Since the purchase of the plants nine years ago, the pipe lines have been more than doubled in length.

Complaints have been heard occasionally of the increased rates of the department and there may have been

TO REFUTE TESTIMONY

Of Assistant Architect Lewis, is Expected of Pennypacker.

Ex-Governor Will be Called by Defense in Capitol Suit.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 18.—Former Governor Pennypacker will be called as a witness for the defense in the state capitol conspiracy trial today, unless the lawyers change their plans.
Mr. Pennypacker was president of the board of grounds and buildings at the time Former Auditor General Snyder and Former State Treasurer Mathews were members and former Supt.
Shumaker was its executive officer. He is to be called by counsel for these three former officials to tell of their relations with the capitol furnishing contract.

Expected to Refute Testimony.
Mr. Pennypacker is also expected to refute the testimony of Steward R.
Lewis, assistant to Architect Joseph
M. Huston, that the famous Huston letter to Former Attorney General Carson was prepared at a conference between Pennypacker, Snyder and Lewis, and that it was intended to be a "whitewash" and dovetailed into the letters written by others connected with the furnishing of the capitol.
James Scarlet, chief counsel for the commonwealth, says he is prepared to give the former governor a rigid cross-examination if he should attempt to justify official acts of himself and the three former state officers on trial in the furnishing contract.

Bookkeeper Testifies.
When the trial was resumed this morning, James Stevenson, a bookkeeper for Contractor John H. Sanderson, was recalled to explain the details of the furniture bills, invoices and measurements. Sanderson's experts, who testified yesterday that instead of collecting for 105,250 "feet" of furniture, or $1,885,000, as he was entitled to under his contract, he collected only for 57,966 "feet," amounting to $950,000, will be called later for cross-examination by the commonwealth. Sanderson collected for the furniture at the rate of $18.40 "per foot."

ITALIANS IN A STREET TRAGEDY

One Man Killed, Another Will Die, at New York.

New York, Feb. 18.—John Seltender is dead and Roset Morani is in a hospital dying, as the result of an emnity which began in Italy fifteen years ago. At that time both men were suitors for the hand of the same girl, Morani married her, and Seltender threatened that he would kill him if he had to follow him around the world to find the opportunity. Morani came to America with his bride and lived in Brooklyn.
Ever since, last night the two men met on the street in Brooklyn for the first time since the threat was made.
Seltender drew a razor and, without a word, slashed Morani about the head and shoulders. The men grappled and rolled about on the sidewalk until Morani was able to draw a revolver, with which he shot his enemy. Seltender died half an hour later, and Morani will not live.

TERRORISTS LEAVING FAST

Appointment of New Governor to Finland Causes Exodus.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The appointment of Gen. Von Boeckman, to be governor of Finland, has produced much excitement among the revolutionists and terrorists, who, in the past, have found Finland a convenient base of operations for plots of all kinds. They are now leaving in great numbers, most of them going to Sweden. This clearing of Finland of plotters will greatly facilitate the work of the Russian police in guarding the lives of prominent personages recently returned to Petersburg. Practically all big assassinations of the past year have been committed by terrorists, who came directly from Finland to the meeting place. Many revolutionists who were too slow in getting out have been arrested at Helsinki and Viborg.

The Russ announces today that further reinforcements of Cosacks will be sent to Finland.

AMERICAN CAR TAKES THE LEAD

Speed of Autos.

Erie, Pa., Feb. 18.—The American car in the New York to Paris automobile race, took the lead today, leaving here at 7 a. m. for Cleveland. An hour later the French car followed. The Italian car is stalled near Ripley, N.
Y., and one of the occupants has returned to Buffalo by train to get repairs for the machine.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 18.—Three of the New York to Paris automobile racers entered Ohio early today a few miles east of Conneaut. The American car reached the latter point at 7:13 a. m. with the Italian car one minute behind it. The French car reached Conneaut at 9 a. m. Bad roads and heavy snow drifts prevented anything like fast time. From Erie to Conneaut the cars made about fourteen miles an hour.

ANOTHER BRIDGE ACROSS ST. LOUIS IS PROPOSED

Soo or Wisconsin Central Will Build Across River.

Congress Probably Will Grant Necessary Charter This Winter.

According to Duluthians who are in close touch with the situation, application for a second bridge across St. Louis river, considerably below the site of the proposed steel corporation structure, will be made to the present congress, by either the Soo or the Wisconsin Central road.

While the natural assumption is that the latter would be the owner of the structure, on account of its extensive railroad yards in the West end, extending well into West Duluth, it is hinted that the Soo is behind the deal, despite the fact that it has secured a right-of-way along both Rice's Point in Duluth and Connor's Point in Superior, as far as the interstate bridge.

Whenever time it is, it seems to be an assured fact that the bridge will be built, and that a charter for its construction will be granted during the present session of congress. It is claimed a charter may be obtained without difficulty, in case a bill is presented in the proper form, providing for a bridge that will be for the use of pedestrians, teams and street cars, as well as for railroads. It is understood that there will also be a provision to the effect that rival railroads may use the structure, upon the pay-

Successors Heavily Loss.
Rev. Baxter Waters has received word from Columbia, Mo., to the effect that the home of his brother, H. J. Waters, dean of the agricultural school of the ment of a reasonable share of cost and maintenance.

The bridge will likely be built between the Grassy Point bridge of the Northern Pacific and the proposed Steel corporation bridge, and much nearer the former than the latter. It will form a connection between West Duluth and Superior that long has been talked of and desired.

"It will be an easy matter to secure a charter for the bridge if the building company agrees to provide a passage-way for teams, pedestrians and street cars," said O. H. Simonds of the West Duluth Land company, this morning. Mr. Simonds is very much interested in the project, and is understood to be in touch with the railroad companies. He recently returned from Washington, where he took pains to ascertain the sentiment of congressmen relative to bridges across the St. Louis river.

"If proper provision is made for teams, pedestrians, etc., as in the case of the Steel corporation bridge, I have every assurance that no difficulty whatever will be encountered in obtaining a charter," he continued. "I believe it would be almost impossible, on the other hand, to obtain a charter for a bare railroad bridge, and accommodations for nothing but trains. The United States steel corporation displayed great fairness and intelligence in their project, in this nature, and have set a good example for the new road to follow."

"We have men in congress who will use every endeavor to see that Duluth and Superior get desired necessary improvements at this time. Congressmen Jenkins is one of the most earnest and sincere workers for the Head of the Lakes district. He is a straight-forward and just man, and his methods are very effective. He has the interests of the Head of the Lakes very much at heart, and can be depended upon to use all his influence, and all his power, to promote legislation that will be beneficial to this district. His attitude in that respect is unwavering, and is based on a high sense of public duty. His record in the past has been excellent on that subject. A meritorious proposition of the kind proposed, with the provisions I have mentioned, will pass through congress without any trouble."

COPPER STOCKS RATHER WEAK

Market is Easier During Day—Calumet & Arizona Sick.

The copper stock market had an easier tone during most of the session today and the closing prices were off from yesterday. At the opening, the list was about unchanged, but a weakness developed shortly afterwards and continued during the session.

North Butte and Arizona kept the leading issues recovered somewhat before the close. Butte Coalition is holding a meeting in New York this afternoon. It was not known up to the hour of going to press whether they declared a dividend or not. They were still in session.

North Butte opened at $41.75, declined to $41.25 and closed at $41.25. Arizona opened at $37.50 and closed at $37.50. Calumet & Arizona opened at $37.50 and closed at $37.50.

The Influx of Spring Styles is at High Tide

The things which it brought us yesterday were additional shipments of those "natty" afternoon dresses of Rajah, Shantung, Pongee and Taffeta; in olive, champagne, Parisian Moutard, porcelaine and the handsome browns. Some introducing clever manipulations of the new water spots.

These are mostly developed in the "Nouveaux Princesses" styles, in which the upper part of the garment is cut and finished independently of the skirt, but converted into a one-piece garment by smart belt effects.

Long Broadcloth Coats

In Fitted Styles.

Values From $35.00 to $42.50.

At $20.00 and $22.50

Full skirt length, single or double breasted, satin lined throughout and interlined. Plain mannish or Braided Military styles. These Coats have that "substantial stylish air" which will carry them gracefully through several seasons of wear, thereby proving to be a valuable acquisition to the purchaser. Our only excuse for offering them at these absurdly low prices, being on account of the sizes; if you're lucky enough to need one, don't let this opportunity pass—(sizes 32 and 34 only).

SOO GRADE CROSSINGS HEARING ON AT MADISON.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state railway commission is hearing the application of the Soo railroad for the approval of the plans and specifications for the proposed new line through Superior, Wis., and Duluth, Minn.

The plan call for a grade crossing wherever the Soo line crosses other railroads. The other companies object, claiming the Soo line should cross on an elevated or on a depressed track. The hearing may be concluded today.

Judge L. K. Luse and Chief Engineer Thomas Green represent the Soo. Representatives of the opposing roads are George P. Slade, general manager of the Northern Pacific; Attorney Louis Hantsch, Northern Pacific; General Manager A. W. Trenholm, Omaha; Attorney Solon Perlin, Omaha; General Supt. S. T. Strickland, Omaha; Chief Engineer V. D. Sims, Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic; Attorney J. A. Murphy, Great Northern.

Lester Park Club.
The annual entertainment of the Lester Park Literary club was given last evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. James A. Geer, 5415 Superior street east. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall and Rev. and Mrs. Geer received.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frank Hall, president of the club. Miss Johnson gave a reading, while Miss Wallen played her accompaniment. Miss Lillian Potter gave a piano selection, followed by readings by Miss Gertrude Baresy, Miss Hyland and Miss Shesgren gave a dramatic reading. Refreshments were then served by the ladies.

TISDELL AGAIN ARRESTED.

WEST END LAND MARK TORN DOWN

The Old Rice's Point House is Being Dismantled. Was Once the Scene of a Romantic Elopement.

Nearly everyone who has ridden much on the Superior street car line to the West end and West Duluth has noticed the old white, frame building which stood on the southeast corner of Seventeenth avenue west and Superior. Across its front were old, black letters which proclaimed it to be the "Rice's Point House." It is being torn down.

This old Rice's Point house was one of the landmarks of the West end. For years it had stood and people have become used to seeing it there as they have to see the signs painted on the point of rocks.

According to West end legend, the old house was once the scene of a most romantic elopement. One of the sons of the late Rice's Point house, a young man named John Rice, was one of the stern old school and he put his foot down and said no. But love would find a way. A rope ladder was strung from Miss Rice's apartment on the second floor of the hotel there were only two and the gallant first mate was to catch her when she came down it late at night.

The elopers hurried down to the bay, where the sailor had tied up a small skiff. In the meantime, the stern parent had discovered his missing daughter and gave chase to the couple. Rice saved the old man speed but love, romance, and all that sort of thing gave the lovers more, so they beat the old gentleman to the water's edge.

While he stood on the shore, shaking his fists, the daughter waved a farewell to father from the boat, as it sped across the bay's waters to the craft where her husband-to-be was second in command. The boat was in a Superior ship.

The captain and the second mate had a superior clergyman waiting, not at the church, but on the boat, and in the captain's cabin, the sailor's knot was tied. Then the person was put ashore and the great ship sailed away.

On her next trip, after a reconciliation was effected between the happy couple and the stern parent.

For several years, the Rice's Point House has been unoccupied. The windows have long since been broken out and the walls were sagging and shrunken. In a day or two, the old structure will have been removed from the lot.

HAD TO GET OUT AND WALK.

Sleigh Ride Party Has a Strenuous Time of It.

Certain young men and women who took a sleighride Saturday night are going to eschew that form of amusement for the rest of the winter.

A big party of them went to New Duluth Saturday night in a sleigh, intending to dance when they reached their destination. However, they ran out of snow before they got there and girls and boys were compelled to get out and walk several miles.

When they finally reached the hall in New Duluth where the festivities were held, they were rather tired, but not tired enough to give up the dance project. They were determined to have a good time despite the postcard conditions they were obliged to endure.

The walk back where the rig had been left and the subsequent ride the rest of the way to the city was the painful experience, though. The party got back to the West end at 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

Fence on Right of Way.

The Wisconsin Central forces are putting up a high, board fence on the lower side of Michigan street from Ninth to Twelfth avenues west to protect the right of way of the narrow gauge construction railroad which is being used by the contractors.

The machine used to haul up rocks from the tunnel is in operation now, near the car barn, and is attracting quite large crowds.

Workmen Recover.

Marlin Mattson and Frank Polaski, who were overcome by gas while working in a tank at the Duluth Brewing & Malting company's plant Saturday, have returned to their labors, entirely recovered from the effects of the fumes. The gas formed inside the tank while four men were working there. Mattson and Polaski were taken to the hospital and their companions summoned assistance.

West End Shortfalls.

Mrs. A. N. Hopkins and son, Raymond, of 2321 West Second street, have gone to Walker, Minn., where young Mr. Hopkins will remain for some time, to improve his health. He is expected to return to Duluth in a few days. A. E. Swedberg, 3 E. Sup. St. and 201 E. Sup. St., Dr. McKay, A. W. Dill, Dr. G. W. Davis and Messrs. Elliot and Runquist of the Elliot & Runquist studios have gone to Chicago, to attend a sale of fast harness horses which is being held here this week.

Take no chances, have your prescriptions filled at the Lion Drug Store, Alfred Hagberg of Ashland, Wis., is visiting friends in the West end this week.

George Foster of Iron River, Minn., spent Sunday with friends in the West end.

The Epworth League of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church will meet this evening in the church parlors. The Women's missionary society met in the church last night.

It's worth while to see our hats; none better, bring your old hat—we'll make it new. Pearson's, 1314 Piedmont avenue west.

Miss Bertha Elmquist is stopping a few days with friends in the West. She is en route to her home at Clouet, Minn., having been compelled to give up her position as school teacher at Elbow, Minn., on account of poor health.

For week lungs, see the Norwegian-Cath. Liver Oil, sold at the Lion Drug Store.

F. Phillips of Nineteenth avenue west, has returned from Brainerd, Minn., where he has been receiving treatment at the Northern Pacific hospital, for a broken knee-cap.

There are of the West end hotel, last evening when the barbers gave a dancing party. Nearly all the consorting artists in that section of the city were present during the evening.

Removal of Miss M. J. Swenson, who died Sunday at St. Mary's hospital, will be held Thursday afternoon at the First Swedish Mission church. Rev. F. O. Kling will be in charge of the services.

Special Announcement Regarding the National Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not only sold by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.

AGAIN ARREST "HEALER."

State Board of Medical Examiners After Dr. Till.

Glenwood, Wis., Feb. 18.—For the second time the Wisconsin state board of medical examiners has ordered the arrest of "Dr." John Till, the Somers healer, and he was arraigned before Justice Wall. The hearing was postponed to the 20th, and the doctor, after furnishing the bonds, returned to Somers to continue his practice.

The charge against the healer is that he practiced without a license, the same as the one made against him some months ago. At that time he paid a fine of $50 and was released. He said he would quit the state and return to Australia, his former home, but this reason light punishment was inflicted.

CLERGYMAN AT GOAL.

Calumet Minister Asked to Play in Hockey Game.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is currently reported in hockey circles that the Methodists had arranged to secure Rev. E. Sedwick, the pastor of the Calumet M. E. church, to play goal in their team in the battle with the Presbyterians. The Methodists have scoured the country to get a man as big as John McNamara for goal, and while the reverend gentleman is not as tall as Big John, he has girth and breadth of shoulders that would give him a good chance, as it is believed that he can be coaxed into the game.

TWIN SISTER FATALLY BURNED BY KEROSENE.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 18.—Nettie Smith, the 9-year-old daughter of J. M. Smith, president of the Alliance (Alliance of North Dakota), was burned to death Monday when she attempted to relight a fire with kerosene. She was alone in the house. Nearly all her clothes were burned off, and she lived only an hour. With her twin sister, Nettie, she celebrated her nineteenth birthday on Saturday. The surviving twin is frantic with grief, as also are the dead girl's parents.

HER SECOND MARRIAGE AT AGE OF TWENTY-ONE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mary E. Lynch, 21, Smith, president of the Alliance (Alliance of North Dakota), was burned to death Monday when she attempted to relight a fire with kerosene. She was alone in the house. Nearly all her clothes were burned off, and she lived only an hour. With her twin sister, Nettie, she celebrated her nineteenth birthday on Saturday. The surviving twin is frantic with grief, as also are the dead girl's parents.

CALL IN CERTIFICATES.

Los Angeles, Feb. 18.—The Los Angeles Clearing House association, yesterday, issued a call for the return of all clearing house certificates issued during the period of the recent financial crisis.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The Duluth Art School, the newest work to be undertaken by the women's council, is rapidly taking shape, and a response came from the circulars which will be mailed this week the school will open April 1. Although the work will necessarily be begun in a small way it is felt that in this school there is the beginning of a large and splendid work for the city. The school will not be maintained by public subscription, as have been the summer cooking school and the school gardens, other work which has been done by the council, but it is the purpose to have the art school self-supporting from the first. The circular, which will be mailed to the citizens of Duluth and the surrounding towns, is given in full.

"The women's council of Duluth, to comply with a demand for a school where students may continue the work begun in the high and normal schools of the city, and furnish an opportunity for those wishing to study design and its application to the handicrafts, has decided to open an art school April 1, 1908.

Through the courtesy of the board of education two well lighted rooms on the third floor of the Washington building have been secured. Easels and drawing boards will be furnished by the school. Paper, charcoal, paints, etc., will be supplied at the students' expense by a custodian of supplies at the school building.

The course of study will cover a period of two years, beginning with a three months' course April 1, 1908. The course is designed to prepare, as possible, for the entire term, rather than for isolated subjects.

There will be day and night classes, working from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m., with a sketch class drawing from the costumed model from 4 to 5 p. m., and evening classes from 7 to 9 p. m.

There is no age limit to students attending the school. Tuition fees are payable in advance as follows:

All day classes, three months, five days per week, $20.
All day classes, three months, three days per week, $15.
Children's Saturday morning class, three months, $10.
Sketch class, three months, $5.
Evening classes, three months, two evenings per week, $10.

Design classes, hours to be arranged. Prices the same as for other classes. The aim of the school is to give to students a comprehensive training in the following branches of the fine and applied arts, and to prepare for advanced work in the best schools of the country.

1. Freehand Drawing—Drawing and sketching from plants, objects, casts, and the human figure, and practice in freehand perspective.

Both the brush and charcoal will be used in drawing, and for the study of quality of line, tone and color.

2. Composition—The student will be required to develop his skill in charcoal, ink and color, illustrating the principles of composition as a foundation for work in illustration and design.

3. Principles of Design—This course is intended, through creative work, to develop the student's critical judgment, and the ability to express ideas in art form, which are necessary for the architect, illustrator, craftsman and art teacher.

"The structural elements, line, dark and light, and color, will be considered in their various relations of proportion, subordination, balance, rhythm, harmony, tone values, hue, intensity and texture, beginning with simple forms and leading to advanced design or painting.

4. Block printing and the stencil facilitate the composition of pattern and the variation of color schemes, while leather, brass, copper, grasses, reeds, rattan and raffia furnish abundant material for the practical application of the work done in design.

5. Art appreciation and the History of Art.

"The purpose in this course is an appreciative study of the history of painting, sculpture, architecture and design, with discussion of analogies in the other fine arts, and of their historical development. The main topics in the study of art appreciation will be: Principles of structure in the space arts, theory of design, and the history of line, dark and light, and color, and art criticism.

This will be a preparation for the historical study which follows, and which will be pursued chronologically, beginning with the primitive art of cave paintings, and leading through Egyptian architecture and design, the arts of China, Japan and India, Greek and Roman, Byzantine, and Islamic, architecture and design, early Italian painting and sculpture, the art of the Renaissance, Spanish, Dutch, English and American art, landscape painting and modern art.

"Those desiring membership in the school should apply to Miss Lydia Potter, at the Duluth public library, or to any member of the board of managers, consisting of Mrs. H. C. Marshall, Mrs. J. B. Weston, Miss Gertrude L. Carr, Miss Mary Naughton, Miss Elizabeth Robertson, Mrs. J. D. Thomsen, Miss Ella Roe, Mrs. J. B. Weston, Mrs. Henry S. Mahon, Miss Jessie Thompson, Miss Jessie Hopkins.

how handsome her former lover had become, and how highly polished and pink his bald head was. They were having a most charming game, when suddenly a moth miller spattered into the gas and fell whizzing among the dominoes.

Immediate Col. Wilds went off. Poor Miss Malvina was so overcome she scarcely knew what to do. Not liking to sit going at her old friends, who was behaving himself in a most childish and foolish manner, she hastily arose, and walking across the room, took from her pocket a small box from which she extracted an "excellent pill," which she swallowed.

In a moment the colonel was at her side. "Miss Malvina," he cried, "What is it? You're only my organ," faltered Miss Malvina.

"In his courtly sympathy Col. Wilds forgot his own life. After this for a week he and Miss Malvina sat down ice-cream, and during that time he never once exhibited a nerve, and he almost forgot that she ever had an organ.

But happiness in this world is short lived and fate is a cruel jade. On the eighth evening, when the colonel and Miss Malvina were enjoying the most harmonious game of dominoes they had yet played, and when each was touchingly reluctant to leave the table, she tore it open and read:

"Dear Miss Malvina, I pay for no well persons. I hear that you are entirely recovered, and that you are now a Christian. "Come home

WOODFORD HEADS HUGHES LEAGUEAccepts Presidency of Society at Meeting Held in New York.

New York, Feb. 18.—Declarations of support to the candidacy of Governor Hughes for president of the country, and prophesies of his election to that office, were made by speakers last night at the formal notification of Gen. Stuart L. Woodford of his selection as president of the Hughes League of the United States, which took place at the Hotel Manhattan. Members of the notification committee and members of the Hughes League from many parts of the country were present. The speakers included Gen. Woodford, John E. Milholm, chairman of the league, ex-Governor Bache of New Hampshire, Congressman Waldo of Brooklyn and ex-Mayor Seth Low of New York. In accepting the headship of the Hughes League, Gen. Woodford characterized the political situation as serious and declared that the "Democratic party, hungry with fastings, will do their best to get together and win the campaign and the election."

The Republicans must not count upon Democratic mistakes, as in the past, he said, and a mistake now by the Republicans would be a crime. He paid a high tribute to the worth of Governor Hughes, who, he said, he had known from his youth. Governor Hughes, he asserted, was a man who could undoubtedly obtain the electoral vote of New York.

MISS GORDON ACQUITTED. Denver, Colo., Feb. 18.—The jury in the case of Miss Beatrice Gordon, charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff W. O. Shirey, last night returned a verdict of acquittal. Miss Gordon had lived with Shirey as housekeeper for a number of years and claimed that on the night of the killing she was preparing to leave the Shirey home and sever all relations with the man. In a struggle for the possession of a revolver the weapon was discharged and Shirey was killed. The jury was out less than an hour.

TURN DOWN CONTRACTAldermen Consider Protest on the West End Police Station.*Saloon License for Residence District is Laid Over.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID. Protest received from a West end residents against granting contract for construction of police station on site already purchased. It being declared too small, and vote is against confirmation of award of contract by board of public works to Emil Zauf.

Protest received from N. J. Upham & Co., R. B. Knox & Co. and others against granting of saloon license to F. Nusbaum at 704 West First street. Action on license postponed for one week.

City Clerk H. W. Cheadle recommends changes in precinct boundaries throughout the city. Claim of $3,000 damages received from Katherine Spicer for injury received in slipping on sidewalk near Second street and Sixth avenue east Jan. 24.

Because some of the residents of the West end, who presented a petition and appeared before the council last night, believe the 25-foot site for the proposed West end police station is too narrow, the council gave the station another setback last night by voting against the confirmation of the award of the contract by the board of public works to Emil Zauf.

The action came as a surprise to Chief Troyer and others, who had been working for the new station. Aldermen Kennedy and Mork made a plea for immediate action on the contract. They said that the 25-foot site is small, but that the matter had been threshed over once before, and no other available site could be secured. They said there had been delay enough, and everybody was anxious to see the station go up.

Chief Troyer also asked for favorable action. He said that the entire district had been canvassed, when the question of a site was up before the council, and the site secured was the best that could be secured. He said in no other place could a lot extending through from Superior to Michigan street be secured, and a 60-foot lot, which did not extend through the block, would not be suitable, on account of the lack of room for a barn, should one be needed at any time.

On the vote, there were only six of the fourteen aldermen in favor of confirming the contract, eleven being necessary for confirmation. On protests from N. J. Upham & Co. and R. B. Knox & Co., representing numerous property holders in the district, action on the saloon license application of T. Nusbaum, for a license for a bar in a hotel of over fifty rooms at 704 West First street, was postponed until next week, to allow the aldermen to make an investigation. The protests set forth that the district at present is wholly a residence district, and the invasion of it by a hotel and saloon would bring property values down, and cause hardship to the owners of apartments in that vicinity.

Mr. Upham appeared personally and backed up his protest. He said the Hoyme Hospital association, a Swedish association, contemplates the erection of a church on a corner site, near the site of the proposed saloon, and told the aldermen to consider well before they would put a saloon in such a district. He explained the arrangement of the lots there; that on which Mr. Nusbaum proposes to build being the intersection of Mesaba avenue and First street.

Mr. Nusbaum said that the signers of the petition for a license were reputable residents of the district, and asked that their names be read. He pointed out that he intended to put up a hotel, costing $15,000, would conduct an orderly place, and could see no reason why the license should not be granted. Alderman Foulshier moved to lay the matter over for two weeks, but the motion was down.

Alderman McEwen of the Fifth ward summed up his views, and urged the council to look well before it should pass this precedent by allowing a saloon to go into a residence district. The location in question, he said, is the gateway to a growing residence district, and a saloon at that point would surely be a detriment. He pointed out that the policy of the council has always been to discourage saloons in residence districts, and he couldn't see why that policy should be changed. He said the location was not a natural one for a saloon, and the hotel, at some future date passing into hands other than those of Mr. Nusbaum, might become a less orderly place than he promised to conduct.

Alderman Shartel's motion to lay the matter over for a week carried.

Explaining that an examination of the vote at the last election revealed the fact that the boundary lines of some of the precincts need readjustment, City Clerk H. W. Cheadle laid a number of recommendations before the council last night. He advised that the limits of some precincts be reduced and that some of the precincts be combined. His recommendations for reducing the limits of some of the precincts were:

That the third and fourth precincts of the First ward be made into three precincts.

That the first, second and third precincts of the Seventh ward be made into four precincts.

In the First and Second wards, he said, each of the precincts referred to, cast more than 400 votes at the recent election, and in each of the precincts of the Seventh ward referred to, more than 400 votes were registered, and in the third precinct more than 400 votes were cast. In the coming November election, he said, the ballots while the law is ignored when the excess is small, the changes recommended in this case are believed to be necessary.

A communication was received from Katherine Spicer, setting forth that on Jan. 24 she slipped on a defective sidewalk near the corner of Sixth avenue east and Second street, breaking her left leg. She requests $3,000 damages for the injury.

The city engineer submitted an estimate for a main sewer trunk near Thirty-first avenue west with an outlet to the bay, the estimated cost being $7,167.50.

Letters were received from the Duluth Street Railway company, Duluth Edison Electric company and Duluth Telephone company petitioning the refusal of further permits to A. Anderson, a house mover, who, they say, is constantly causing damage to their wires by reckless methods. They set forth specific causes and urged the council to refuse him all further opportunity to ply his trade.

A SPLENDID SHOWING.

Elsewhere in The Herald tonight appears the annual report of the water and light department of the city of Duluth, which should be read by every citizen. There is matter in it that will stir the pride of the people of Duluth, and that will cause them to congratulate themselves on the judgment they showed when they took over the gas and water plants from private ownership to be operated for the common good.

It is a true saying that a city is a corporation in which every citizen is a stockholder, but in this case it is particularly applicable. Duluth is in business for itself, and it is making a success of it. Its business is capitalized at about $3,250,000, and every citizen is getting dividends—in improved service and in cheaper rates.

It is a good showing for Duluth, and it is a good showing for municipal ownership. Duluth sets the pace for the nation in the successful administration of municipal ownership. It went about it in the right way by taking the municipal plants out of politics and putting them in charge of an unpaid, non-partisan board of citizens. The water and light commission went about its work in the right way by employing an expert to take charge of the plants. Manager L. N. Case was hired because he was fit for the place, and he has been retained because he made good.

Since the city acquired these plants, nine years ago, the pipe lines have been more than doubled; tainted and poisonous water has been replaced by the purest water on earth; the quality of the gas has been improved; and, what appeals even more forcibly to the consumer, selling rates have been cut in two. The plants have paid all expenses of operation and maintenance, interest on bonds, and from their earnings $200,000 has been invested in new construction.

Each year for half a decade the plants have shown a profit over cost of operation: $20,000 in 1904; $26,500 in 1905; $47,500 in 1906; $86,700 in 1907; and the profit will not be less than $130,000 this year.

Besides this, the citizens of Duluth have been saved upwards of a million and a half dollars in the cost of the gas and water service since the city took hold of these plants.

Opponents of municipal ownership are fond of spreading items of alleged news regarding the failure of municipal ownership. They never find any comfort in contemplating the operation of the Duluth plants. Duluth never figures in the bulletins that are sent to the newspapers of the country containing matter calculated to discourage public ownership of public utilities. The reason is that the experience of this city in municipal ownership furnishes a complete answer to all the arguments that are made against the policy.

Duluth did not put its municipal plants into politics, but placed them in charge of a commission composed of business men appointed because of their public spirit and business experience. This commission, by employing experts because of their fitness for their places, and by conducting the municipal plants as business enterprises upon business lines, has made a thorough success of its work that is highly gratifying to the people of Duluth and encouraging to believers in municipal ownership everywhere.

THE UNEMPLOYED AND THE LAND.

While the depression following last fall's "panic" has served to call special attention to it, and has no doubt accentuated it to some extent, the problem of the unemployed in the great cities is one that is always with us, and it is time that some effort were made, either by the government or individuals, to remove it.

Even in the best of times, so long as men will congest in the cities and stay away from the land, there will always be this vexatious and embarrassing problem of the unemployed. Many of these men, no doubt, are professional members of the ranks of the unemployed—loafers, in fact. The majority of them are not, however, but are honest seekers after what should be their inalienable right—the right to earn an honest day's wages with an honest day's work.

There has been drafted by the commissioner of charities of New York a bill which it is expected will be enacted into law by the New York legislature at its present session, and which seeks to meet and cope with this problem. It provides for the establishment of a farm colony or colonies, to be operated under the control of the city department of charities. These colonies are planned with the expectation of affording an opportunity to those out of work and willing to labor. They will at least give them a chance to honestly ward off starvation without becoming subjects of charity. It is believed that these farms will be more than self-sustaining.

The scheme has not yet been fully outlined, but in a general way it is simple. All that is needed is the land and the means to equip it with tools to be used in making it productive. In the winter, possibly, there will be stock to take care of or household products to be developed. In at least one colony, where families can be cared for, there will be cottages for that purpose. The main idea is to provide a means of giving self-supporting labor to the unemployed.

This will work a benefit in more ways than one. It will provide employment for those that need it, and it will scare out the tramps and loafers who are always willing to subsist on charity designed for the benefit of the honest seeker for work. If this class once understands that if its members try to palm themselves off as honest seekers for work they will be furnished with work they will quickly make themselves scarce, and the problem of the unemployed will be reduced to its true proportions.

It is too bad that there is not a larger way of getting at this problem. In various parts of the country, notably in Minnesota, there are millions of acres of idle land waiting to be tilled. All that is necessary to provide a hungry family with the means of sustaining themselves comfortably, surely and permanently, is to get that family located on a piece of land, equipped with the tools needed to work it. With these idle acres, and the idle thousands of the cities existing at the same time, society is overlooking a chance to do enormous good at small cost if it does not contrive to get them together.

TOO BLIND JUSTICE.

Four years ago the excursion steamer General Slocum was burned in the East river, New York, and 1,021 lives were lost. The victims were mostly women and children.

In the investigation that followed the most horrible neglect and parsimony were discovered. The fire hose on the boat was rotten; the life preservers were old, filled with iron to make their weight come up to requirements, and useless; the crew was made up of poorly paid, miserable wretches who lost their heads and saved themselves at the expense of the lives of the women and children.

The blame was placed beyond any question at the doors of the owners of the vessel, the United States inspectors who had passed the vessel in her frightful condition, and the captain.

Of them all, the captain was the least culpable. Yet he is the only one that is going to be adequately punished. A few days ago the United States circuit court of appeals sustained the decision of the lower court, sentencing this man, Capt. William H. Van Schaik, to ten years' imprisonment. He is now a pitiable, broken man of 70 years, and there appears to be nothing left for him but death behind prison bars.

The Slocum was owned by the Knickerbocker Steamship company. Frank A. Barnaby was its president, James K. Atkinson was its secretary, F. B. Dexter its treasurer, and Capt. John A. Pease was commodore of its fleet. These men were all indicted. They have never been tried. The indictments against them are accumulating dust in a pigeonhole somewhere.

These are the men chiefly responsible for the horrors of this casualty. These were the men in charge of the company's business, who "cut down expenses" by buying inferior life preservers, by employing cheap help, by maintaining rotten fire hose, and by keeping the vessel in such a condition that it was a constant menace to life. The captain no doubt knew of these conditions, and no doubt, too, he erred in not bringing them to the attention of the public officials. Yet these conditions had been passed by the inspectors, were approved by his employers, and to complain to the public meant his discharge. So, foolishly perhaps, and maybe even criminally, he continued to command a vessel that was so miserably equipped that when it caught fire a thousand lives were sacrificed.

Yet no contention of argument can make him a fit scapegoat upon whom all the punishment is to be inflicted. If he was guilty, as no doubt he was, the owners of the vessel were far more guilty. Yet he, at the age of 70, goes to prison for ten years, while the indictments against the owners, the men primarily responsible, still lie untouched in the prosecuting attorney's desk.

This is not justice. If the captain is to be punished, the owners should be punished, too. If they are to escape, he, too, should be let off scot-free.

NOT FREAK LEGISLATION.

A couple of weeks ago one house of the Oklahoma legislature passed a bill providing that the hotels of that state must furnish all their beds with sheets nine feet long, and that none of them should be permitted to furnish forth their tables with cracked teacups.

Immediately the newspapers of the country, particularly those that don't think much of Oklahoma's progressive and radical ideas of legislation anyway, burst out in a chorus of laughter over the "freak legislation" that the "freak legislators" of that "freak state" are indulging in.

So far as this particular bill is concerned the debate might as well stop, because last week the other branch of the Oklahoma legislature killed the bill.

But it isn't freak legislation, by a long way. It is very sensible legislation, and aims at hygiene rather than at public amusement. The cracked teacup part of it is new, but the nine-foot sheet part of it has been before a number of legislatures, and has become a law in several states.

If you believe in the germ theory, and possess the slightest bit of imagination, it should be easy to convert you to the nine-foot sheet law. The bedspreads and quilts in the average hotel bedroom are not changed often, though the sheets may be changed with every guest—let us hope so, at any rate. When you go to a hotel, are assigned to a room, and retire to the more or less comfortable couch with which you are furnished, you place your mouth in close proximity to those spreads and quilts. If you have imagination, it is easy to picture a varied procession of guests that have preceded you in that position. Most of them may have been healthy, but some of them were not. Persons with almost any disease in the list may have slept there and breathed upon the covers of your bed. They may—and doubtless did—deposit germs of disease that have found a comfortable home in those bedclothes, but that are willing to forsake it for your hospitable mouth any minute.

Now if the sheet is so short that you can't carefully fold it back over the permanent covers so as to free yourself from these disagreeable reflections, just remember that nine-foot sheet bill, and think whether it is "freak legislation" or not. The object of that bill is to compel hotel proprietors to provide sheets that will protect your mouth from the unclean and perhaps dangerous permanent covers of your hotel bed.

The cracked teacup scheme is a new one, but it is easy to imagine that back of it is an idea that cracks in teacups may harbor germs that the usual hotel kitchen washing will not remove. If that is true, surely everybody would prefer, in using strange cups, to have them free from cracks that may provide lodgings for multitudes of microbes.

Baron Takahira, the new Japanese ambassador to this country, says war between the United States and Japan is "too hellish to be thought of." So say we all.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

Henry Russell, manager of the San Carlo Grand hotel, company, has been encouraged into believing that there is a chance that Boston will provide that great want in American theatrical circles—a municipal theater, that would in a way take on the scope of a national theater. Mr. Russell, according to report, has offered the assistance of Ebon Jordan, a Boston millionaire, who has promised to secure the aid of other Boston business men in building a very expensive opera house devoted to music and the higher class of drama. Various efforts have been made to start a national theater in America. Various efforts have been made with the wealth of the world have at different times been made, but somehow have never materialized. If the projected national theater, where dramas and operas that, in this commercial theatrical age, could not hope to be self-supporting, could be given, Mr. Russell has great faith in the project.

Starells as a national affliction! In bygone days to smoke cigarettes and swear, or to rudely stare. Many people are now so used to stare that they are not even aware of it. THE WEATHER.

It looked as though the advent of a snowstorm was here, and here it came. The clouds were thick and gray and the sun sifted down. Later, the clouds broke and the sun peeped through. The weather man expects more snow tonight and a drop in temperature.

Following were last night's lowest temperatures, as recorded by the weather bureau:

FOUGHT BULL DOG FOR LIFE

Man, Ill With Pneumonia, Smothers Animal and Then Faints.

New York, Feb. 18.—Battling for his life with an infuriated bulldog, Douglas Hudson Ricker, a publisher, ill with pneumonia and too weak to scream for help, was found unconscious, hours afterward, lying across the lifeless body of the dog, which he had smothered with a blanket. Taken ill, shortly after his return to Brooklyn a few days ago from Florida, bringing North with him the dog, which had been presented to him there, Mr. Ricker was confined to his bed partially encased in surgical wrappings. Left alone for a time, after he had fallen asleep, he awoke to find the dog standing at his chest. Trying to push the animal away, it snapped at him. Repeating the attempt, Ricker found himself engaged in a fierce struggle with the animal.

He seized it by the throat, when it sprung for his throat. With both hands engaged he could not ring his call bell, and practically voiceless from his illness, he was unable to call for help. Ricker's strength had almost given out, when in the struggle some of the bed clothing became disarranged. This interfered with the dog's movements. Given the idea, the sick man forced the head of the dog into the mass of bed clothes. Then he succeeded in winding the blanket about the dog, and, too weak to hold him any longer, rolled on top of him. When he had gained the final advantage he fainted. He was found unconscious some hours later, was revived and told the story. He was greatly weakened by the struggle and is now reported in a critical condition.

CASE IS NEARLY READY FOR JURY

Numanville-Iverson Trial is Nearing an End.

The $10,000 damage case of Archille Numanville against John Iverson will probably be given to the jury late this afternoon. The defense had practically concluded its testimony by noon today, and it was expected that the arguments would begin early this afternoon. Numanville claimed and has sought to show that he was insane for three months as a result of injuries alleged to have resulted from a beating by Iverson, while they were out to the Cloquet river on a fishing trip. Iverson claimed that all he ever did was to slap Numanville for calling him a bad name. The defendant further claimed that Numanville's insanity was the result of the excessive use of alcoholic beverages, and not of a blow. Considerable testimony was introduced along that line of defense.

FARMER IS BANKRUPT.
Mankato, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. William Jones, aged 52, living on a farm here, the mother of ten children, in attempting to jump from the buggy as her horse was running away, about three miles from town Monday, struck on her head on a rock fracturing her skull. She was picked up unconscious in the road and will probably die.

FARMER IS BANKRUPT.
Mankato, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ross A. Perry, a farmer of Beaver Creek, Rock county Monday filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court in this city. His liabilities are given as $1,540.25, of which $75 is secured, and the assets as $380 exempt and $215 not exempt. A J. Daly of Laverne is the attorney for the bankrupt.

NO WATER ON SUNDAY NOW

Campaign in Chicago Has Brought About Strange Analogy.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Here's a strange analogy: While trying to force a bibulous element of the public to forego beer and drink water straight on Sunday, the Law and Order league has brought about a strong condition of affairs. It has closed the water fountains to the equine and canine public, and, if the latter would drink, it is forced to drink beer with its master or go dry.

On Sunday reports of this situation reached labor headquarters, which are likely to precipitate another feature into the Sunday closing fight. The teamsters' joint council, representing thousands of teamsters in the city, sent a communication to the Chicago Federation of Labor, asking the co-operation of the big labor organizations in a request to the humane society to have watering troughs placed at convenient points in the city, whereby the horses may slake their thirst.

"It is a pretty serious condition which confronts us," the communication reads. "Heretofore plenty of watering troughs have been scattered about the city. But each trough has been located in front of a saloon and the saloonkeeper paid for the water."

"Now the water has been turned off from most of the troughs, and the reason given by the saloonkeepers is that the Law and Order league is prosecuting the saloonmen without just cause, and they now refuse to contribute to the comfort of the public any more than they can help."

The matter will be brought to the notice of the humane society this week, and some plan devised for furnishing water to the dumb beasts.

THIEF RIVER FALLS HAS ITS COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—An enthusiastic meeting of the business men of this city was held in the opera hall Saturday evening to perfect a commercial organization. A committee appointed at a former meeting presented a report which was adopted. This report comprised a constitution and by-laws governing the body. The dues were set at $1 per month and all officers connected with the club were to serve without salary except the secretary, who was to be paid $5 per month. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, O. J. Schell; first vice president, D. P. O'Neill; second vice president, Martin Everson; treasurer, Attorney Halvorsen; secretary, Dan Shaw.

RAILROADS

SOO PLANS A NEW LINE

Will Build Extension From Twin Cities to Duluth.

Will Intersect Broomfield-Duluth Cut-Off at Onamia.

St. Paul, Feb. 18.—There is to be another railroad from the Twin Cities to Duluth. While no official announcement was made, the directors of the Soo line had an important session at the general office yesterday, and plans for the extension were discussed. The new Duluth line will run almost due north from Minneapolis, intersecting the cut-off from Brownsville to Duluth at Onamia, near Mile Lake. This will give a short and direct line from the Twin Cities to Mile Lake, something long desired, and will also give the Soo line a most coveted arrangement of mileage as well.

Along with the other grain-carrying lines, traversing North Dakota, the Soo found at last that the great congestion was the traffic to the north. All the traffic picked up by the branch lines converged on the last division to Minneapolis or to Duluth, and the result was characterized by James J. Hill in the simile of the funnel which can transmit no more than the capacity of its neck. The Soo had last year completed its Kenmare line, which was expected to make a good cleanup in the additional line. Grant business can be diverted to Minneapolis over the new North and South line at the junction near Mile Lake, or it can be carried on to Duluth.

For several years also the Soo has been working quietly in Wisconsin, extending its Frederick line a little every season, northward toward Duluth and Superior. A glance at the map shows that the lakes are inevitably the objective point.

Surveying crews are now working at a point half way between Princeton and Cambridge. They admit they are in the employ of the Soo.

SNELL JURY DISAGREES

Discharged After Having Been Out Since Saturday Evening

Clinton, Ill., Feb. 18.—The jury in the Snell case was discharged by Judge Cochran late yesterday, being unable to reach a verdict. Richard Snell, the contestant, announces that he will ask a new trial of the case at the May term of court.

The last ballot stood eight for the contestant to four for the proponents of the will.

The jury had been out since Saturday evening.

HITCHCOCK RESIGNS

As Assistant Postmaster General to Become Taft's Manager.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Frank H. Hitchcock yesterday presented to the president his letter of resignation as assistant postmaster general. The president accepted the resignation, and made a response to it, in which he referred to Mr. Hitchcock's service in the department. Mr. Hitchcock expects to enter practically immediately upon his new duties as manager of the presidential campaign of Secretary Taft. Offices, which are to be used as headquarters, have been secured in the Union Trust company's building in this city, and in these Mr. Hitchcock expects to have a force of clerks at work.

SUPERIOR IS COMING IN

The Commercial Club to Work for Securing Suitable Park.

Ted Sullivan Agrees to Finance the Entire Scheme.

"I found all kinds of enthusiasm in Superior, and I am certain now that the plan to put a team in the Northern league will go through," said A. W. Kuehnow this morning.

Mr. Kuehnow attended a meeting of the Superior Commercial club last night, told them how the situation is, and how the Commercial club is the only thing necessary to give Superior good baseball, and a committee was appointed to get the park. Mr. Kuehnow explained that Ted Sullivan is willing to make all improvements on the grounds, pay the lease, build the stands and bleachers, and manage the team. All he asked of the Superior fans was the pressure to secure a suitable park.

With such influence to secure the park, it is believed a site, which has been in view for some time, will be secured. The Superior fans have been without baseball so long they are anxious to get back in the game. When they did have a team, they had to travel so far to see the games they could not watch them. They like the idea of a downtown park and, if the team goes in, it should certainly be a success.

Ted Sullivan is expected to arrive in Duluth from Chicago tomorrow, and he will go about completing the final arrangements. It is expected the lease will be signed, contracts let for fence, stand and bleachers, and the entire deal closed up within a few days.

GLEAMS IN THE SPORTING FOE.

Nothing will give the Northern league the firm footing it needs for next season like the addition of Eau Claire, Wis., to the circuit. With Superior in the game and Eau Claire for the Northern league, the league will be a complete circuit and Duluth fans rejoice in the acquisition.

In taking Eau Claire into the fold, the Northern league will be invading the territory of the Wisconsin-Illinois league. But under the circumstances, such action is permissible under the national agreement. Eau Claire is a city of the size and importance of Eau Claire was just what was needed to give the Northern league a complete circuit and Duluth fans rejoice in the acquisition.

The future is bright for the league now. Nothing but a six-circuit circuit would do. There is no sense in courting disaster again. Duluth will furnish the backbone of the league. Eau Claire and Superior will be the two new teams. If the teams are in the right hands and the game is conducted properly, Eau Claire and Superior will be a veritable jolt to the Wisconsin-Illinois league. The next meeting of the league should be a veritable jolt to the Wisconsin-Illinois league. The next meeting of the league should be a veritable jolt to the Wisconsin-Illinois league. The next meeting of the league should be a veritable jolt to the Wisconsin-Illinois league.

TROUBLE OVER INDIAN.

Canadians to Send Longboat to London Olympic Games.

New York, Feb. 18.—There seems to be every prospect that there will be trouble between Canada and the United States over the Olympic games to be held in London next summer. It is now said that the Dominion government expects to appropriate $30,000 to send an athletic team to take part in the games, and it is further stated that the Canadian government expects to send a team of Indian distance runners, will surely be a member of the team.

There is no doubt that the Americans would promptly file a protest against Longboat, as he is under suspension by the United States Olympic committee on charges of professionalism, and if he were to compete no American athlete would be allowed to take part in any event in which he was entered, including the Marathon race, the greatest contest of the meeting. It is said there is an extreme case of the American team might be withdrawn from the games, although this is hardly likely.

Montreal Horse Travels a Mile on the Ice in 2:16.

Montreal, Que., Feb. 18.—A new world's record for trotting on the ice in the free-for-all at the Delorimer park races yesterday afternoon, was made, when in the first heat Dave K. came home in 2:16. This is a second and a quarter better than the previous record, made last year at Ottawa, by Phoebe.

TEN TEAMS RIDING.

Bedell and Downey Lead in Boston Six-Day Race.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 18.—Ten teams, made up of leading professional bicycle riders, started last night in a six-day race at the Park Square Coliseum. The riding will occupy two and a half hours each evening, except Saturday, when it will last from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m.

At the end of the two and a half hours riding, the seven teams were in the lead. The only shift in the make-up of the teams was the substitution of Dennis Connolly of Everett for Charles Holbrook of Boston.

Many Sleepless Nights, Owing to a Persistent Cough, Relief Found at Last.

"For several years past my wife has been troubled by a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance, and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared, and has not manifested itself since. This remedy is for sale by all druggists."

BOB DUNBAR AND LABATT

Will Play Off International Curling Event at Minneapolis.

Stocking and Labatt Defeated, Stocking Showing Up Well.

Winneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The International event has developed into a fight between St. Paul and Minneapolis, for Dunbar and Brae were the victors, their opponents calling the game off at the end of the tenth ends. Dunbar beat Labatt, Minneapolis, by 17 to 6, the game not being in doubt at any time. The game between Orde, Minneapolis, and Stocking, Duluth, was not so one-sided, the score being 15 to 8 in favor of the Minneapolis man. The scores:

Dunbar 320330312-17
Labatt 010020300-6

Orde 202231021-15
Stocking 201000040-6

This was the first time the Americans ever won this International event, but in the first round, being out of all competitions. The decision to play the game was made by the St. Paul rink, which was the only one to show up. The game was played at the Minneapolis rink, which was the only one to show up. LEAVE FOR LONG TRIP

Northern Hockey Team on Tour of Middle West.

Will Play Houghton, Two Soos, Detroit and Cleveland.

With the championship of the Northwest to defend, the Northern hockey team will leave tonight for Houghton, where they will play the first game of a series of four, with the best teams in the United States, west of Pittsburgh. Friday night the boys will play at the Canadian Soo; Saturday night at the American Soo; next Monday night at Detroit, and their trip will end with a game at Pittsburgh, Feb. 26.

The boys haven't entire confidence in their ability to win all of the games. They have shown strength during the past season, which their supporters did not dare expect, and their victory over Houghton here, a week ago, showed the possibilities of the trip to start tonight. Victories all through would give the boys the undisputed championship of the West, and they are going high after the title.

The Houghton team, which will be played tomorrow night, is one of the hardest propositions on the trip. The Houghton boys are a hard one for Houghton to take. It was unexpected, and thus more of a shock. The Houghton boys are a hard one for Houghton to take. It was unexpected, and thus more of a shock. The Houghton boys are a hard one for Houghton to take. TRAINSON BRANCHROADS ARE ABANDONED OWING TO SEVERITY OF BLIZZARD Severe Storm Prevails in Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

Heavy Fall of Snow is Accompanied by a Fierce Gale.

Little Better at Chicago, But Traffic Still Badly Impeded.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 19.—The blizzard which swept down upon the lower portion of Michigan from the west, yesterday afternoon, still prevails with great severity. And already the snowfall ranges from 8 inches in Detroit to 15 inches in the southwestern section of the state. Accompanied by a 20 to 30-mile an hour wind, the snow is drifting badly through the country districts and roads are badly blocked. Trains are late everywhere. Kalamazoo reports that the Lake Shore railway has entirely abandoned traffic on its branch through there today. Interurban lines in southwestern Michigan are having a desperate fight to get cars through.

SURGEONS CUT WOMAN'S THROAT

Dangerous Operation for the Cure of "Grave's Disease."

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, whose nervous system collapsed after she had netted $57,000 for charity by working night and day managing the famous fete of the "Streets of Paris," was reported to be in "splendid condition" today at the Augustana hospital, following a surgical operation, which was performed as a last resort. The operation involved cutting Mrs. Coleman's throat. Mrs. Coleman suffered from what is known as "Grave's disease," one of the so-called mysteries of the medical profession. Its symptoms are protruding eyes, tremor, an extraordinary rapid pulse and an enlargement of the thyroid gland. The operation to cure the ailment is the removal of the greater part of the thyroid gland, and is extremely dangerous, as the thyroid gland lies between the external and internal jugular veins. At the hospital it is hoped that the operation in Mrs. Coleman's case will not only effect a complete cure, but will leave no appreciable mark upon her neck. The scar, if there is one, will be just a thin line that ordinarily would be completely hidden in the natural fold of the skin. Mrs. Coleman, her physicians say, will be able again to wear décolleté gowns if she so desires.

WOULD OUST STANDARD OIL

German Government is Thinking of Creating Petroleum Monopoly.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—The imperial treasury department is considering the possibility of a government petroleum monopoly. No decision has yet been reached, but experts continue to study plans for the taking over of the business in Germany of the Standard Oil company, as well as that of this company's Russian and Roumanian competitors. Baron von Zedlitz, leader of the Free Conservatives in the Prussian diet, who has made a special study of the subject, says the empire would have to make an outlay of $18,000,000 for oil plants, tanks and the necessary tank steamers and cars, and that yearly profits of from $10,000,000 to $12,500,000 would be expected. The baron is of the opinion that the government could deal successfully with the probable refusal of the Standard Oil company to supply crude petroleum at a reasonable rate, and he thinks the requirements of the government in American oil would be supplied by the Texas rivals of the Standard company. Experts have found that the oils of Roumanian, Galician and Russian cannot be used successfully with the burners generally employed in Germany, without a considerable mixture of American petroleum; consequently the projected monopoly must include the buying of about 200,000 tons of American oil a year.

The imperial treasury finds this matter full of difficulties, but its examination will be continued along with the study of the possibilities of creating a state monopoly in alcohol.

NATAL ACT IS INVOKED

Jap Immigrants Fined and Imprisoned in British Columbia.

The Ottawa Government Will Bring Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 19.—A dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer from New Westminster, B. C., says: The Natal act, passed unanimously by the provincial government, was tested yesterday, when the two Japanese from Portland, who, on Friday last, insisted on entering British Columbia, were fined $500 each and sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment. This is the full penalty under the act.

Okasaki and Nakai, the men chosen by the Japanese government to make the test, were given the option of putting up two sureties and $250 each, that they would leave the country immediately. They refused this chance of escape, as instructed by their counsel, and will continue the fight on appeal.

Neither man can speak a word of English, and both were clearly attempting to enter the country in defiance of the act. Counsel for the provincial government asked that full penalty be imposed; that the sentence might be a salutary one.

Before Chief Justice Hunter, counsel for the Japanese, who is really acting at the instance of the Ottawa government, will initiate habeas corpus proceedings.

CASHIER SWANBY TAKES HIS LIFE

Washburn Banker Swallows Poison Because of Family Troubles.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An investigation by the accounts of Ole P. Swanby, who committed suicide by taking poison at Washburn yesterday, shows that he was all right. He was cashier of the Northern State bank at Washburn for twelve years. He was found dead yesterday. The coroner's investigation in progress today shows suicide with family trouble as the cause.

ONE WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH, ANOTHER DIES.

Winteret, Iowa, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Stinson, 96 years of age, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roe Deeter, here, last night. Mrs. Albert Mills, a neighbor, dropped dead in an excited crowd while watching the fire. Mrs. Deeter, daughter of Mrs. Stinson, was badly burned about the hands and face. Deeter was slightly injured.

REPLY OF JAPANESE

To Memorandum on Emigration Handed to American Ambassador.

Said to Agree in General Terms to the Suggestions Made.

Tokio, Feb. 19.—The memorandum of the Japanese government in reply to that of the United States on the subject of emigration, mentioned yesterday by the Associated Press, was handed to Ambassador O'Brien today.

It is understood that it agrees in the general terms with a number of suggestions made by the American government and requires a further restriction of emigration, by the practical prohibition of laborers. The Japanese government points out that the restrictions already enforced including the closing of emigration to Canada, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands, will make further complaints from America almost impossible.

Every evidence goes to prove that the Japanese government has been unsparing in its efforts to avoid further complications arising from the emigration question, but the government is facing a powerful opposition from the emigration companies who are behind a proposed resolution in the diet to curtail the foreign policy of Viscount Hayashi, minister of foreign affairs, toward China, America and Canada.

Should the resolution be introduced in the diet, it will probably be defeated by a narrow margin. Its passage would certainly entail the resignation of the cabinet. Should the cabinet be changed, the next informed Japanese believe that a new administration would closely follow the emigration policy of Minister Hayashi.

Ex-Ambassador Aoki, since his arrival, has not called upon the foreign office nor has he submitted a report upon the situation at Washington, but has assumed an attitude of unfriendliness to Minister Hayashi. It is believed that Aoki is joining forces opposing the foreign office.

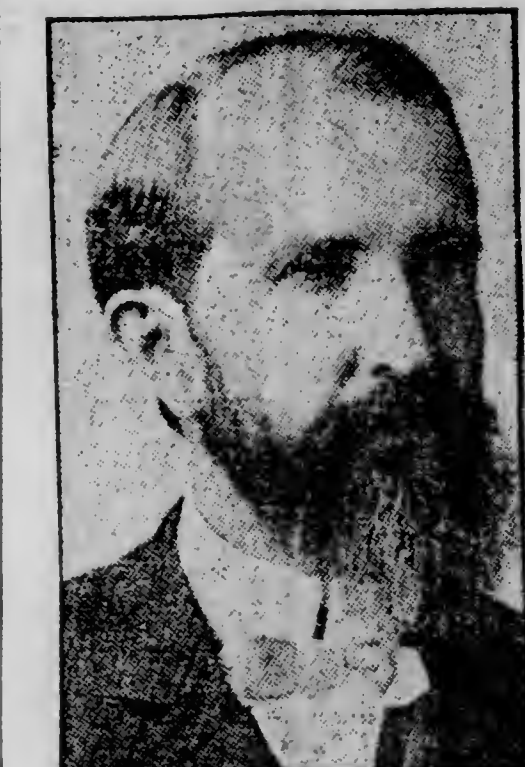

ACTOR DROPS DEAD.

Grand Junction, Colo., Feb. 19.—Hal Newton Carlyle of New York, an actor of national prominence, filling one of the leading roles in "The Wizard of Love," company, dropped dead here last night, just as he was about to go on the stage for the second act. Heart disease caused his death. He was 65 years of age.

British Scientist Tells What Ultimate Effect Would Be.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Dr. D. J. Spencer, the British scientist, who was commissioned by the geological survey of Canada to make an investigation of the Niagara Falls problem, discussed today in an interesting manner the effect of the utilization of its waters by power plants upon the scenic beauty of that natural wonder. At the instance of the American Civic Federation, Dr. Spencer has appeared before the house rivers and harbors committee, and presented facts and figures to show what effect the request of the Ontario Power company, for a power franchise, to develop which would require 40,000 cubic feet of water per second, would have on the falls.

It was contended by Dr. Spencer that this request is from 20 to 25 (Continued on Page 7, Fifth Column.)

HE HANDLED DIRTY MONEY; IS NOW DEAD

New York, Feb. 19.—John McD. Hopkirk is dead as the result of handling poisoned money. Mr. Hopkirk was manager of Mills Hotel No. 2, and from the money which he handled he contracted malignant scarletina. Mr. Hopkirk acted as cashier of the hotel, in which cheap lodgings are given to the poor, and in that capacity handled hundreds of dirty, germ-laden bills coming from the slums of the city. The physicians say there is no doubt that the disease was communicated by means of these dirty bills. Mr. Hopkirk was well known in charitable work throughout the city.

Judges in Stoessel Case Prepare for Long Deliberation.

Quite a Struggle Anticipated in Reaching a Verdict.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 19.—The court which has been trying Lieut. Gen. Stoessel for the surrender of Port Arthur to the Japanese, retired for deliberation at noon today, ordering Gen. Stoessel and the other defendants in the court-martial proceedings, Gens. Fock and Reiss, to appear Feb. 20 at 11 o'clock in the morning, when sentence is expected to be pronounced.

Sentries have been stationed at the doors leading to the judge's room, which has been provided with beds, etc., indicating that the judges anticipate quite a struggle in their efforts to reach a verdict.

Yesterday the prosecution waived the privilege of putting in any rebuttal to the defense. The last word was given to the accused general, who uttered only a few sentences in a firm voice and shouldered the entire responsibility for the surrender of Port Arthur.

"If the court decides that the surrender was a crime," he concluded, "I ask for the death sentence."

LITTLE GIRL KILLED.

She Attempted to Cross the Tracks at Fairchild, Wis.

Fairchild, Wis., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attempting to cross the railroad tracks in front of a rapidly approaching train, here, yesterday afternoon, Amanda Moe, aged 12, was struck by the pilot of the engine and hurled to her death. A freight train had just passed and the child evidently thought she could cross ahead of the passenger, which came thundering along. She was apparently bewildered and unable to get out of the way. The fatality appears to have been unavoidable.

Judge Morris Renders Important Decision in Ejectment Suit.

Court Holds Murphy-Dorr-Flinn Interests Have No Title.

Disputed Land is Held to be Public Domain.

Judge Page Morris of the United States circuit court has denied the writ of ejectment prayed for by the Murphy-Dorr-Flinn interests against Melinda Tanner, William Shea and E. L. Raab, settlers on public domain about Cedar Island lake, in this county. The decision, which is a very important one, was rendered orally last evening, following a two-weeks' trial of the ejectment cases.

The plaintiffs in the actions are William H. Murphy, Elsie H. Flinn and Selwyn Eddy, as executors and trustees under the will of Simon J. Murphy, deceased, and George O. Robinson, Elsie Flinn and Temple E. Dorr. The defendants in the three ejectment suits were Melinda Tanner, William H. Shea and E. L. Raab.

The gist of Judge Morris' decision is that the plaintiff owners of lots adjoining the Howe meander line, did not acquire any more territory by reason of the Folsom survey, and the 200 acres of land in dispute is held to belong to the government and cannot be taken away from the defendant settlers, who have first claim of the same when the land is surveyed.

Before the writ could issue the plaintiff had to prove their title to the land in dispute, and this, the court holds, they have utterly failed to do.

Judge Morris' decision is contrary to a ruling made by former Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, and to a recent ruling by Secretary of the Interior Garfield. The court takes the position that the land department had no authority to run a meander line which (Continued on Page 7, Sixth Column.)

RELEASED AND ORDERED AWAY

Dr. Dubouchet Must Leave Russia Inside of Ten Days.

Odessa, Feb. 19.—Dr. Dubouchet, the American citizen, who was arrested recently in Odessa on the charge of being connected with the revolutionary organization, was released today, but he was ordered to leave Russia within ten days.

When Dr. Dubouchet was taken into custody, the police refused him permission to consult the American consul. The matter was then taken up by Ambassador Riddell at St. Petersburg and the foreign office promised that the prisoner would be allowed to talk with the representative of his country.

As a result, Alfred W. Smith, the American vice consul, secured the release of Dr. Dubouchet. He probably will join his wife in Switzerland. Mrs. Dubouchet is a Russian woman of noble birth. Her maiden name was Orloff. It has been declared that she spent a large part of her fortune in aiding the Russian revolutionary movement. Dr. Dubouchet, who has lived in Odessa for several years, was arrested on the order of the governor general.

ALL ABOUT A PET CAT

Supreme Court of New York Must Decide Its Ownership.

New York, Feb. 19.—The appellate division of the supreme court has been called upon to decide the ownership of a cat. It seems that the cat originally belonged to an actress, who, when she left town, turned the animal over to the restaurant where she was in the habit of taking her meals. The restaurant belonged to Paul Mortimer Brown, and in his employ as cashier was Miss Louise Mall, who was friendly with the woman who owned the cat. Some time after the cat arrived at the restaurant, Miss Mall married Max Doring. They went to Germany on a wedding tour, and when they returned, the former cashier remembered the cat and decided that it would be an adornment to her home. So Doring went to the restaurant and carried the cat away. Brown promptly had Doring arrested, but he was discharged, and the next day brought suit against Brown for $10,000 for false arrest. A jury awarded him $700, and the case goes to the appellate division on an appeal by Brown. Brown says he will carry the case through all the courts in the land before he will pay the $700. In the meantime the cat has disappeared.

GILLETTE HEARS OF THE COURT'S DECISION.

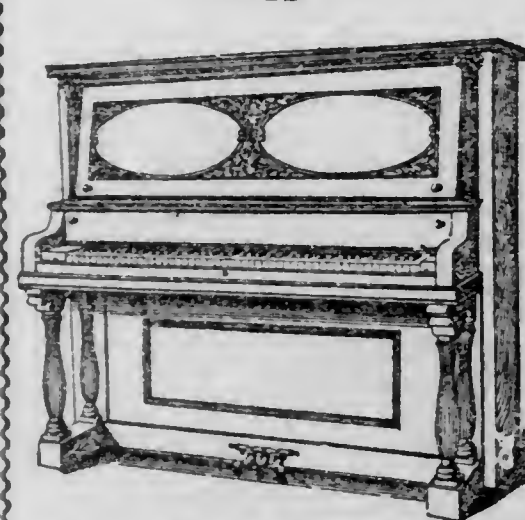

Auburn, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Chester Gillette, under conviction for the murder of Grace Brown, has been informed of the decision of the court of appeals, affirming the verdict of the lower court. Warden Benham has not been officially notified of the court's action, but when he received a long telegram this morning for Chester from his mother, he decided to inform the condemned man at once. Gillette was talked with in his cell. The prisoner did not show the least emotion, but asked to be allowed to confer with his attorneys as soon as possible to arrange for some future action. After expressing sympathy, she urged her son not to be discouraged, as she had hopes of taking the case to a higher court. This afternoon Chester will receive a visit from his sister, Hazel, who lives in this city.

EPIDEMIC AT ITS EBB

Diphtheria Situation is Better Than Since Early Last Spring.

More Cases of Smallpox Now Than for Several Months.

There is less diphtheria in Duluth now than there has been for six months, according to the statements of the officials of the health department. But thirty cases are now under the care of the department, nine of those at St. Mary's hospital and most of the others are in the convalescent stage. Dr. Murray and his assistants are rejoicing in the situation, which is more satisfactory than it has been since the exodus from the lumber camps flooded Duluth with the disease last spring.

"It is a significant fact that the contagious ward of St. Mary's hospital is filled to its capacity of nine," said Dr. Murray this morning. "We have not been in better shape, as far as diphtheria is concerned, since last spring, when the lumberjacks brought it to us, yet the hospital has all the cases it can handle. One can imagine how conditions were when the epidemic could be made for the contagious disease hospital."

Scarlet fever, which is usually prevalent to a more or less extent, is also at its lowest ebb at present, only seven cases in the city. The number is exceptional in such a infectious disease among children and the members of the department are congratulating themselves on the city's freedom from it.

The smallpox situation is not so satisfactory, however, although the health officials claim the disease is well in hand, and nothing approaching an epidemic exists in the city. There are more cases now than there has been for some time, both in the detention hospital and in private residences, but they are all well under control and in no danger of making the disease widespread.

As a rule, the smallpox existing is of a mild form, but there are some cases at the detention hospital which are more severe than any seen for some years in Duluth. Most of the people so afflicted are transients, who have never been vaccinated, and on account of the severity of their cases, need careful attention.

Several cases have been brought to light lately of people trying to cover up cases of smallpox. One woman in West Duluth fought the health department men, when they were called there by neighbors. Six children were afflicted with the disease, and their mother attempted to head off treatment of them. She said she didn't care for the entire city and wouldn't have a physician in the house, but her objections were overcome. People are becoming more careful and reporting cases of smallpox brought to their attention so that much of the disease, which was formerly covered up, is being brought to light.

In all cases possible, the patients are being removed to the detention hospital, but when they insist on remaining at home, the family is quarantined and the card goes up.

LID ON TIGHT AT CHISHOLM

Marshal Madden Says Saloonkeepers Are Finding Their Keys.

"We're having an awful time getting the saloonkeepers to find the keys to their doors," said Marshal Dennis Madden of Chisholm, who was in Duluth today to get George Miller arrested yesterday at the union station, and held for the Chisholm authorities. "Nearly every saloonkeeper in Chisholm had thrown his keys into a well, I guess. Some of them hadn't looked for their keys for a long time. But we're getting them, all right. Election day, every Joe pick and crowbar in town, was working behind a door, to hold it in place. There wasn't a leak anywhere, and we'll keep it that way, too."

Marshal Madden will leave this afternoon for Chisholm, taking Miller. The man was arrested yesterday by Special Officer Kenney at the union station, as he claimed a grip from the baggage room. He is charged with grand larceny in the theft of a diamond ring and a watch, which he is said to have obtained from a jewelry store under false pretenses. The watch was found on him, but he didn't have the ring. He is believed to have hidden it in Chisholm, and will probably divulge the hiding place when he arrives at the range town.

Mrs. W. A. Warnecka President of Women's Label League.

Fifteen Duluth Women Forming Organization in Superior.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Women's Label League, in Steinway hall yesterday, the following officers were elected: Mrs. W. A. Warnecka, president; Miss Nellie Stewart, vice president; Mrs. M. J. Wollin, recording secretary; Mrs. J. R. Dempsey, financial secretary; Mrs. E. Sylvester, treasurer.

The meeting was very largely attended, and the hall was filled to its capacity. Great interest was shown in the proceedings, and it is believed by officers that the organization will be a big success from the start.

Addresses were made by George B. Howley, president of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, who installed the officers; Henry Perrault, president of the Federated Trades assembly, who presided at the meeting; and Mrs. Warnecka, the newly-elected president. Brief talks were also given by several other women present.

The union label movement is not by any means to be confined to Duluth. This afternoon Mr. Howley and a delegation of fifteen women went to Superior, where a meeting had been called for the purpose of perfecting the organization of a league of a similar character. The Duluth and Superior leagues will work together in the boycotting of all stores that do not furnish union made goods wherever possible.

MEASURE IS PRESENTED

By Knox to Establish System of Postal Savings Banks.

He Believes They Will Encourage Economy and Thrift.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Senator Knox today introduced a bill to establish a system of postal savings banks. The bill embodies the plan outlined by Postmaster General Meyer in his annual report and which he has advocated in public addresses as being calculated to encourage economy and thrift, and to afford a place of deposit free from any possibility of doubt or suspicion for vast sums of money which might be otherwise hoarded and kept out of circulation through ignorance or lack of confidence.

The bill authorizes the postmaster general to establish a system of postal savings banks comprised of such money order offices as he may designate to that purpose. Accounts may be opened and deposits made in any postal savings bank established under this act by any person of the age of ten years or over in his own name, by a married woman in her own name and from any control or interference by her husband, by a trustee as such on behalf of another person, by a parent, guardian, or other person for the benefit of a child under ten years of age, or by any charitable or benevolent society or association.

Can Have But One Account.
Provided, that no person or organization shall have more than one postal savings account, except that a trustee, parent, guardian, or other person may have an individual account and an account in his representative capacity for each person or child for whom whom he may be entitled to open an account.

The bill further provides that such postal banks shall receive deposits of money in even dollars, with $1 as a minimum, and postmasters are authorized to make daily reports to the postmaster general, who will forward to the treasurer a written document of its receipts. Deposits are not liable to seizure or detention under legal processes against the depositor, and such funds are exempt from federal and state taxes at the rate of 2 per cent per annum is allowed deposited in the postmaster general's office. These national deposits are to be in the immediate vicinity of postal banks by which the money is drawn as a safeguard against centralization of currency and as a means of facilitating the return of currency to the channels of trade. National banks are prohibited from receiving any compensation for cashing or collecting any checks or any other service in connection with postal banks. Withdrawals of deposits may be made at any time subject to certain regulations. The bill further provides an appropriation of $300,000 to give it effect.

W. C. Le Crone Dead.
The death of W. C. Le Crone, for twenty-three years connected with the St. Paul Pioneer Press manufacturing department, is announced. Mr. Le Crone was a frequent visitor to Duluth, and had many friends here. Three years ago he was compelled, on account of ill health, to retire from service on the road and since then has been in the office. Until that time he lived at Fairbault, where his son, John Le Crone, now lives. His health continued to grow weaker, and on Feb. 6 he was taken to the Rochester hospital. Two operations were performed. Mr. Le Crone was born in Southern Minnesota seventy years ago.

Desman Case on Trial.

The personal injury case of Peter Desman against Bailey Bros. is being tried in Judge Dibble's room today. Desman seeks to recover $100,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received while he was employed as a brakeman by the defendant company at the Leveaux mine, near Hibbing, last August. Desman claims that he was compelled to work overtime and that exhausted by his long hours of service he sat down to rest on some cars and his foot was crushed so that it had to be amputated.

Case Is Transferred.

The $50,000 personal injury suit brought against the Northern Lumber company by John Skender has been transferred from district court to United States circuit court, upon petition of the defendant. Skender claims he lost a foot through the negligence of the lumber company.

Diklich Case on Trial.

The personal injury case of Thomas Diklich against the Adriatic Mining company is on trial in Judge Cuth's room. Diklich claims to have been injured while working in the bottom of the shaft of a mine, and damages $50,000. He alleges that the cage was lowered on him, without any previous warning, so that he could get out of the way. According to Diklich he had worked in the mines but six days before he was hurt. He claims to have been unfamiliar with the methods. Capt. C. C. Teare represents Diklich and E. C. Kennedy the mining company.

DIVIDEND IS PASSED

Calumet & Arizona Directors Postpone Action on It.

Share Market Acts Rather Well Toward the Close.

Directors of Calumet & Arizona passed the dividend at their meeting today in Calumet. This came somewhat as a surprise as it was expected in many quarters that a dividend of $1 would be declared. The directors decided to postpone action on a dividend until their next meeting.

Calumet & Arizona was rather weak, going off from $36 to $35. It closed at $36 bid.

Directors of Butte Confection, who met yesterday afternoon in New York, passed the dividend on that stock. The previous dividend was 10 cents. Confection opened at $16.55, declined to $16, rallied to $16.50 and closed at $16.25 bid and $16.50 asked.

Considering everything, the market acted rather well. During latter part of the day, prices showed improvement and some of the shares were a little higher than yesterday at the close.

North Butte opened at $41, declined to $40.75 and closed at $41 bid and $41.50 asked. Amalgamated opened at $46, declined to $45.125, rallied to $46.25 and closed at $46.125 bid and $46.25 asked.

Superior & Pittsburg went off from $11.875 to $11.625 and closed at $11.625 bid and $11.75 asked. Other early issues were rather weak. Denn-Arizona sold at $5.50 and $5.75 and closed at $5.25 bid and $5.50 asked. Globe sold at $5.35 and $5.50 and closed at $5.35 bid and $5.50 asked.

Copper Queen of Idaho was traded in at $12.75 and closed at $12.50 bid and $12.75 asked; Calumet & Arizona at $37 and closed at $35 bid and $37 asked; Butte & Superior at $7.25 and closed at $7.25 bid and $7.50 asked; and Butte-Biddeford at $7 and closed at $7 bid.

Black Mountain sold at $4 and closed at $3.75 bid and $4 asked.

TO COUNTERACT ITS EFFECT

Meeting Called by Business Men Opposed to Prohibition.

Because plans for additions to one of the local breweries have been abandoned as a result of the growing agitation for prohibition, local business interests indirectly affected by the anti-liquor agitation, which seems to be sweeping over the country, will hold a meeting at the Spaulding hotel tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, to discuss the situation and take such steps as may be deemed advisable to counteract the prohibition movement.

About 200 invitations, it is claimed, have been sent to business men of the city and other persons who might be interested in the matter, and quite a large attendance is expected.

The alonekeepers, it is said, are in no wise interested in the meeting to be held tomorrow.

It is probable that a campaign against the growing prohibition sentiment will be outlined at the gathering.

LABOR WAR IN ALASKA

Thomas Aitkin Here Looking for Men to Work Tanana Mines.

Two Thousand Workers Wanted to Break Rule of Federation.

A vigorous effort is being made by the mine owners of the Tanana mining district of Alaska to break the control exercised by the Western Federation of Miners employed in all the gold mines of the district. Thomas Aitkin, of Fairbanks, the largest city in Alaska, which is in the heart of the Tanana district, is in Duluth today looking for mining workers to break the strike that has been called by order of the federation.

Two thousand men are wanted by the mine owners. They are willing to pay the men $5 a day for six months' work. They will guarantee all men making the trip to the Tanana district steady employment from April 1 until Oct. 1. Board is furnished with the $5 a day.

The miners in the Tanana district struck for eight hours work and $5 per day. According to Mr. Aitkin, the mine owners agreed to the eight-hour scale, but refused to pay an increased wage scale for the shorter work day. This refusal precipitated the strike. Unless men are imported before the work season starts in June, a great shrinkage in the gold output will mark the coming season.

With sufficient men to work the mines, Mr. Aitkin says that $5,000,000 will be taken from the mines in the Tanana district. If they are unable to get the men they are looking for in the parts of the country, it is likely that $5,000,000 will about represent the total output of the mines.

The strike in the Tanana district has been in effect for some time. The Western Federation has organized the mine workers of the district and started the strike. Men coming to Fairbanks have been deported by the strikers, and at one time it was thought necessary to call out the United States troops stationed in Alaska. It is to establish the open shop that the representatives of the Tanana Mine Owners' and Operators' association are coming to the United States in the quest of mine workers.

Mr. Aitkin says it is not necessary for a man to have a knowledge of mining to work in the Tanana mines. The work, for the most part, is common labor. Any able-bodied man can do the work required. Mr. Aitkin says they have nothing against the union, but they refuse to be dictated to, or refuse to be told that they can only employ union labor.

Other agents of the mine workers are endeavoring to enlist workers in other parts of the country. Mr. Aitkin will remain in Duluth about a week if he believes there is any chance to take some men back with him. The coming season promises to be one of the largest in the history of the Tanana district, if sufficient men can be

CONCERNING WOMEN

The club women of the city are greatly interested in the appearance here Saturday evening of Judge Benjamin B. Lindsay of Denver, the man who is known throughout the country for his splendid work among the delinquent boys who are brought before him in his juvenile court in his home city. Judge Lindsay will lecture at the First Methodist church Saturday evening with "The Misfortunes of Mickey" as his subject. Judge Lindsay has appeared before the annual meeting of the state federation of women's clubs, and many of the local club women were among his auditors. With the questions which are now facing Duluth for the treatment of its delinquent children, it is felt that his visit is most timely.

It is desired by some of the prominent club women to arrange a mass meeting for Sunday, if possible, but no plans can be made until Judge Lindsay arrives in the city Saturday.

New York Success.

Word has come to Duluth of the success in New York of a former Duluthian, Nicholas Murphy, who will be remembered by many of his former friends in this city, has made a musical success in the East. He is a soloist at St. Patrick's Catholic church, and Saturdays he sings at the services of one of the synagogues of New York city. He is heard in recitals and oratorios also. Mr. Murphy is known professionally as Senior Nicholas.

Ibsen Class.

The first meeting of the Ibsen class of the Twentieth Century club will be held tomorrow evening at the club room of the library. The reading of "Peer Gynt" will occupy the attention of the class. Miss Laura Frankenstein is reader. The Archer translation will be used, and the meetings will be held promptly at 10 o'clock.

Bridge Parties.

Mrs. J. G. Ketchum has hosted at a bridge party this afternoon at her home in St. Elmo flats. Mrs. Ketchum will entertain again Saturday afternoon and Sunday evening.

Mrs. E. F. Burg will entertain at bridge tomorrow afternoon at her home, 215 West Third street.

Ionic Dance.

The members of the Ionic Social club will entertain at the fourth of a series of dancing parties Friday evening of this week at Masonic temple. The parties have been among the most delightful of the winter, and the one Friday evening.

What Retail Markets Offer.

Oatmeal, 10 cents a package.
Rice, 12 1/2 cents a lb.
Cornmeal, 10 cents a package.
Peanuts, 15 cents a package.
Pancake flour, 10 cents a package.
Bananas, 25 cents a dozen.
Ham, 30 cents a pound.
Perfectly fresh eggs, 24 cents a dozen.
Innovations are welcomed most slowly, perhaps, in the household. The woman who has watched her mother "beat up" pancakes in a good old-fashioned way, with eggs, milk and flour, and stuff, or who has helped at the office of starting a buckwheat mixture that is to last for the rest of the winter, and who has in her own life, as mistress of an establishment, done just what she could to look more askance at any mixture which claims to make perfectly good cakes after you add what a caterer and serve. The fact that the cakes are lifted from the griddle, brown and tender, hot and tasty, does not mean a particle of difference. The way that any conscientious housekeeper is going to make pancakes is to start with the first old-fashioned way, and the rest will follow. Isn't it foolish?

Danforth's face as she went into the parlour.

But the smile faded as she looked round the familiar room. The trail of the mover was already upon it. The jack-out of the carpet, and the bookcase was emptied and its contents piled in a corner.

The handsome furniture—much too handsome and aristocratic in its stately old-fashioned style—stood in the room with its cheap, glaring, gilt paper and gaudy red-and-black cushions.

The furniture had been the sole legacy left Mr. Danforth by the will of his Aunt Deborah, an eccentric old lady who had practically adopted him as a boy, brought him up in her own home, and turned him out without a penny when he declined to marry to please her and did marry to please himself.

His wife was an orphan, with a pleasant family of any pretensions to respectability in the staid little town. And the Danforth name had been one of the most aristocratic there for many years.

"I was born," Frances had declared the evening before, sitting on the porch in the soft April moonlight, with her lover on her steps below her. "Then when Cousin Zebadiah and the cousins took me in spite of all our pinching and planning all the years I was growing up, what a nice little home we had. The next year we had to move to this place, that I might say something against, but won't, because—well, because I won't, Dick."

But there's nothing but the love of a rent in favor of the house we're going to," she ended. "It's cramped and shabby and inconvenient in every way. When I think how far below the old home we've got in only three years, I—really here we shall find ourselves moving to the poor farm one of these springs."

She tried to laugh, but she finished with a sudden catch in her bright voice. She was prosaically, and tired out with all the preparatory packing and tearing up she had done that day. Only strong determination kept her from tears.

If you would move on my house one of these springs—or sooner," began Dick Steadman, reaching up to take one of his sweetheart's small brown hands, that were pretty in spite of all the work they had to do.

But Frances pulled it impatiently away. "You couldn't afford to marry my whole family, Dick, even if you'd let me go, and they can't possibly spare me as maid-of-all-work and general manager long as money comes in so slowly and the children grow out of their clothes so fast."

There! don't let us waste any more time tonight talking of disagreeables or of what we can't do.

If your great-uncle hadn't made such a cruelly unjust will, Dick began again, and again Miss Danforth cut him short.

If wishes were horses, then buggers would ride," she noted absurdly. "My grand-uncle did make her own will to suit herself, as I probably shall if ever I am a wealthy old spinster and able to afford buggies; and what's the harm in that?"

I suggest that you start some pleasant topic this time for our evening's talk, said the old man, who had been growing lower-toned, and her pretty head and his closely, fair one drew quite unnecessarily close to each other as it went on. When she left, she seemed in consideration of her busy tomorrow, there was the brightest of smiles on Miss her eyes, careless who might see her. Dick Steadman saw her afar as he came up the quiet, dimly-lit street, and arrived on a run in his anxiety.

"My dearest girl, what are you doing?" he cried. "Are you hurt? or what has happened?"

Her pink cambric sweeping-cap was wildly askew on her rouged dark hair, and her small, flushed face was wet with tears and smeared with marks from her dusty apron; but she was absurdly pretty in spite of all, with her great, dark eyes moist and shining, and her soft childish mouth trying to keep from quivering.

"I'm not hurt in the least, but my grand-uncle Deborah's writing desk has had an accident, and is a noble wreck in ruinous perfection. Look it up!" with tragic gesture down at the ruins. "Who could deny a tear to such literally fallen grandeur!"

"Glad might do it more good than tears," suggested Dick, critically examining the wreck. "We've been so busy at the store that I couldn't get off to help till now, but I thought that even this late, you might have something for me to do. I'll begin by seeing what can be done for this desk."

Very little could be done for it, evidently. The heavy fall on the stones had fairly split it to pieces. Its spindle legs had sustained several compound fractures; one side was in splinters, the shattered drawers had fallen out, and bits of delicate inlaying lay all about the pavement.

Dick went on piling the pieces methodically at one side; then moving the main part, picked up some papers and rose to give them to Frances. "Your letters will be blowing all over the street if you don't take care," he said.

She accepted them rather curiously. "Letters? There were none in the desk. No one had used it since grand-uncle died. These must be some of hers, crowded out of a drawer and in behind the frame somehow. It can't be any harm to see what they are, though, I suppose."

She unfolded them as she spoke. There was an unimportant receipted bill or two, a tax assessment of the year Miss Deborah died, then a legal-looking sheet of parchment.

"Deborah Danforth, do make and publish with my last will and testament, I read Frances. "Dick, it must be—it can't be—it is another will of hers, and in my father's favor! And is it dated after the one that disinherited him?"

The Danforths moved once more before that spring had deepened into summer. Zebadiah Smith was an honest man, if a hard one, and the new-found will was unimpeachable.

He did not attempt to resist it, and Mr. Danforth was liberal to him in taking his own. And the Danforths moved into Miss Deborah's stately old stone house in time to have Frances married from there.

STRONG RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by New Mexico Republican Committee Endorsing Taft.

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 19.—The New Mexico Republican territorial committee, in session here yesterday, adopted by unanimous vote of the forty-one members present, a strong resolution endorsing the candidacy of William H. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination, and pledging the committee and the Republican organization to do all in their power to further the candidacy. This is equivalent to a delegation instructed for Taft from New Mexico to the national convention. The Republican territorial convention will be held at Silver City, March 21.

LOCKJAW CLAIMS BUTCHER.
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Lydia Paeschke, the Milwaukee girl to whom Senator Manda, a mining king of Leon, Mex., is said to have willed $400,000, will go to Mexico in company with her Chicago attorney, George Donnelly, to contest in person the attempt of the Mexican government to claim the entire estate.

NO FUNDS TO FULFILL LAW

State Board of Health Fails to Certify Important Records.

Wants Clerks of District Courts to Bear the Expense.

The Minnesota state board of health and vital statistics is up against a hard proposition, according to a recent circular letter which Dr. Bracken, the secretary of the board, sent out to the various clerks of the district courts throughout the state.

Under the new vital statistics law, it was provided that the originals of the records of births and deaths from every clerk or recorder in the cities, villages and townships of the state should be filed with the state board of health, and that department should, before the first of February of each year, file a certified copy of these reports with the clerk of the district court in the county from which they were received.

This means that the state board of health should have made certified copies of the reports of about 40,000 births and 20,000 deaths and filed the same in the counties where they belong, before the first of the current month.

The state board of health claims that it was an impossibility for it to accomplish so big an undertaking within the time, and in fact the legislature did not make any provision for paying for the additional clerks entailed, and the department has no funds to carry out the provisions of the law.

In the circular letter sent out the state board of health made a proposition to the clerks of the district courts that the department would certify the records and send them back in bound form, but the clerks would pay for the expense on the basis of 3 cents per record.

On the face of it, looked feasible, as the state board figured that the 3 cents cost per record for certification should come out of the 3 cents per record that the clerks receive as a filing fee.

It has now been developed, however, that in many of the counties where the clerk of the district court is a layman instead of a lawyer, the clerks are not paid a filing fee, and in such cases the plan of the state department, which was based on the fact that the clerk of the district court is a lawyer, is not feasible.

The clerks in the counties on a fee basis claim that the 3 cents per record will come out of their pockets, while the bound copy of the records is likely to be considered as one filing when it is sent to the clerk by the state board, instead of being considered as a separate filing. This means that the clerk would, practically, be cut off from his fees.

The note of alarm to the clerks of the district courts of the state has been sounded by officers of the state board of health, who have been asked for from those counties. It is likely that the association will take some action in the matter as an organization.

Secretary McIntosh of Stillwater, Minn., is understood to have been the first dissident. He has objected to the plan advanced by the state board of health. He has made comment on the board that he would not have any part in it, and has refused to file the records.

The clerk of the district court of St. Louis county is on a salary basis. The fees that he receives on the birth and death records are turned over to the county. If the plan suggested by the state board of health had been adopted, it would mean that the county would have to pay about $100 per year for a bound certified copy of the original records.

The Jumping Off Place.
"Consumption had me in its grasp, and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and I want to say right now, it saved my life. I was a weak, thin, and ailing man, and after taking a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, I was a strong, healthy man again," says George Moore, of Grimsland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds, and for the cure of sore lungs and for preventing pneumonia, New Discovery is supreme. 50c and $1.00 at all druggists. Trial bottle free.

DEATH CLAIMS

MRS. HOOPLE

Former Resident of Duluth Passes Away in St. Paul.

Relatives in this city received news early this morning of the death, at the Mount Park sanitarium, St. Paul, of Mrs. Roy N. Hoople, formerly of Duluth. She had been ill at the sanitarium for the past seven months.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Hoople was Miss Minnie Melning of this city. After her marriage she made her home here for a while, her husband being on the local board of trade. Later, he went to the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, and the family removed to that city.

Mrs. Hoople had been ill for some time and death came shortly before 12 o'clock last night.

She was 33 years of age, and besides her husband and two children, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. W. Melning of this city; four sisters, Mrs. Duncan Buchanan, Mrs. S. H. Boyer, and Misses Clara and Louise Melning; and four brothers, Louis, Henry, Richard and John R. Melning.

The remains will be brought at once to Duluth to Mrs. Melning's home, 217 Second avenue east.

CRUEL MATRON.

Fined for Driving a Carpet Tack Through Boy's Tongue.

Canal Dover, Ohio, Feb. 19.—Pleading guilty to the charge of driving a carpet tack through the tongue of Sampson Fowler, 7 years old, an inmate of the Tuscarawas County Children's home, because he would not confess to the theft of a pencil, Miss Clara Sterling, assistant matron, was fined $10 and the costs by Mayor Deffenbacher. Miss Sterling is a niece of Robert Nugen, superintendent of the institution.

The police chief is authority for the declaration that Miss Sterling admitted calling the child before the school in the home and compelled him to extend his tongue over a chair back while she drove a carpet

HER PHOTOGRAPH BROUGHT FORTUNE

Milwaukee Girl's Face Captivated Wealthy Mexican Mining King.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Lydia Paeschke, the Milwaukee girl to whom Senator Manda, a mining king of Leon, Mex., is said to have willed $400,000, will go to Mexico in company with her Chicago attorney, George Donnelly, to contest in person the attempt of the Mexican government to claim the entire estate.

The Mexican miner, who named Miss Paeschke in the will after having seen a photograph of her in the possession of C. E. Jones, a Milwaukee attorney, left a fortune of $2,000,000. By the terms of the will, which attorneys for the girl say is valid, the government receives $1,600,000. The balance of $400,000 goes to Miss Paeschke, together with a plantation of 300 acres.

"I am sure that I will win out in the fight now," said Miss Paeschke. "I was not at all certain until my Chicago attorney, George Donnelly, told me that the 300 acres will also go to me. If the will is proven good. The government is fighting the will because it does not want the money to leave the country."

"Senator Manda left no relatives, my attorneys have found, and they consider that fact makes it certain that I will get the money. I am going to Mexico in March with Mr. Donnelly. The will is to be brought into court in April."

"I am not planning a home for myself and a future husband, nor am I doing anything foolish like that. I am working just as I was before I heard of the will. Of course I shall do something for my father, but further than that I have made no plans."

CARTIDGE EXPLODED

While Kentucky Postmaster Was Stamping the Incoming Mail.

Versailles, Ky., Feb. 19.—While Assistant Postmaster White was stamping the incoming mail here yesterday a cartridge in an envelope, which was being sent through the mails, exploded. An investigation proved that the letter was one of twenty, and each contained a warning to the party addressed, contained a cartridge and a match. The sender, should the warnings not be heeded.

The letters were from Georgetown, Ky., and were sent alike to members and non-members of the Kentucky Postmaster's Association. In every instance the party addressed is said not to be in sympathy with the idea of raising a crop of tobacco this year.

POSTMASTER GETS FRIGHT WHEN WOMEN DISAPPEAR.

Beaver Dam, Wis., Feb. 19.—Last Sunday the postmaster took his wife and went for a drive in the country. Just before reaching home he turned to speak to the women, and was much surprised to find that he was alone, the being missing. He turned his team around and driving back a mile or more found the women sitting on the porch. He turned his team around and with the robes wrapped around them, patiently waiting for him to come and find them. Fortunately neither of them was injured.

BRYAN ENDORSED

For the Presidency by Democratic Central Committee of Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 19.—William J. Bryan's visit to Columbus yesterday was dignified by the Democratic central committee's endorsing his candidacy for the presidency. Mr. Bryan arrived at the southern hotel while the committee was still in session and upon being introduced to the members, paused long enough to say that he would be feeling throughout the country that our efforts will not be in vain.

Mr. Bryan, the state committee provision in the call for the state convention by which the voters of any county in which there is a registration city may express their preference for a candidate.

This action was taken at the request of Senator James Harrison, who was the nomination of Judson Harmon of Cincinnati, former attorney general of the United States under President Cleveland, and for president. After luncheon with the members, Mr. Bryan addressed the general assembly at the residence of Col. James Kilbourne. Mr. Bryan discussed the general assembly session on the subject of guaranteeing bank deposits. Mr. Ryan was accorded

TAFST AND FORT MAY BE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Writing from Washington, Walter Wellman says that Taft and Fort—such is the latest suggestion for the Republican political ticket. Now that it is coming into the minds of men in the East that Judge Taft is almost a sure winner, there is a possibility of a change of the ticket to the second place on the ticket.

Admiral C. D. Buxton, who is in the councils of the governors of Massachusetts and of New Jersey, figures prominently in the suggestion. He is generally in high favor. There seems to be a prevalent view that the vice presidency would be a good position for him. The Far West will not agree that this is necessary or even logical. The governor of the Far West Governor Fort will stand a good chance.

A CUT

that is to remind you that Washington's birthday comes next Saturday. Last year it was 15 below zero on the 22nd, and history has been known to repeat itself.

We would really like to tell you about all the new suits, top coats, shirts, shoes, hats and other spring goods rapidly accumulating on our shelves and tables, and in our show cases, but there is little sense in trying to rush the season, and most people will be more interested in the cold fact that we are still dishing it, yes—with our little ax.

All our Underwear and all our Overcoats for men and for boys are going at down-to-cost-cut prices, and Mr. Billstein's recent special purchase permits you to be fitted from this week's $8.75 and $12.75 lots, which represent figures far below the actual cost of making the overcoats they purchase.

And there is other good news in sight. Read the Columbia Ad in tomorrow night's Herald, and watch our windows.

Numanville Loses His $10,000 Case Against John Iverson.

Jury Finds Defendant Did Not Cause Plaintiff's Insanity.

The jury in the damage case of Archie Numanville against John Iverson found that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover any of the $10,000 damages claimed by the former by reason of an alleged beating which was alleged to have caused his insanity in the state insane hospital for a period of three months.

The case was on trial for several days, and was given to the jury late yesterday afternoon. A decision was reached by the jury last evening, and a sealed verdict in Iverson's favor was opened in Judge Diboll's room this morning.

Numanville claimed that while he, Iverson and some other men were on a fishing excursion to the Cloquet river, a couple of years ago, Iverson assaulted and struck him several blows with his fist. The plaintiff alleged that the blows caused him to be insane, and that he had to submit to hospital treatment for some time. Iverson denied doing the plaintiff any injury. He admitted slapping Numanville once, because the latter called him a bad name. Iverson's story of the trouble was practically substantiated by the other parties to the fishing trip. The defense claimed that Numanville was insane as the result of the excessive use of intoxicants, and produced expert testimony to support the claim. John J. Jensen, Jr., represented Numanville and Oscar Mitchell defended Iverson.

COLERAINE IS CHOSEN

For the Next Annual Meeting of District Bankers.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Eighth congressional district group of banks, held last evening at the Klitch Club, Coleraine was selected as the place of holding the annual meeting of the banks represented in the district. May 14 was the time decided upon for the meeting. About seventy banks are represented in the Eighth congressional district. The organization is subsidiary to the Minnesota State Bankers' association and holds a meeting each year. Although its interests coincide largely with those of the state association, there are many business interests confined to the northern part of the state that are dealt with independently by the group.

Prominent speakers will be secured to address the meeting. A definite program will be announced later. Those present last evening were: William J. Prince, cashier of the City National bank, president of the group and chairman of the executive committee; J. E. Galarault, Atkin, vice president; George E. O'Connor, Coleraine, secretary and treasurer; J. H. McGilvary, Milaca, and C. B. Kenney, International Falls. A dinner was held after the meeting of the committee.

SALOON MEN SEE VISIONS OF THE 11 O'CLOCK ID

Liquor Cases Now on Trial Believed to be a Beginning.

Attorney Marshall Says There is Something Back of Case.

"We will admit that this is a technical violation of the law, but we will ask the court to render its decision to remember that this case does not begin to end here. It is only the beginning. Unless there were something back of this case, a justice of the peace would have given Mr. Blackwood's technical violation of the law a second thought. After Sergeant Wilcox had visited the saloon, it had been cleared, he would have gone no further unless he wanted to put into motion the wheels of something else." Attorney Alexander Marshall in pleading for George E. Blackwood, charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday.

Realizing that on his case hinged many others, that his license was in jeopardy and that his conviction would mark the upholding of an unrelenting, unwavering enforcement of the liquor laws to their very letter, which is believed to be coming, George E. Blackwood made a desperate effort to secure a favorable decision in his case, which was heard in municipal court this morning, but failing Judge Cutting to believe the evidence showed a violation of the law, that he would be governed solely by the evidence and would find the defendant guilty, fixing his fine at $50 and costs. The next morning, however, Mr. Blackwood's stay of fifteen days was granted.

On Mexican chile con carne, a cayenne pepper concoction served in a cafe over Blackwood's place, the defense was based. In Mr. Blackwood's testimony on the stand, in the testimony of the witnesses, and in the Marshall plea, the defense sought to show that the crowd of men in the saloon when the officers visited it, had already been ordered out, but that some of them had beer and chile con carne, which takes a long time to eat unless a man has an asbestos throat, and they were not forced out before they could finish what they had.

Sergeant Wilcox and Officer Wawick told of visiting Blackwood's place at 27 West Superior street at 12:30 Sunday morning. They entered through the rear door, the west, and testified that the door leading into the saloon was open. There were fifteen or twenty men in the place, with Mr. Blackwood and his bartender behind the bar. There were glasses on the bar, the officers testified, and the men were drinking.

Mr. Blackwood testified that he had locked the front door at "the closing hour," as he expressed it, and told the men it was time to close, and indicated the door to the rear door as the way out. He said nothing was said after "the closing hour," but he did not think it was open to the men on the street. Both saloon before they had disposed of the drinks for which they had paid. Both were careful not to allow any reference to 12 o'clock as the time for locking the front doors get into the records. They referred to "the closing hour" at all times.

Two men, who were in the saloon after 12 o'clock Sunday morning, testified to having opened the door for a drink and Robert Blackwood, a brother of the defendant, said he put the men out and the saloon after the officers appeared.

In his plea, Attorney Marshall said that he declared he was back of the prosecution. He said it had always been the custom of the saloonkeepers if they found them open a few minutes after 12 o'clock, and to give him the same treatment. He pointed to Mr. Blackwood's previous record and sought to lead off to a verdict of guilty.

Two cases, somewhat similar to that of Blackwood, were heard by the court. William Fanta will be tried this afternoon on a charge of keeping the saloon open after 12 o'clock. He is charged with having his place, which is directly opposite the police station, open between 12 and 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Lieutenant Fritze, who is in charge of the station, makes the complaint.

William Krebs, proprietor of the Café, for the time being, 19 West Superior street, was arraigned this morning on a charge of keeping his saloon open on Sunday. He pleaded not guilty, and his case was set for next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

RAILROAD NEWS

A NEW SITE FOR BRIDGE SHORTLY DUE

Will Cross River Below Railroads, and Telegraphers Will Confer on 9-Hour Law.

Steel Corporation Belt General Cut in Wages is Line Will Start Above Not Looked Proctor. for.

The United States Steel corporation's bridge across the St. Louis river will not be located at the site of the old Duluth & Winnipeg structure, just this side of New Duluth, as has been generally supposed, but the attention of the new project found a more logical point for the bridge, a little farther down the river, and it will be built there, although the tracks of the Duluth & Winnipeg transfer & railway company, which is the name of the Steel corporation belt line on the Wisconsin side will operate under, may follow the old roadbed of the Duluth & Winnipeg branch from a point a short distance south of the St. Louis river.

The Duluth & Winnipeg was for several years the ore-hauling branch of the Great Northern, but when the extension to Fosston was completed, the route of the ore trains was changed to that line, and the Duluth & Winnipeg tracks were abandoned. Later they were entirely torn up. For some time after this, the bridge across the St. Louis stood in disrepair, and then it was torn down, and the draw bridge was transported elsewhere. The stone foundations of the structure are still to be seen in good condition. In looking over the ground, men employed by the Steel corporation found a better location for their bridge than the old site, and accordingly a survey was made lower down the river. This explains a survey that mystified launch parties up the St. Louis last summer.

While the Minnesota side of the bridge will not be very far from the Minnesota side of the Wisconsin side, the bridge will be a mile or more below it. The bridge will run about east and west, instead of nearly north and south, as in the former instance, and will cross a considerable area of marsh land before striking the river proper. This brings it in the big bend above the branch house of the Duluth Boat club, located above Spirit lake. Another fact in connection with the Steel corporation's plans, not generally known, is that the belt line that is to connect with all the railroads entering Duluth and Superior, will start right at a point above Proctor, instead of having an end at the site of the bridge. Under this arrangement, ore trains bound for the plant will not pass through Proctor, but will go directly over the hill, west of the town, to the Spirit Lake yards, where extensive terminals will be provided. The belt line will continue on across the hill, make a half circle around Superior, and come to an end at Wisconsin point, as has been previously explained.

REPORTS DENIED.

Missouri Pacific Will Not be Involved in Receivership Proceedings. New York, Feb. 19.—Reports which have been circulated in the West for several days to the effect that a receivership was about to be asked for the Missouri Pacific railroad were given positive denial today by George J. Gould, president of the road. "There is absolutely not a word of truth in these reports or any reports of that kind involving this property," said Mr. Gould. "Receivership proceedings have not been thought of, even dreamed of, and there is not even the most remote possibility that they will be."

ESTABLISH GRADE CROSSINGS.

Council Grants Request of Soo and Wisconsin Central Roads.

The city council, last evening, granted by residents of the Soo and Wisconsin Central roads permission to cross Belknap and Twelfth streets at grade. This action was taken at the recommendation of the special committee appointed to investigate the proposition. The committee was requested to take up the matter of a subway at Belknap street with the railroad engineers, to see if such a plan will be feasible, either when the roads are constructed, or when Belknap street is repaved.

The council sustained the mayor's veto to the resolution providing for the construction of a snow plow in the second ward, the work to be done by residents of the first ward. The veto to the action of the council in authorizing the refunding of certain bonds was sustained, as was also the veto on the amendment to the "tuberculin" ordinance.

The council directed that $1,500 be transferred from the license fund to the fire department fund, the money to be used in purchasing new apparatus at some of the fire halls.

Will Inspect Schools

City Chemist Bulkley has been directed by the board of health, at the request of Superintendent of Schools Maddock, to inspect the health conditions existing at all public schools. It is claimed that in some of the schools children having contagious diseases have attended. The teachers are not always able to detect such cases. Mr. Bulkley has been asked to make his inspection, and report its result, and, if necessary, action will be taken to prevent such conditions.

MEXICAN CARRIES HIS MONEY.

Mexican Herald: Almost any Mexican in professional or business life carries on his person anywhere between $20 and $50. Even the poor Indian in his blanket can more than likely produce more than many foreigners.

The ordinary Mexican professional man will be found to carry sums of money on his person that would surprise the ordinary traveler and even cause him worry were he forced to carry it with him, yet the Mexican never even thinks of it.

It was but a few days ago that an instance of this kind was brought to attention. One Mexican of the middle class asked another in a casual way if he could change a thousand dollar bill. The other pulled out a wallet from his inside pocket and counted out nearly $2000. Time after time this has happened and it seems so uncommon thing for a Mexican of the middle class to carry between 1,000 and 2,000 pesos on his person. The check idea seems to have taken but small hold as yet upon the citizens of Mexico, especially when small amounts of less than $100 are concerned. They consider it much easier to carry cash than to give a check for amounts of $50 and $100, and they claim with some amount of reason that a business deal can be put through with better advantage when the cash is in hand.

Even the Indian in the street carries amounts of cash that would never be supposed to be in his possession. They carry their money in a leather belt, fastened around their bodies inside their trousers. These belts are hollow and are open at one end. Into the open end the Indian slips his pesos or bills until he has the whole full. The belt then is either taken off and hidden away or the bills are changed for larger denominations and still carried around the body. But the Indian is a stickler for "pesos duros" and prefers them to any other class of money except gold.

To the Indian money is money and a bank book stands for nothing. He will accept under any circumstances, because he does not understand it. A coin or paper currency is what he is after, and that is what he keeps his hands on when he gets it.

REAR ADMIRAL THOMAS TAKES CHARGE OF FLEET DURING EVANS' SICKNESS

ADMIRAL EVANS, Whose Continued Ill Health Has Caused Him to Temporarily Resign Command of the Battleship Fleet.

Wireless Message Says "Fighting Bob's" Health is Bad.

American Battleships Appear at the Port of Callao, Peru.

Great Crowds Flock to the Wharves of Peruvian City.

Callao, Feb. 20.—7:45 a. m.—The American battleship fleet has been sighted off this port.

The latest wireless dispatch from the Connecticut says that Rear Admiral Evans is still in poor health and that Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas, commander of the second squadron and third division of the fleet, has assumed charge of the vessels.

From an early hour this morning the street cars coming into Callao were crowded with passengers, who are eager to witness the arrival of the American war vessels.

Washington, Feb. 20.—While not yet formally advised by Admiral Thomas that he has assumed command of the Atlantic fleet, the officials of the navy department were expecting some such announcement as that made by the press on the basis of preceding reports from the fleet on the condition of Admiral Evans. These reports are not inconsistent in indicating that the admiral is suffering from any permanent incapacity, but that he is simply again a victim of rheumatism, from which he has suffered for many years, and which is directly the result of the injury he received at Fort Fisher during the Civil war.

GRAND LODGE OF DEGREE OF HONOR

Ends Annual Convention With the Installation of Officers.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.) The convention of the Minnesota Grand Lodge of the Degree of Honor came to a close late Wednesday morning following the installation of the officers who were elected at the morning and in the early portion of the afternoon sessions.

The lodge adopted a resolution for the collection of a second assessment annually to maintain the reserve fund. Brief addresses were made by the officers following the installation ceremonies.

Officers: Grand chief of honor, Mrs. Elsie Schreder, St. Paul; past grand chief of honor, Mrs. Myra L. Sprague, Long Prairie; grand lady of honor, Anna L. Duffy, Shakopee; grand chief of ceremonies, Celia Stevens, Luverne; grand recorder, Nina Armstrong, Minneapolis; grand collector, Mrs. Frances Buell Olson, St. Paul; grand usher, Dora Burgess, Minneapolis; grand inside secretary, Clara Bender, Buffalo; delegate to supreme grand lodge, Mrs. M. L. Sprague, Mrs. Addie Baker, Minneapolis; Mrs. Anna C. Nelson, Morris.

TO BURN OIL.

Canal Commission Will Use It on Isthmus in Place of Coal.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The isthmian canal commission is about to substitute fuel oil for coal in its various machinery, shops and power houses and, wherever practicable, under its stationary boilers throughout the zone. The oil company which furnishes crude oil to the commission has in operation an eight-inch pipe line across the isthmus with extensive storage tanks at either end. The La Brea electric light plant, located near the Pacific storage tanks of the oil company, has been using fuel oil for several months with an apparent considerable saving. By May 1 it is expected that oil will be used in large quantities on the isthmus.

HIS WIFE IS LOST.

Railroad Man Sends Her Money to Come From Russia.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 20.—L. Bank, employed in the Great Northern roundhouse, has lost his wife somewhere between Grand Forks and Kresville, Russia. Eight months ago he sent her a ticket. After waiting for several weeks he wrote to his father in Russia and learned that his wife had departed for this country in September. It is thought possible that she was lost in New York or is the victim of accident or foul play.

RUSSIAN WRITER IS ADJUDGED INSANE.

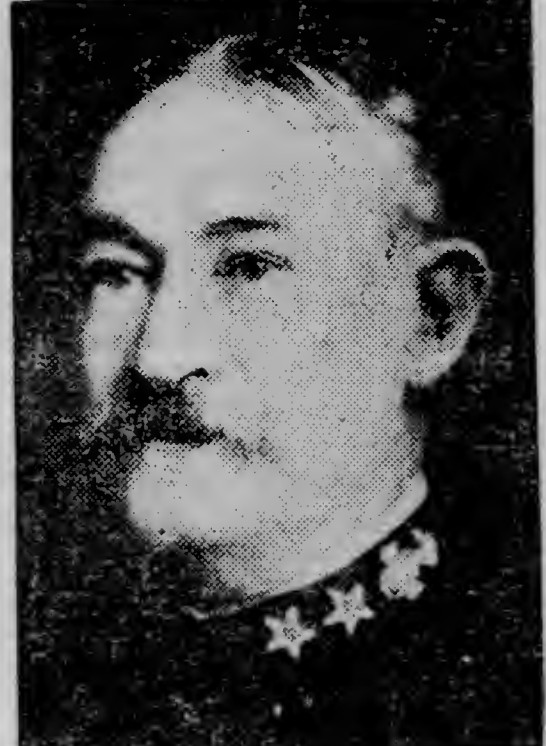

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—R. Livingston, Russian writer, personal friend and follower of Count Leo Tolstoy and a brother of Countess Anna C. Vi-plin of Russia, was adjudged insane in Oakland yesterday because he persistently forced his unwelcome attention on young women students of the University of California. After being adjudged insane, Livingston requested that he be sent to the Napa asylum and the court so ordered.

PIKE AT WOODSTOCK.

North Woodstock, N. H., Feb. 20.—Three business blocks, a hotel and a livery stable, which comprised the larger part of the business section of this town, were destroyed by fire early today at an aggregate damage of approximately $100,000.

BILLIK SENTENCE AFFIRMED.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the Cook county criminal court in the case of Herman Billik, who was found guilty of poisoning a member of a family named Yzai, in Chicago.

ADMIRAL THOMAS, Who Is in Charge of the American Battleship Fleet During the Illness of Admiral Evans.

FAR TOO MANY CABS IN BERLIN

One New Leading Automobile Company Suspends Business.

Berlin, Feb. 20.—The automobile cab business in Berlin is in a very bad way; in fact, the business is so unsatisfactory that one of the leading companies suspended operations this week and is now trying to arrange for a reorganization. The crisis is due to the overproduction of both automobiles and horse cabs. The latter vehicles have increased from 8,000 to 13,000 within the last three years and the number of automobiles also has been materially augmented. Several new automobile companies have appeared in the field, but some of them have been already forced to suspend. The fare in an automobile cab in Berlin for the minimum distance is 19 cents and the companies have found it difficult to earn profits on such a low charge, the expenses for rubber tires and fuel being very heavy.

FIRE AT WOBURN, MASS.

Woburn, Mass., Feb. 20.—Damage estimated at $100,000 was caused today by a fire which destroyed the large department store of James McGrath.

LEAVES $500

For Prizes for Old-Fashioned Spelling Matches at Andover, Mass.

Andover, Mass., Feb. 20.—The will of Vernon Lincoln, just probated, leaves $500 to the treasurer of the town of Andover, in trust, for the purpose of providing prizes for the annual old-fashioned spelling matches to take place here. It is provided that the matches shall take place in a public hall, the contestants being between 10 and 18 years old, the old-fashioned method of "choosing up" to be used. Prizes of $10, $5 and $4 are to be awarded yearly to the three who are the last to be "spelled down."

GREAT NAVY FOR RUSSIA

Admiralty Submits Plans for Building Fleet of Battleships.

All the Work to be Done in Russian Ship-yards.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—Representatives of the Russian admiralty submitted today to the commission of national defense of the duma the financial outline of the much discussed naval program. The matter was discussed with open doors instead of in private as had been expected.

The program is to be completed in 1917, and includes not only the construction of a fleet of battleships, but also a certain amount of hydrographic work at several of the ports of Russia.

The expenditures involved amount to $1,078,000,000 and increase yearly from the $43,500,000 already included in the budget of 1908 for the laying down of four new battleships to a maximum of $125,000,000 in the year 1914. This expenditure then decreases to $55,000,000 in 1918, and the subsequent expenditures are to be maintained at this figure. One of the features of the program is a duplicate complement of guns for every ship to be constructed.

In reply to a question Admiral Wirnus, chief of the general staff of the navy, declared that the Russian yards would be able to handle and complete the entire program, including the installation of turbine machinery and other late developments in naval construction. The first ships called for are to be completed in four years and the others in three years after they are laid down.

An alternative minor program will also be submitted. This provides for the construction of only four battleships and a fleet of smaller vessels. The estimated expenditure under this schedule is $225,000,000.

The commission took no action, and several members advised that the matter be discussed at length before the duma. A complete reorganization of the admiralty is generally held to be essential before the new program can be adopted.

THE HIST IS HIGH AND DRY

Low Tide Leaves Converted Yacht Well on the Beach.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 20.—The converted yacht Hist, which stranded near Cove Point, Chesapeake bay, yesterday, was high and dry this morning, the tide having gone down a foot and a half below yesterday's low water mark. The naval tug Standish was alongside waiting for high water when attempts to release the Hist will be made. The vessel lies in a position sheltered from the fresh north wind that is blowing.

So far as was known at the naval academy at Annapolis, this morning, the submarine Viper, which went aground at the mouth of South river, ten miles below Annapolis yesterday afternoon, was still fast. The torpedo boat Barclay is lying by. No alarm was expressed at the academy for the safety of either craft as the positions are not regarded as being dangerous. It was hoped they would be floated at the next high tide.

KILLED BY TROLLEY CAR.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 20.—While showing a path across the street car tracks in front of his residence yesterday, W. Chapman, a well known pioneer resident, was struck behind the ear by the corner of an approaching street car and killed.

SENATOR LATIMER

Of South Carolina Dies From Peritonitis at Washington.

Underwent an Operation Last Saturday for Appendicitis.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senator Asbury C. Latimer of South Carolina died at Providence hospital, at 9:15 a. m. today, of peritonitis. He had been at the hospital since Sunday last, when he underwent an operation for appendicitis. It was then discovered that he was suffering from a far more serious ailment. The levels had become twisted, and his condition was found to be such that surgeons held out little hope for his recovery. He rallied, however, and his progress was satisfactory until last evening, when he steadily began to grow worse. At midnight it appeared that recovery was impossible.

The members of the senator's family were with him when he died, having been informed that there was little hope that he would survive the night. Col. Randall, sergeant at arms of the senate, at once made arrangements for the removal of the body to the Latimer home at Belton, S. C. The journey will be begun tonight.

Senator Latimer will announce the death of his colleague when the senate convenes today, after which the senate will immediately adjourn. A committee will be appointed by the vice president to accompany the body to South Carolina.

SCHOOL BOY DROWNS.

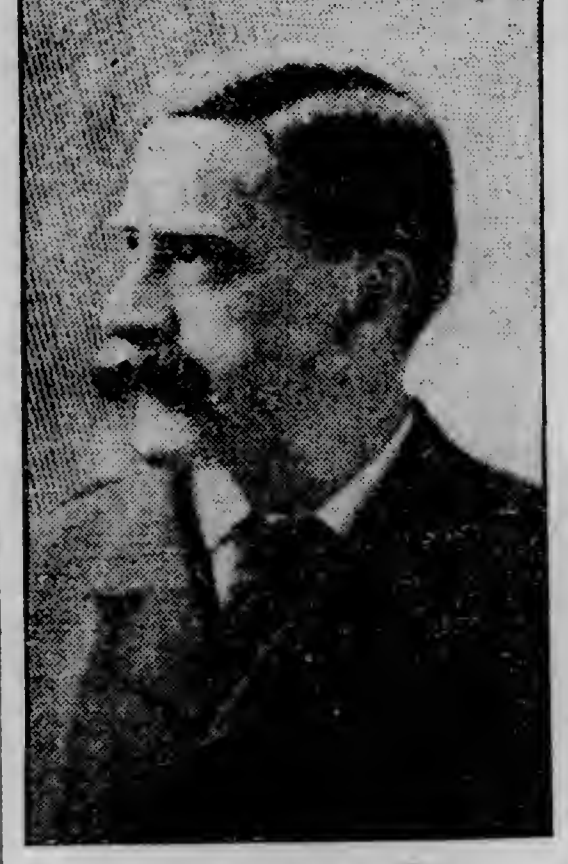

Eight-Year-Old Youth Perishes in Crow River Dam.

Delano, Minn., Feb. 20.—The body of a boy named 8 years, was found in the Crow river, near the Great Northern Railway company's dam. The boy had been missing since Monday afternoon, and although searching parties were out all night, no trace was found until yesterday, when his school book was found on the river bank. Grappling hooks and drag nets were secured and after three hours' work the body was brought to the surface. His widowed mother, sister and brother are prostrated.

DR. TAYLOR CANDIDATE AGAINST MAYOR DUIS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. J. D. Taylor has been selected at a meeting of stalwarts and anti-Duis men to make the race against Mayor George E. Duis. The meeting was held at the Hotel Des Moines and was attended by over a score. It was stated that Dr. Taylor has consented to make the race. It has been promised, it is stated, the support of the stalwart faction, with whom he has been associated for so many years.

HARRIMAN WINS A GREAT VICTORY IN THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. LITIGATION

E. H. HARRIMAN, Who Wins a Sweeping Victory in the Illinois Central Case.

Judge Ball Dissolves the Injunction Secured by Fish

Which Restrained the Voting of 286,231 Shares of Stock.

Will Now be Voted in the Interests of Harriman.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—E. H. Harriman today gained a complete victory in the Illinois Central litigation, which has been in the superior court since last October. Judge Ball today rendered a decision dissolving the temporary injunction granted to Stuyvesant Fish, by which 286,231 shares of stock were enjoined from being voted at the annual meeting of the Illinois Central Railroad company. This stock, which was held by the Union Pacific Railroad company and the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey, can now be voted at the annual meeting, which will be held in this city, March 2.

The decision of Judge Ball was quite extended, amounting to about 1000 words. After citing the history of the case, and going at considerable length into the various claims and assertions made by both sides, the court went on to say:

Findings of Court.

"It is urged that the complainants under the laws of equity practice should have requested the officers and directors of the Illinois Central to bring this suit—that such a request and a refusal by the corporation are necessary prerequisites to their right to begin this action. This suit might have been brought by the Illinois Central. Its subject matter is one in which all the stockholders of that corporation are equally interested. Before a stockholder is entitled to institute a suit, he should show to the satisfaction of the court that the corporation has failed to bring the suit and that the directors, in bringing the suit and their neglect or refusal to comply with the request, or he must show that an application to them would have been useless.

The bill as amended, alleges that complainants made no application to the Illinois Central to bring this suit because they believe they have the individual right as stockholders to bring this action, and that it would have been idle to have made such application because the Illinois Central believe that the Union Pacific and the Railroad Securities companies have the right to hold and to vote the stock severely owned by them; because these three directors have participated in the unlawful acts complained of, and because of the reasons stated in the bill, and because of the personal hostility of eight of said directors to Fish, they would not have permitted such a suit to be brought.

Denied by Directors.

"The first reason given may be passed as it is a long conclusion and the alleged facts stated as the basis for the second reason are vigorously denied in affidavits filed by said directors.

The only thing averred and proved in this case as to the future actions of the directors is that at the coming election of the directors of the Illinois Central Securities company will vote the stock they own and control the election and control the present directors, each of whom

BRAID TO BE THE THING

For Men's Clothes During the Coming Spring Season.

It is the Decree of National Tailors' Exchange.

Spring styles for men, for young men at least, are to be hemmed in by about half an inch of braid.

This is to be the very swaggy trimming on all swaggy clothes during the coming season, according to the smart clothes carpenters. They declare it is the decree of the Merchant Tailors' National Exchange, which recently held its national convention and dress rehearsal in New York.

Men's styles have been threatened with an epidemic of braid for several months and now it seems to be on in earnest. They will run mostly to fancy waistcoats, although the demand for extremes in styles will probably result in braid on coats and trousers as well.

Incidentally, the vogue of fancy waistcoats will continue unabated. At least the garment experts say they will and they usually get away with their intentions, unless they are too radical for general adoption. But fancy waistcoats that do not threaten observers with blindness have found general favor and there is generous sprinkling of the dizzy ones as well.

The merchant tailors' exchange decided that the waistcoats must be rich in color, but quiet in tone. However, many members are likely to step over the traces in this regard.

The prevailing style in suitings is the stripe. The check seems to have had its day, for the stripe is it just now. These are being shown here in many shades and weights, for the local clothes builders are receiving their spring stocks.

A new coat that may be worn is a cutaway that is held together in front by a solitary button. At the button, in fact, is the only place the coat meets. Altogether, the garment might better be called a dash than a cutaway.

The lapels on all coats are supposed to roll easily at the terminals, instead of being pressed flat. Coats are to be of medium length, with the cuff effect on the sleeve. Cuffs on the trousers will be tabbed, however, except for young suits, and extreme styles for summer wear. Coats will be made with or without the slit in the tail. In this one matter, at least, the tailors have decided that the customer may be the dictator.

Both the custom tailors and the ready-to-wear, take-me-home-for, etc., dealers are showing the latest things, and within a week or so will have all their spring goods ready.

Receipts of the new collars are larger. Local haberdashers were a little slow in getting them in, for the East was wearing them quite generally last fall. They are higher than have been the style for several years, and the ends come close together in front. A small four-hand tie is worn with them. Suit and women ties are the popular thing, with the advent of the new collar.

FOWLER BILL

For Financial Relief Advocated by Gage and Others.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The principles of the Fowler financial bill were defended today by former Secretary of the Treasury, Lyman J. Gage, Charles A. Conant of New York, and Prof. Joseph French Johnson of the New York university, before the house committee on banking and currency. Secretary Gage said that we had reached the most important period in the financial history of the country for the past forty or fifty years, and that solution of the problem depends largely upon the men making up the banking and currency committee.

It was early impressed upon him, said Mr. Gage, that a credit currency issued on proper assets, received and exchanged, containing only the amounts of credit, was an effective, useful and economic agency in the industrial exchanges of the people and was the best system of banking.

Mr. Gage said that he thought that the present financial system ought to be revised from the very beginning. He regarded the Fowler bill as a comprehensive measure containing in itself the evidence that the author understands clearly and specifically the principles which underlie the banking and currency relationship of things and has brought forth a measure which in contrast to the one offered in the senate has reached the fundamentals.

Mrs. Emma F. Mumford, No. 1 Olsen's Court, Salt Lake City, Utah, writes:

"Four months ago I became chilled through and through by getting my feet wet.

"The next morning I was stiff and sore with a severe cold which had settled all over my body. The blood seemed to rush to my head, causing dizziness and blinding headaches.

"As soon as Peruna was recommended to me I decided to give it a trial and am pleased to say that it cured me after I had used it only two months.

"I think you have a splendid medicine and gladly endorse it."

People preferring solid medicines should call for Peruna tablets. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

Mrs. Alice J. Bordner, 1311 Maple Ave., Harrisburg, Pa., writes:

"I have found a cure in Peruna. I cannot recommend Peruna enough, and I also thank you for your kind attention to me. I am as well as could be ever since I began taking Peruna, and will recommend it to others. I only weighed 85 pounds before taking Peruna; now I weigh 125."

Mr. Wickliffe R. Smith, editor of The Potomac Herald, formerly principal of the schools at Cameron, Idaho, writes:

"For some time I suffered with catarrh of the throat and bronchial tubes.

"I tried many remedies, but could find nothing that would give me relief. Finally I tried Peruna. Three bottles cured me, sound and well. I believe it will do as much for others as it did for me."

Mr. George W. Amory, 337 West 19th St., New York City, New York, writes:

"Somewhere I have always had a prejudice against advertised medicine, but I want to make one decided exception in favor of Peruna.

"I caught a cold last winter and it settled in throat and head, developing a most persistent catarrh, which seemed to defy all medicines until I tried Peruna. Before I had used two bottles I considered myself cured."

It is so easy to criticize things about which the critic knows nothing. Take, for instance, Peruna. There are plenty of people who are willing to say Peruna is this and that, who never have tasted Peruna, and have never known anything about its effects upon the human system. There are people who say, and probably believe, that Peruna is used as a beverage by some people. It would be the easiest thing in the world to show the falsity of such a belief.

Let any one who reads this go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. If, after attempting to use it as a beverage or to take it in doses sufficient to produce anything like intoxication, if after putting it to this test, such a person is still of the opinion that Peruna is a disguised alcoholic drink, he will be warranted in making such a statement. Practically, Peruna cannot be so used. Any one who knows anything about Peruna by personal use knows that Peruna is a medicine. The very label on the bottle, giving the principal active ingredients, furnishes indisputable proof that Peruna is a medical compound. We will be willing to guarantee that no normal person can will use Peruna as a beverage. If any one thinks this remedy can be so used, one trial will be sufficient to disabuse his mind.

Peruna is a great and useful family medicine. It is used in multitudes of homes. It has become a standard remedy for various petty ailments in the home. It is especially useful for climatic diseases. It is an excellent remedy for colds. It is a well-tried remedy for catarrh in all forms.

We have a multitude of testimonials recommending it for colds, for bronchitis, for various affections of the respiratory and alimentary organs.

This is well known to all who know Peruna by actual experience.

"Cures All Catarrhal Diseases."

Mr. I. W. Kightlinger, Cambridge, Neb., writes: "I don't have any more trouble in my throat and have not had a headache for four weeks."

"Peruna is the very medicine for catarrh. There is no medicine like it in the United States. For I have tried a good many before using Peruna."

"I will keep it in my house to guard against catarrh as it cures all catarrhal diseases."

Nervous women should profit by Mrs. Barton's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Mrs. Helen Barton, of 27 Pearson Street, Chicago, Ill., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was all run-down, and on the verge of nervous prostration from overwork and worry, and ill in bed, when I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken it a week I commenced to get better. I continued its use, my nervous trouble disappeared, and I am completely restored to health. I hope Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will benefit other women as it has mine."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SAND IS NEEDED.

Several children have been hurt by falls on slippery sidewalks in the neighborhood of the Nettleton school, First avenue east and Sixth street, and the taxpayers in that vicinity are waxing indignant. They declare that the sidewalks are in very bad shape and should have been attended to long ago, by the proper authorities. Some of the youngsters are alleged to have been painfully hurt by their falls. A little sand on the walks would remedy the trouble.

How To Spend An Interesting Hour.

JUST NOW, when winter is merging into spring, the universal question among fashionable women asks of the style tendencies. I might well go into lengthy explanation. But why should I do so? Even the most cleverly written descriptions grow irksome after the elementary remarks have been made. A much more interesting, yes, fascinating way, to learn of these things is to pay the city's store-of-fashion a visit, and spend an hour "sight-seeing" among the "arrivals." They're here: the representative Suits in the New "Butterfly" models the more severely tailored styles, some precisely cut; some allowing the fancy vestee, and the "new" irregular line about the coat hem. Do I hear you ask as to the cloths, colors, and prestige of stripes? Oh well, even a passing glance at our window gives a hint as to that. The newly invented Semi-Princesses have also put in their appearance. And the Waists! What a profusion of nobby styles!

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The duties of an industrial secretary have been assumed by Mrs. Wesley Footnam, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, in addition to the other duties of her position, and noon meetings are being held at the factories in the city. Monday, at noon, Mrs. Footnam, with Miss Pullar, physical director of the association, will meet at the factory of the E. A. Patrick company, and upon Thursday noon the factory of Christensen, Meadham & Graham will be visited. The meetings are held with the young women workers, and the effort is made to interest them in the classes for self-improvement along the many lines offered by the association, or to simply occupy a portion of their noon hour with a restful entertainment.

One of the lines of association work that the Duluth Young Women's Christian association has long desired to take up has been the extension work in the factories of the city. In many of the factories, the association has been able to do much good, and the country work among the young women employed in the factories has been among the most important of the association work. In the factories of the South the conditions are such as to demand much attention. Duluth being a young city, with new industries, has not felt the need as the larger and more densely populated cities have felt for the secretaries and the board of directors have desired to extend the work. The many demands, and the lack of workers, has made it impossible to do any work along this line heretofore, but in the hope that when the need is made plainly evident, an industrial secretary may be added to the corps of workers. The secretary has begun these meetings on a small scale. It is felt that there is a wide field for such work in the city, and those most closely in touch with the situation are greatly pleased that the work has been begun.

Card Party.

Mrs. H. W. Hanson of 211 Twenty-ninth avenue, entertained the members of the G. B. club yesterday afternoon at her home. Cards were the amusement, and the favors were won by Mrs. E. J. Jansen and Mrs. W. M. Shuppe. Those present were:

Mrs. J. R. Ronsky, E. Rowe, S. J. Ransy, M. Cashin, S. J. Ransy, M. Cashin, B. Bonen, W. M. Shuppe.

INTERESTING LECTURE.

Dr. Jackola Will Talk of Finland Before Club.

A lecture of more than ordinary interest has been arranged to be presented before the members of the Twenty-ninth Century club, and their friends, tomorrow morning, at the club room of the library. The speaker will be Dr. John Jackola, and his subject will be "The Reign of Terror in Finland." Dr. Jackola is deeply interested in the welfare of the people of his native land, and during his residence in America he has kept in close touch with the political conditions and struggles of his first home. The lecture which he will present tomorrow was delivered by him before the Women's Department club of Chicago, and has been published in the Forum and Arena. The part that women have taken in the struggle will be spoken of by the speaker. The lecture will be given at 10 o'clock, and any one interested is invited to attend.

YEAR BOOK

Of State Federation Has Been Issued.

The year book of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs has been issued, and several copies have been received in this city by club women in touch with the state work. The reports of the officers for the year are contained in the book, with the names of the federated clubs of the state and their officers, and the personnel of the committees of the federation. The reports of the officers and chairman of committees is contained in the book. The annual meeting for 1908 will be held in October, at St. Cloud. The Duluth women who are members of committees for the year are: Mrs. H. C. Marshall, chairman of the finance committee; Mrs. H. S. Ely, a member of the civics committee; Miss Lydia Pullar, a member of the library committee. Mrs. J. L. Washburn of this city is the general federation secretary, and the delegates to the biennial meeting from the Eighth district will be Mrs. J. L. Washburn, with Mrs. H. S. Ely as alternate. Mrs. Washburn has also been named as the delegate-at-large, with Miss Marie L. Olausson of St. Paul, as the alternate.

Crippen-Burk.

The wedding of Miss Blanche Crippen and G. C. Burk of Dalton, Minn., took place yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's church. The service was read by Rev. Frederick J. Noonan. The church was simply decorated for the ceremony, and a few intimate friends were present. The bride was Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Gyllenborg. Mr. Burk and his bride left for a short wedding trip. They will reside at Dalton, Minn.

Bridge Parties.

Mrs. J. G. Ketcham entertained yesterday at the first of a series of three bridge parties, her home in Elmwood flats. The favors were won by Mrs. Herbert Warren and Mrs. C. F. Macdonald. The other affairs of the series will be given Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening.

Delightful Concert.

The concert given last evening at the Cathedral school auditorium, under the auspices of the Bishop's club, was well received by the large audience present. Each number of the carefully prepared program gave much pleasure, and encores were responded to that night. The program was given by Miss Lynn and Miss Fleherger, the number being "Slovakian Dances" by Dvorak. The other piano numbers were given by Mrs. Clarence B. Miller, who was heard to advantage in a Chopin Polonaise, a Macdowell number, and for an encore the Schubert-Liszt, "Hark, Hark, the Lark." Mrs. E. P. Kreiner and Mrs. Lew Ball were the vocal soloists. The selections by the Ensemble club of the Flauto Conservatory were among the most delightful of the evening. A reading from Schiller's "Mary Stuart," was given by Miss Laura Frankenthal, and she responded to the clamor of applause with two encore numbers. The evening was a most decided success.

Home Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Christina Anna Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Shaw, and William Henry McLaughlin, will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, 724 Lake avenue south. The service will be read at 7 o'clock by Rev. Campbell C. Coyle of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. McLaughlin and his bride will be at home at Two Harbors.

Events of Interest.

The Beechoven trio, assisted by Miss Bradshaw, mezzo soprano, and Miss Bradshaw, will appear in a concert tomorrow evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, under the auspices of the Young People's movement. The program has been arranged with much care, and the concert promises to be one of the most delightful of the local affairs.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. H. W. Reynor of 427 East Second street.

Personal Mention.

Miss Almest of St. Paul is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Daugherty, of East First street.

Mrs. William Wardell of 1113 East Third street has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rickford of Minneapolis.

Mrs. L. P. Tolman has gone to Tarpon Springs, Fla.

Mrs. J. W. Millen of Detroit, Mich., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Frank P. Nester, of 1632 East First street.

What Retail Markets Offer.

New potatoes, two pounds for 25 cents.

Sweet potatoes, 10 cents a pound. Potatoes, 90 cents a bushel. Fresh eggs, 24 cents a pound. Ham, 30 cents a pound. Beef chops, 15 cents a pound. Apples, $1 each.

Ham and eggs, a delightfully homelike combination of delicacies, may be right popular just now. The eggs are cheap and perfectly fresh and the ham of a prime cut is of the sort that will appeal to those people who passed their early days upon a farm, where one rose at 4 o'clock to feed the "lows" and to get the milk. The ham and eggs at 9 in the morning from a table resplendent in shining linen and dainty dishes is a delightful treat. DOUBLE BILL

Of "Cavalleria" and "Pagliacci" is Presented at Last Performance.

The last of the three performances of the San Carlo Opera company was given last evening at the Lyceum before an audience of the discouraging size that greeted the former two performances. The double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" was presented. The first opera in which Mme. Tina Desana was heard as Santuzza was delightfully presented. Mme. Desana, who was also heard as "Adina," sang the role of the Italian peasant girl with a naturalness and dignity that re-enforced the splendid impression she made the first evening. The grace and charm of the actress, together with her musical ability, underscored the role of the Italian peasant girl.

Directors of Local Y. M. C. A. Will Banquet John R. Mott.

John R. Mott will be in Duluth next Monday evening and will be a guest at a banquet given in his honor at the Commercial club by the Y. M. C. A. directors.

Mr. Mott can scarcely be called a resident of any city. He is a world traveler and is a man of international reputation. Probably no man of his age is so widely known, or wields such an influence as does Mr. Mott. He has made a dozen trips around the world, and his dauntless energy has made it self felt in nearly every country in both hemispheres.

Mr. Mott is probably best known as head of the Student Volunteer movement, and of the Young People's Forward Movement for Missions. He is a local paper that twenty-six mid-

NO ALARM AT BERLIN

Over Flurry Caused by Turkish Grants to Austria.

Germans Do Not Look for Trouble in the East.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—The foreign office takes a cool view of the flurry among the diplomats of Europe, occasioned by the porting granting permission to Austria to survey for a railroad extension that would make complete the rail connection with Saloniki, traversing a portion of Turkish territory.

Reports received here from St. Petersburg, Paris and Rome indicate that at the same time British diplomacy was working in those capitals, with the object of causing a fresh grouping of the powers in Near Eastern affairs, by means of which Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy would be able to impose their will upon the sultan, and thus maneuver Austria and Germany into a weaker position at Constantinople. Great Britain's ultimate object is believed to be to produce disorder in Turkish affairs, so that a more permanent settlement may be reached before Russia fully recovers from the effects of her war with Japan.

NEW DULUTH HAS YOUTHFUL HERO

Rescues Companion From Tragic Death in the Icy St. Louis.

New Duluth, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert Moe, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moe, had a narrow escape from drowning in the St. Louis river Wednesday. He and a young companion were skating. All at once young Moe disappeared. His companion went through the ice and saw a head coming up through a hole in the ice. He realized that Albert had been taken under the ice and he skated back to the place and pulled his playmate out. The two boys were alone at the time, and if it hadn't been for the rescuer's presence of mind, a fatality would have resulted.

The place where the boys went through is at the opening of the old channel. A strong current runs through there and the river never freezes to any depth.

FOURTEEN LOSE LIVES IN MINE

Disastrous Explosion Occurs in Glebe Pit on the Tyne.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Eng., Feb. 21.—Fourteen miners lost their lives by an explosion in the Glebe pit, in the village of Washington, last night. There were fifteen men in the mine at the time of the accident, and only one escaped. Shortly before the explosion occurred, 500 miners ascended from the pit.

CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Number of Worthy Homeless in New York is Decreasing.

Majority Now Asking Help Are of the Vagrant Class.

New York, Feb. 21.—It is estimated by one of the managers of the associations for improving the condition of the poor that there are approximately 30,000 homeless men in New York today. Of these probably 60 per cent are non-residents, while it is estimated that about 3 per cent would work if they were given employment. Though the poverty of the deserving unemployed is real, and their need of help constant, the society has reason to believe that conditions are improving. The number of men out of work growing smaller, and, finally, that the total of the deserving class of the unemployed has been overestimated. The great majority, a society manager said yesterday, belong to the vagrant class and "work" the organization when they can get a chance to do so. "These men go to the missions," he said, "and get all they can there; then they fall into the bread line, and in a few days, when they think we have forgotten them, come back to us. We have tried to distinguish the deserving, but when the past of the run of applicants is sifted, not more than 1 per cent are honest or sober or willing to work when they can."

TAKEN AFTER A LONG CHASE

Detectives Follow James Baker to Frisco and Back to New York.

New York, Feb. 21.—The arrest here last night of James A. Baker, charged with killing E. Y. Hutchinson, a telephone operator at Clarington, W. Va., which was participated in by Post-office Inspector Kincaid and Detectives Rigor and Nuss of the Pennsylvania railroad. The officers say that Baker, whose home is at Columbus, Ohio, confessed to the killing of Hutchinson, Dec. 29, and to the robbery of a number of postoffices and railroad stations. The officers say that Baker is of good family and is an amateur at robbery. The detectives say that they have discovered that he is engaged to marry a girl of good family in Pittsburgh, whose name they refuse to divulge.

DIAMOND JUBILEE Of Emperor Francis-Joseph Will Not be Celebrated This Spring.

Vienna, Feb. 21.—The arrangements for the pageant in Vienna this spring, that was to be a feature of the celebrations in honor of the diamond jubilee of Emperor Francis-Joseph, he has been sixty years on the throne—were officially canceled today. The reason is that his majesty's physicians do not believe he is strong enough to participate in the festivities. They consider that the emperor has not yet fully recovered his normal health and that attendance at outdoor celebrations and the fatigue of entertaining visiting sovereigns might possibly be dangerous.

Capitalists.

Portland, Or., Feb. 21.—The St. Paul & Pacific Lumber syndicate, to whose use of Senator Tillman's name Mr. Tillman objected yesterday in the senate, has offices in this city. According to the Oregonian, it is composed of prominent St. Paul, Minn., capitalists. Bryan R. Dorr, president, "the concern, insists that the scheme is legitimate in every way."

The circular to which Mr. Tillman objects solicits a payment of $200 for preliminary expenses incident to locating and including in the Coos Bay wagon road land grant held by the Southern Oregon company. Two Missouri Women Are Placed Under Arrest
by Police.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Sarah Morasch, a sister-in-law of Charles Miller, father of Ruth Miller, the 4-year-old child, who died in Kansas City, Kas., Feb. 12, from the effects of eating poisoned candy, which was intended for her half-sister, Ella Van Meter, was arrested at Harrisonville, Mo., last night, charged with complicity in the girl's death. Mrs. Morasch's 17-year-old daughter, Blanche, was arrested yesterday by the police of Kansas City, Kan., on the same charge.

Miss Van Meter, for whom the candy was intended, ate it, but recovered.

The newspapers today express sympathy with Gen. Stoessel, and declare that the death sentence undoubtedly will be commuted. They demand also that Gen. Kuropatkin, Viceroy Alexander, and other officers still more intimately responsible for the losses in the war be placed on trial.

Schools is Receiving Attention.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The proposition to retain control of the disposition of the $14,000,000 of relinquished Chinese indemnity and have it used in the erection of American colleges in China and in bringing Chinese students to the United States to complete their education, has been brought to the attention of President Roosevelt and the state department by William T. Ellis of Philadelphia, who has recently returned from the Orient. The plan is not original with Mr. Ellis, but has been considered as an excellent idea for some time by the state department.

How any such plan can be worked out, especially in view of the action already taken, which commits the executive branch of the government to its offer to relinquish to China the surplus indemnity, is the puzzling question. To make the offer of the executive effective requires the sanction of congress, and unless this body attaches a string to the offer, as indicated, nothing can be done. The senate has practically given its consent to the president's offer and the matter is now pending in the house committee on foreign affairs.

Lighthouse Keeper Imprisoned With a Corpse for Seven Days.

Finally Manages to Cross Treacherous Ice and Reach Toledo.

Toledo, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Fleeing in terror over long stretches of treacherous ice from the Toledo harbor lighthouse, where for seven days he has been imprisoned with the dead body of Capt. Delos Hayden, Joe Bernor reached this city at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He brought the news of the death to friends and relatives, telling of the nerve-racking vigil beside the dying man in the lonely lighthouse, and his still more terrifying experience while watching over the dead body, waiting for a turn in the weather which would permit his escape over the ice.

Hayden was conscious to the last, and left a message for each of his relatives and friends. He died in his faithful companion's arms. Bernor placed the body in one of the tower rooms of the lighthouse, and began his wait for an opportunity to reach shore.

Trips Extremely Perilous.
Around the lighthouse the ice was firm under the snow, and when Bernor started out at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon he had strong hopes of reaching the shore in safety. Yet the trip was extremely perilous, he being not even equipped with a pike pole with which to sound the ice. Many times he fell into air holes, going into the icy waters to his knees. At many places also he found open water and frequently, he narrowly escaped and by the merest chance escaped death.

Bernor cannot explain how he happened to reach Cedar Point yesterday morning. He had no idea as to the direction in which he was walking, and had he gone 200 feet either east or west of the course he happened to take, he would have missed land altogether. He took a few hours' rest at Cedar Point, and then proceeded to this city.

GOV. JOHNSON WILL ACCEPT

Invitation to Dinner When He Happens to be in Washington.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Johnson yesterday sent his reply to Congressman F. C. Stevens at Washington in answer to an inquiry whether the governor would accept a complimentary non-partisan dinner in his honor, to be given at Washington. Governor Johnson says he would be pleased to attend such a dinner, but he knows of nothing that would take him to Washington before May 1, when he will attend the conference of governors called by President Roosevelt to discuss the conservation of the natural resources of the country. If in the meantime he should find it necessary to go to Washington, he would be pleased to accept such an invitation.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 21.—Because of her regret over the conviction of Gen. Stoessel at St. Petersburg, Amelia Kears, who herself here yesterday by inhaling illuminating gas. The girl was a Russian and had formerly been employed in the general's family. She was working here in the home of Joseph Silver, and when she was informed of Gen. Stoessel's conviction, she went to her room and no more was heard from her. When the escaping gas caused the door of her room to be broken open, she was found dead.

JULIUS MOERSCH HAS RESIGNED

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Julius Moersch, statistician in the department of labor, yesterday tendered his resignation to Commissioner W. H. Williams, to take effect March 1. Mr. Moersch has been connected with the department twelve years and will now devote his time in preparation for the practice of law. He has been a student of the St. Paul College of Law for some time, but was forced to give up his studies owing to the pressure of work in the office.

While no successor to the position has been announced, it is rumored that Frank A. Hoffman, a factory inspector, is slated for the place. During his connection with the department, Mr. Moersch has done much to bring it up to its present standard of proficiency, and his resignation is regretted by the officials.

Fewer Cases of Smallpox and Diphtheria in West Duluth.

No New Cases Reported
During Last Three Days.

"There are fewer cases of smallpox and diphtheria in West Duluth now than there have been at any time in the past two months." This is the statement made by Gustave Hedman, health inspector for West Duluth, New Duluth, Spirit Lake and Fond du Lac.

"In the last few days I have had a comparatively easy time of it, for the number of cases of smallpox and diphtheria seems to be decreasing. For awhile I was on the go all the time, quarantining and fumigating, but in the last three days no new cases have come up," said Mr. Hedman.

"All the cases of smallpox have been of a very mild form, no patient being seriously ill, and many being up and around the house all the time they were quarantined. Diphtheria has been more serious, though in most instances, when it was taken care of at the start and antitoxin administered when the first symptoms of the disease were noticed, the results have not been serious."

Mr. Hedman had a busy time of it this winter. His territory is a large one, and during a winter in which there is much contagious disease, as this season, it is as much as one man can do to get over all the ground in answer to the calls.

RESCUE WORK.

Superintendent of Bethel Rescue Home Talks of Her Work.

Miss Jessie Mauck of the Bethel Rescue home yesterday afternoon addressed the ladies of the W. C. T. U. at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Smith, 623 North Fifty-eighth avenue west. Her subject was the question, "Does Rescue Work Pay?"

The speaker told of her work at the Rescue home. She told of how some of the women who are brought to them had lived long in the life of shame, who had but just started on the downward way.

"It is no easy matter to know how to deal with these different temptations," said Miss Mauck. "Some girls who come to us are in such utter despair over their shame that it is hard to know how to help them. Here Miss Mauck told of a remark that had been made at the home by a girl, when she read of how an inmate of a St. Croix avenue resort had ended her life by committing suicide. The girl said: 'Rescue home has said: "Oh, many a time I have prayed

RELIEF IN CUTICURA PROVED WELL-FOUNDED

"About twelve or fifteen years ago, while living in West Virginia, I had a breaking-out, and it itched and stung so badly that I could not have any peace because of it. I saw three doctors and they did not agree on what it was, so one of them gave me something that he called medicine, but I called it soda water. I might just as well have washed in rain-water. Then I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent and began to get better right away. They cured me and I have not been bothered with the itching since, to amount to anything. About two years ago I had a grippe and pneumonia which left me with a pain in my side. Treatment ran it into my leg, which then swelled and began to break out. It got in pretty bad shape, so I went to a doctor. He was afraid it would turn to blood-poison. So I sent for another set of the Cuticura Remedies. I used them three times and cured the breaking-out on my leg. Now I won't be without Cuticura. J. F. Hennen, R. F. D. 3, Milan, Mo., May 13, 1907."

Entertain at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McKay entertained at dinner Thursday evening at their home, 509 North Fifty-seventh avenue west. The table, at which covers were laid for twelve guests, was prettily decorated with pink and white carnations and roses. Following the dinner there was an informal musical at which Miss Hulda Tiedel sang the German song, "Nach Der Helmat mocht ich mich nicht trennen." Miss Madigan played "Hearts and Flowers" and Miss Alfhild Rhodes sang "Love Me and the World is Mine."

GREAT TUNNEL GOES TOGETHER

Railroad Tube Under East River Joined Without Trouble.

New York, Feb. 21.—The first of the great systems of tunnels and subways, by which the Pennsylvania railroad will be enabled to run a train from Philadelphia under the Hudson river, across Manhattan island and under the East river to Long Island City, was completed today. The two ends of one of the four tubes connecting Manhattan island with Long Island City were brought together under the bed of the middle of the East river, off Thirty-fourth street, before noon today, and the steel rings composing the shell of the tube were for the first time bolted in one continuous string from shore to shore.

The work on this tube was begun in August, 1905, and is 4,999 feet in length.

The completion of the first tunnel was celebrated in Long Island City by a display of flags about the works of the company. So accurate were the measurements of the engineers that the ends came together with a variation of only three-eighths of an inch.

INTERESTING ADVENTURES

Of Professor Gehri's Daring Escape From the Siberian Prison.

Laurance, Feb. 21.—Prof. Gehri, who recently reached here after a daring escape from Siberia, has given us particulars of his adventures, which are extremely interesting as showing how complete and powerful is the Russian revolutionary organization, of which so much is heard and so little known.

On Tuesday, Sept. 27, 1907, he and two companions, escaped from the convict, which was then about half way between Krasnoyarsk and Irkutsk, and although they were running for life through a hostile country, with no visible means of support, the long arm of the escape organization was protecting him and he felt its power.

"I have been very guarded when speaking of the organization," said the professor. "It is only right to take every precaution to protect my friends, and the most casual word might do them harm. But there is one thing I may say without fear—indeed I am glad to say it, for it will only deepen the mystery and it may help to perplex the Russian officials, who, doubtless, will read my narrative in the hope that I may have made a slip. All the time I was traveling across Siberia I never saw a soul connected with the organization. I was always looked and always received news from reliable sources.

As an example of the methods of this strange and mighty force Gehri gives this incident:

"The three men were running for their lives when Gehri felt something hard in his boot, which hurt him. At first he was alarmed, for he thought his foot was injured or that his boot was wearing out, and he told the others that he was afraid they would have to go on alone.

"My friends refused to go," he continued, "and while I argued with them I sat down on a rock to examine my boot. When I drew it off, and put my hand into it to feel if there was any roughness, I found a considerable lump under the lining. Closer examination showed that a hat had been made in the lining and the lump consisted of several pieces of paper money and a few small coins. You can imagine our feelings when I showed the other what I had found. There was quite enough to provide for our immediate needs, and I forgot all about my sore foot.

"Another instance I will tell you," laughed the professor. "It occurred one evening when we were in an inn of Krasnoyarsk. I was telling my two companions that I intended to proceed to the East, to reach Japan if I could, and from there to return to Switzerland. But, of course, the great obstacle was that I had no passport.

"You will find it almost impossible to get out of Vladivostok without a passport," said one of the other fugitives. "I know that," I replied. "Ah, you little wretch!"

"A small boy had uttered a deafening yell close to my ear, so deafening that it almost dazed me for the moment. I turned to expostulate with the boy, but before I could say a word the urchin thrust a dirty envelope into my hand and ran off. I thrust the envelope into my pocket to wait for a more favorable opportunity of studying its contents. Imagine my astonishment when I opened the letter later on—it contained a passport and a fresh supply of money!"

LINDSEY, THE "KID'S JUDGE"

Noted Denver Reformer Will Deliver Address in Duluth.

"Ben Lindsey is a man full of enthusiasm. He believes that the safety of the state tomorrow lies with the children of today. That is why he has his coat off to save the street gamin from his environment and to give him a fighting chance in the struggle of life." That is what William McLeod says in the subject, "The Misfortunes of Micky," in the American Illustrated Magazine for July, 1905.

JUDGE LINDSEY.

of Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who is to lecture at the First M. E. church Saturday night on the subject, "The Misfortunes of Micky."

Judge Lindsey, whose work among delinquent juveniles as judge of the Denver juvenile court has made him a national figure, is known as the "Kid's Judge" in Denver and there isn't a small boy or girl in that city that does not love and admire him, for they know as long as there is a shred of honesty in any one of them they will get a "square deal" before him.

Though it is principally through his work and methods in the juvenile court of Denver that Judge Lindsey is best known, yet just as noteworthy is the strenuous fight that he has made against the political boss and other evils that the city has had to contend with.

He fought the political boss and the party machine during his first term in office, and so strong was the feeling for him in Denver that the machine and the boss turned around and renominated him, making it practically unanimous.

It was by him that the Denver juvenile court was founded. It was through his efforts that the baths were built, and it was his genius that originated the improvement clubs. He broke up the gangs of young toughs and turned their members into law abiding citizens. He instigated laws forbidding the sale of liquor, cigarettes, firearms and immoral literature to the youths. He did away with the prison and its hardening influence and established pleasant and home-like places of reform. These are but a few of the many thoughtful steps Judge Lindsey has taken in solving the "problem of the bad boy."

It is expected that his talk will be very interesting Saturday night and one that will be of benefit to the residents of any city.

GOT MARKED MONEY.

Burglars Who Blew Mildred Post-Office, Taking Chances.

Pine River, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—Safe blowers Wednesday night broke into the postoffice safe of the Batchelder Lumber company at Pine River, Minn., and secured in the neighborhood of $40 in currency and silver. Stamps in the safe were left intact and none of the postal officials were touched.

Mr. Batchelder heard the muffled explosion at his house but was not thoroughly awake and supposed it to be the loading of a storm door in the wind. Among the pieces of money taken that can be identified is a $5 bill which had been badly torn on one end and patched, and a lot of nickels which had gone through the fire and were somewhat blackened and discolored. No clue to the robbers is reported.

WEST END SERIES OF MEETINGS

Special Services Being Held at First Swedish M. E. Church.

Other Happenings of Interest in the West End.

The quarterly meeting of the First Swedish Methodist church will be held Monday evening at the church. It will also be one in the series of special meetings which are being held in that house of worship.

Rev. C. A. Andreen, presiding elder of the Lake Superior district of the Swedish Methodist conference, will preside at the session Monday when the business of the church for the past three months will be before the members.

Special meetings will be held in the church Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening of next week. It is probable that they will be conducted by Rev. O. A. Peterson, who recently came here from Sweden.

Meetings were held every night this week but there will be no services this evening or tomorrow night. Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First Methodist church, spoke one evening and the other meetings were conducted by Rev. A. E. Peterson of Two Harbors and Rev. O. A. Peterson.

The meetings have been very successful so far and the pastor of the church, Rev. John A. Anderson, is well pleased. Several new members have been brought into the church and it is expected that a number more will be secured next week.

Sunday afternoon, the Epworth League society of the church will journey over to Superior to hold a union service with the young people of the Swedish Methodist church across the bay.

WILL GET FAST ONES.

West Enders Will Probably Buy New Steeds in Chicago.

It is expected that as a result of the trip to Chicago taken this week by a number of prominent West enders who are interested in fast horses, a number of new, classy nags will shortly make their appearance on West Superior street.

The party went to the Windy city for the express purpose of rounding up "fast ones." In the group now eyeing the prize steeds are Dr. G. W. Davis, Dr. McKay, W. A. Dilbel and Messrs. Elliot and Rundquist of the Elliot & Rundquist stables.

PRESENTED WITH BUILDING.

The Jewish Congregation Gets a Most Acceptable Gift.

Jewish residents of the West end, who have been making plans for a synagogue for some time past, have been presented with a building by S. L. and L. S. Karon, of the Northwestern Iron Works company.

The structure formerly stood at Twelfth avenue and Superior street and was purchased by the Messrs. Karon from the Wisconsin Central real estate company. It has been moved onto a lot at 133 West Michigan street, owned by the congregation and will be converted into a house of worship as quickly as possible.

West End Shortfalls.

Fred Solmquist has arrived in Duluth from Sweden and will make his home in the West end.

The young ladies' society of the First Swedish Baptist church will hold its regular meeting this evening.

Mrs. Charles Steele of Lake Umbagog, Wis., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lades in the United States block.

Imported cod liver oil, A. E. Swedberg, 3 E. Sup. St. and 205 W. Sup. St.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Swedish M. E. church met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Victor Johnson, 315 Twenty-ninth street, as hostess.

Duluth Observatory of the North Star benefit association will meet Tuesday evening at Lundholm's music store. Several new members will be initiated then.

The young men of the First Norwegian Lutheran M. E. church will give a pie social this evening at the church.

The young women of the congregation will buy the pastry at auction. The pie social is a visiting card of the church and usually it is the young women who bake the pies and the young men who buy them. However, this is Leap Year.

The Young Ladies' society of the First Swedish Mission church was entertained last evening by Mrs. John Turnquist of 197 West Sixth street.

Tailor chances have your prescriptions filled at the Lion Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Holstad, whose marriage took place recently, have left on a trip to Chicago. They will visit in the Twin Cities before returning.

Mrs. H. W. Hanson of 21 Twenty-ninth street, who is her guest, among those present were Mesdames G. Rakovsky, Edward Rowe, S. A. Cashin, A. D. Donoh, S. J. Roome, E. Anderson and L. Longtine.

Roy Hansen was pleasantly surprised this week by a number of friends. There was music and games and, altogether, a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Among those present were: Misses Esther Mark, Alice Anderson, Ida Mark, Landry, Esther Anderson, Ruth Hansen, and Emma Olson, and Messrs. Roy Hansen, Michael Stines, Ed. Brigham, Ralph Lutz, Harold Landry, Elmer Thorstad, Arnold Morterud, Edward Belanger and Merley Anderson.

It's worth while to see our hats; none better, bring your old hat—we'll make it new. Pearson's, 1314 Piedmont avenue west.

The concert given at the Central Baptist church Tuesday evening by the Ladies' Aid society proved very enjoyable. Miss Ansel Smith and Alex. Enna sang and other numbers were given by Miss Elsie Smith, pianist, and Oliver Colbenson, violinist.

Members of the S. H. & E. S. made up a purse of $3.50 this week and presented it to a fellow member, G. E. Fogar, of 205 West Fifth street, who has been in poor health. Mr. Fogarberg was deeply touched by the kindness.

SCIENCE AND CONSUMPTION

Active work has been begun by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis to carry out the work outlined by the International Congress on Tuberculosis, held in Washington in September. It is believed possible to stamp out the disease, and the prediction has been made that in coming generations consumption will be as rare as smallpox is now.

It is to everybody's interest to help in this work by caring for the individual health. Neglect of a cough, or cold, or other trifling ailment, may lead to serious trouble. Every precaution should be taken to prevent a cold from settling on the lungs. To break up a cold quickly and cure any cough that is curable, there is nothing more effective than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. This preparation possesses all the therapeutic virtues that have made the atmosphere of the pine forests noted for its healing effects on cases of throat, lung and bronchial affections.

GERMANY TO BUY
THE PHILIPPINES

Is the Latest Story From the Absinthe Headquarters of Paris.

New York, Feb. 21.—The New York Sun prints the following cable dispatch regarding the movement of the American fleet and the object of its trip to the Pacific:

"Paris, Feb. 19.—The following statement is forwarded by the Associated Press, but they represent the opinion as to the object of the American fleet in the Pacific, circulated at this moment in high diplomatic circles of Europe.

"With the claim of definite knowledge of the subject, it is affirmed that an understanding exists between the Washington administration and the German government, whereby Germany is to purchase the Philippines on the basis of payment of the amount paid by the United States as indemnity to Spain, plus all American expenditures in the islands since the American government took possession.

"Germany's Raising Price.

"The fact will be recalled as a preliminary measure, in case Japan should become irritated when the deal is discussed. The United States will retain a coaling station in the Philippines.

"It is expected that Germany's latest bid was negotiated to provide funds for this purpose.

"Germany's attitude is represented as uncontentious. She would much prefer America should remain in the Philippines, but she is anxious to obtain a foothold in the Pacific, which would increase her immigration dangers and troubles in Australia.

"A diplomat discussed the foregoing with an American today on the assumption that it is virtual an accepted fact. In reply to the obvious question, 'How have the Germans shown their interest in the Philippines?' he said: 'I have never heard of it.'

"However, behind the scenes, it is known that it will require the approval of Congress and the approval of public opinion also.

"America is sick and tired of the Philippines and would be glad to get rid of them. The American people are not in a hurry to purchase the islands, but they are not in a hurry to give them up either. The United States is not in a hurry to give them up either. The United States is not in a hurry to give them up either.

"The speaker after referring to Germany's policy of dealing with natives in her colonies, said: 'The king of the Philippines, God help the Philippines.'

WOULD MAKE BABY A DUKE.

King Leopold Wants Title Conferred on "Baroness" Vaughan's Son.

Brussels, Feb. 21.—It is reported that by his majesty, King Leopold's desire, proposals were made to the peerage authorities of the Belgian government to have the title of "Duke of Tervuren" conferred upon the young son to which the "Baroness" Vaughan gave birth two years ago. The responsible minister objected, and said that a thing could not be. The king is said to have been furious, declaring that the minister in question should be visited with his displeasure. Still as long as Belgium remains a constitutional monarchy, his majesty has to give way to his parliament, even in such delicate matters as these.

FARMER DROPS DEAD ON RETURNING TO HIS HOME.

Monominee, Mich., Feb. 21.—Henry Byrnes, a farmer, residing a few miles from Wabeno, Forest county, dropped dead last night of heart failure. He had been to Wabeno to purchase groceries during the day, and had returned home and was placing some of the groceries on the floor, when with a scream he fell back dead. He was formerly of Manitowish, but had moved to Wabeno with his family some years ago. He is well known here.

COW AND SHEP ARE MIGHTY

Worth More Than All the Grain Crops in 1906.

Facts Given by Secretary of Dairy and Food Department.

The possibilities of diversified farming in Minnesota are so great that very few, if any, of our farmers or business men realize, even in a small measure, what the future has in store for our citizens in that respect. The fame of Minnesota as the Bread and Butter State has been heralded far and wide, and justly so, and it has been the means of calling merited attention to our commonwealth as a desirable location for the sturdy citizen seeking an arid and climate productive not only of wealth, but health also. While thousands have come in the past few years to enjoy the manifold blessings vouchsafed here, there are yet thousands of the intelligent farmer to bring forth bountiful crops and spread the smile of happy hearts to all comers.

Of course, if you are from Missouri, you will want to be shown, and wherever you are from it is proper that you should judge from facts and not from glittering generalities.

In 1906, according to government statistics, Minnesota produced in grains as follows:

In 1906, according to government statistics, Minnesota produced in grains as follows:
	Bushels.	Value.
Flax seed, 4,741,528		$1,883,774
Potatoes, 12,123,944		4,485,559
Buckwheat, 62,352		34,000
Barley, 1,233,544		11,000,000
Rye, 1,207,406		833,523
Oats, 72,071,169		25,203,906
Wheat, 35,001,591		39,619,129
Corn, 50,148,277		17,009,744
Total		$102,188,241

The above is a fairly good showing in itself, but remember that every bushel of that grain was taking from the soil its productive properties, and if followed closely, would result in a few years more failure and decay to the agricultural interests of our state. Happily, and largely through the teachings of the educational forces of Minnesota along lines of diversified farming, our farmers, instead of robbing the soil, have been adding to its value, and not taking from it. In 1906 there were sold in Minnesota 1,009,744 bushels of grain, and the value of the grain was $108,188,241. This is a very good showing in itself, but remember that every bushel of that grain was taking from the soil its productive properties, and if followed closely, would result in a few years more failure and decay to the agricultural interests of our state. Happily, and largely through the teachings of the educational forces of Minnesota along lines of diversified farming, our farmers, instead of robbing the soil, have been adding to its value, and not taking from it. In 1906 there were sold in Minnesota 1,009,744 bushels of grain, and the value of the grain was $108,188,241.

Here is the value of cows, butter, cream, and milk, and the figures speak for themselves:

Cow, 1,009,744	$2,554,431.75
Butter, 1,009,744	$9,727,000.00
Skin milk returned to farmers from creamery	$382,401.00
Cheese	$2,188.48
Calves	$2,000,000.00
Swine	$1,000,000.00
Poultry	$1,999,999.99
Milk cows (1,009,744) in number	$1,009,744.00
Total	$108,188,241.75

Think of it! 200 million of less fortunate climates and especially our struggling millions of the crowded cities. Well you know what the strenuous life of the white man's burden is, and the ever existing danger of a mere existence. Under the conditions wherein this vast wealth is produced there is an opportunity for the citizen to become a part of the brotherhood of man, an elevation of society generally. How strange that the countless thousands standing on the borderland of want and misery do not turn their faces and like the Star of Empire Westward take their way. Dame Nature seems with the best of plenty ready to pour out her generous gifts, only to be turned away by the poverty-stricken millions. The opening of that section and dotting each acre with one hundred and sixty acres with prosperous husbandmen and happy homes must be done with the splendid help of the cow and her milk. The sturdy farmer is pulling stumps old and new, and is building a new life of debt, besides feeding the family. This may seem far fetched to the uninitiated, but when we consider the fact that the value of dairy cows and their products is worth more than the value of the land and her products exceed the value of the grain raised in Minnesota by about $20,000,000 the proof is conclusive. These figures are quite marvelous and will make the farmer and the baker "sit up and take notice." If you will just give the cow a chance she will not only scratch out for you a few extra dollars in the year, but will lay enough eggs to feed the men and women of the household, and the cow will produce enough fat to grease the throats of the steel trust magnates and then leave enough to swell the bank account of the farmer to such proportions that he will be glad he left the fatherland.

ENGLAND'S BUGABOO

Heavy Expenditures on German Navy Cause General Apprehension.

London, Feb. 21.—The German bugaboo is constantly growing larger in the eyes of the British people. The naval plans of the Germans are causing positive terror in this country, because of the fact that in time the German navy will equal that of the British in efficiency. If not equal, it is Germany's standing army is ten times as great as that of Great Britain. Consequently, the possibility of a German invasion of England is no longer a phantom.

Moreover, the warships of Gen. Lord Roberts, Gen. French and others, that England must be prepared for eventualities, tend to increase the alarm. Of course, Germany is constantly making improvements in her army and navy equipment which may well cause apprehension to an Englishman's peace-loving lady. If, as now seems likely, the affair finds its way into the courts, some interesting sidelights will be thrown up on a somewhat unusual interpretation of the term "bugaboo."

The British aristocracy have been hard hit of late by injudicious speculations on the stock exchange. A few weeks ago a well known peer, whose name has been much before the public of late, passed away. His estate, after further security on his furniture and effects at his West London house, was found to be a mere nothing but a pastime. Beethoven Tree, the well known actor and manager, says that in all his experience of theatrical management he has never known so bad a state of things as prevails at present in regard to the business being done.

This he attributes primarily to the state of financial depression in the metropolis, which he does not remember to have been paralleled for many years. Mr. Tree added that in normal times several leading theaters would be playing to at least $300 per performance more than is now the case. He has decided to withdraw "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," which has most unaccountably failed to attract the playing public. Mr. Tree himself achieved a great personal triumph in the play.

A report submitted to the board of agriculture discloses the fact that, not content with endeavoring to pass off margarine as butter, fraudulent dealers have not scrupled to adulterate margarine itself. In some cases potato has been used to make margarine.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION

Spalding Hotel Meeting Against Enactment of Prohibition Laws

Favors Strict Enforcement of Reasonable Liquor Laws.

A resolution protesting against the enactment of prohibition laws, but favoring the enforcement of "reasonable" laws, regulating the liquor traffic, was adopted at a meeting of a representative gathering of about fifty men, held late yesterday afternoon at the Spalding hotel. Another meeting will be held at the Commercial club three weeks later, when the same question will again be considered.

The meeting yesterday was in response to 200 invitations that had been sent to Duluthians, saying that the attention of business men should be called to the importance of forming, at once, an association which would have as its purpose the prevention of the enactment of liquor laws so drastic as to be impossible of enforcement. A copy of the invitation was published in The Herald last evening.

William B. Stewart, manager of the Bishop & Babcock Bottling Supply company of St. Paul, acted as chairman of the meeting. Following is a copy of the resolution adopted, with several dissenting voices being heard.

Whereas, there is much agitation in certain sections to create public sentiment favoring prohibition; and whereas, we believe that prohibition laws, wherever tried, have utterly failed to promote the cause of real temperance, which we so much favor, therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, gathered here are utterly opposed to prohibition, and will ever use our best efforts to create an enlightened public sentiment in favor of true temperance, and in strict enforcement of reasonable laws regulating the liquor traffic, and against the enactment of prohibition laws, and that the chairman of this meeting select a committee of seven whose duty it shall be to formulate ways and means that will best serve such ends, and report at a future meeting to be called by the chairman within a reasonable time.

A Middle Ground. Mr. Stewart's introductory remarks, Mr. Stewart declared that the temperance stage, and that it was up to people who did not believe in strict laws, in this respect to be up and doing. He claimed statistics show that doing is less than prohibition, and that in so-called prohibition states there is more drunkenness, intemperance and immorality than in states of equal population where the license prevails.

"We anti-prohibitionists," he continued, "believe that there is a middle ground which should be sought by all having the best interests of the community at heart. From present indications, it looks as if prohibition would carry in Minnesota, and that county option will carry in two years more. Incidentally, I want to call your attention to the fact that to make close up three breweries in Duluth. This fact, however, is immaterial, compared with the evils that prohibition would bring in the way of prohibition. We believe in a strict enforcement of the law, and from upon those who attempt to violate it in any manner. We believe that better conditions will prevail under the strict enforcement of reasonable laws regulating the liquor traffic than under prohibition laws, which do not prohibit, and which result in the establishment of blind alleys in every nook and corner of every city in the state."

John Christie of the Christie Printing company, followed Mr. Stewart, after voicing the same sentiments as Mr. Stewart, offered the resolution given above. Mr. Christie told how, in European countries, the saloon was the working men's club, and how it was controlled by reasonable laws. Mr. Christie wished it to be emphatically understood that he favored law enforcement. His point was that unreasonable strict laws should not be passed.

Mr. Buck Opposes It. George W. Buck opposed Mr. Christie's resolution, and said that if there was a strong prohibition movement sweeping the country, it was because liquor interests are seeking to evade the laws, and that if the saloon men would live up to the letter of the law, it would in a measure put a stop to the prohibition wave that is sweeping the country.

L. A. Barnes said he recognized the rights of society to impose such regulations as the majority decides. He declared that mistakes had been made in handling the liquor question, and that as a member of the city council for a number of years he himself had made mistakes, which he was beginning to appreciate more and more. Among other things, he said he had not done his full duty, in that he had failed to look closely enough into the character, reputation and general standing of the men who appeared before the council asking for permission to sell liquor. He expressed the wish to go on record in favor of a county option law, and moved an amendment to Mr. Christie's resolution, placing the meeting in favor of county option. The amendment was lost.

A. E. McManus, who declared that if county option should become operative, it should be declared unlawful for outsiders to ship liquors of any kind into the state, the same as is done in prohibition states today, offered a resolution to the effect that any licensed dealer in liquor who wilfully violates the liquor laws be forever prohibited from dealing in liquor again. The resolution was lost.

ALL FAVOR TAFT FOR PRESIDENT

Preferences of Men Who Want to be Chosen Delegates.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—The men who want to represent Minnesota in the Republican national convention are for William H. Taft, with the exception of a few who have been selected as candidates by the La Follette organization. It is now recognized that the La Follette movement in Minnesota is a forlorn hope. Taft sentiment is dominant, and the candidates for delegate positions are ready to announce themselves squarely for Taft.

The Journal sent a letter of inquiry to every man who has been prominently mentioned for delegate honors. So far answers have been received from twenty-six, and every man is for Taft, except one, who says he is not a candidate.

The eighth district men who replied announced their preference as follows: E. B. Hawkins, Duluth; first choice. Taft; willing to be instructed. Chester A. Congdon, Duluth; not a candidate for delegate, but favors Taft; no other choice; favors instructed delegation.

Joseph B. Cotton, Duluth; "in favor of the nomination of Taft, and have no second choice." Delegates should be instructed.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Suit Growing Out of Accident on Belt Line Railroad.

Ida V. Ostlund has sued the Duluth Belt Line Railway company for $7,450 damages for injuries, claimed to have been received Sept. 4 last, by jumping from a car when it was about to collide with another on the line, which the company operates between Central avenue, West Duluth, and Bay View Heights.

Miss Ostlund alleges that the cars were run at a higher rate of speed than usual the day in question, and that when they approached each other it was found impossible to avoid a collision. She says she was told to jump. She claims that in jumping she sprained her ankle and sustained other injuries of a serious nature. The company is charged with negligence in the operation of its cars, and for not having the machinery in proper order to control the movements of the cars.

John Jensen, Jr., represents Miss Ostlund.

SAVED AT ST. WINIFRED HOSPITAL

(San Francisco Bulletin.)

The physicians in Honolulu could do nothing for U. S. Deputy Marshal Winters, and he gave them up in despair and came to San Francisco to see if there was any physician here who could cure an extreme case of chronic Bright's Disease. He had had two agramic convulsions, was almost bursting with dropsy, and, after fighting the disease for two years, was at the end of the way. The first physician he consulted in this city told him that chronic Nephritis was now a curable disease, and that he would probably recover. He sent the patient to the St. Winifred Hospital, put him on the new treatment for Bright's Disease, and proceeded to aid it in many ways that the skilled practitioner understood. In four months Winters went back to the Islands perfectly well—San Francisco Bulletin.

We sent for the treatment given the patient referred to in the St. Winifred Hospital with such remarkable results and have it in stock for patients here. Both Bright's Disease and Diabetes are now curable. Call and let us tell you all about it. Lyceum Drug store, Duluth. Reilance Drug store, West Duluth.

PROTOTYPE OF MR. TAFT

Bill Taft's prototype is "in our midst."

There is a large man, weighing in the neighborhood of 300 pounds stopping at the Lenox. He bears a remarkable resemblance to the statesman who at the present time is holding the center of the political stage, with the exception of the hair color. He is a C. E. Huddleston of New York, and ever since Taft has waded into publicity, Mr. Huddleston has fallen for the "case you Mr. Taft."

A man who knows Mr. Huddleston, and who has been at other places when the heavyweight traveling man has been taken for the globe trotting secretary of war, named the idea into general belief. Mr. Huddleston was really the man Friday to the Robinson Crusoe of Theodore Roosevelt. He had the Lenox ladies looking sideways at the big traveling man. The girl at the counter was one of the first to fall for the story. When Mr. Huddleston mentioned over to purchase a fragrant one, the girl addressed him by the name that the war secretary has borrowed over four continents. Then Mr. Huddleston, who wasn't Solomon to the Dromo stunt, looked surprised.

Then the girl blushed prettily, and, woman-like, unadvised the story of how Bill was among us.

So when the practical joker mysteriously whispered that Mr. Taft was in Duluth upon an important foreign-ing expedition, it was given the equine laugh, hoarse and rasping, and informed that the cat had leaped out of the sack.

When Mr. Taft was in Minneapolis, last spring, at the time he delivered the commencement address at the State university, Mr. Huddleston was also a visitor in the Flour City. He stopped at the West hotel, and on numerous occasions was almost persuaded that he really was Mr. Taft by people "who had grown up" with the war secretary.

The story was likewise aided and abetted in Minneapolis by some practical joker, who pointed out Mr. Huddleston as the political old balancer and the best chap-ioned man in politics. Mr. Huddleston looks enough like William H. to make the story listen well, and the ultra-boss in his right hand was sprained from shaking hands with men who had "knewed him afore."

So, after all, there is nothing novel in the mistaken identity theory that he encountered in Duluth. He had almost congratulated himself upon escaping the "howdy, Bill" salute. Most people are aware that Mr. Taft is far from Minnesota's hazy clime, and he little suspected that the presence of the war secretary would be anticipated, much less believed. If the Annas cult got busy, he was doomed to disappointment, however.

When the guests of the Lenox fell for the Taft story, they were only imitating what others have done in numerous places where Mr. Huddleston has been.

"There's a Reason"

KENNY TO GET OFFICE

Young Attorney Said to be Slated for City Prosecutor.

Appointment of Coe as Engineer Believed to be Settled.

Edward J. Kenny, who has been associated with the law firm of Baldwin, Baldwin & Dancer, is now stated on good authority, to be Mayor-elect Haven's choice for the position of assistant city attorney for the prosecution of criminal cases. Mayor Haven, in accordance with the policy he has established since his election, has not publicly made the announcement of the appointment, but it is said to be settled and the young man will get the place. Mr. Kenny is one of the brightest young members of the Duluth bar. His appointment will be a source of more than ordinary satisfaction to his friends, because he is a Duluth boy. He graduated from the Duluth Central high school, read law at the University of Michigan, and since his graduation has practiced in Duluth. The firm with which he is now associated has placed great confidence in him in conducting cases and he has shown ability, which will fit him for the post for which he is slated. He has many friends and the appointment will be widely commended.

The only appointments, of the settlement of which people are reasonably certain are those of C. S. Wilson as assistant city attorney; E. M. Morgan as assistant city attorney; J. M. Preston as member of board of public works; C. E. By as city assessor, and C. H. Troyer as chief of police.

The fight for the office of city engineer, now warmer each day, and friends of W. B. Patton and E. K. Coe are impatiently waiting for the interest of their favorite. It is said that Mr. Coe has the bill, and Mr. Patton has settled on his appointment. Mr. Coe has many warm friends among the Republicans of the city and they have been working earnestly for him. His former experience in the city engineer's office as assistant, his experience in the government service and his personal qualities have recommended him to the mayor. It is said, and he will get the office. In the meanwhile, Mr. Patton's friends continue to work, and while Mayor Haven holds off in announcing the settlement they will hope for the success of their man.

The office of building inspector also presents a vexatious question. It is believed George Miller is slated for the position, but the present building inspector, S. M. Kelly, it is believed, will fight in the courts under the soldiers' preference law.

WILL TRY CAIN SOON

The case of the state against Thomas Cain, the United States marine corps recruit, who is indicted for voting illegally at the primary election in this city last December, is likely to be tried some time next week. It is understood that the defense would not be disappointed if the case were continued over until the March term of the district court, but the present outlook is that the state will ask that the trial take place next week.

The jurors, who have been serving during the present term, are getting weary of the long session and as it is the desire of the court to get the civil calendar cleaned up before the end of next week, the state has consented to have a number of the criminal cases continued over the term, but the Cain case has not yet been included in those continued.

Cain was brought back from the Mare Island station at San Francisco, some weeks ago, and has been in jail ever since, awaiting trial on the indictment charging him with voting illegally at the primary election. He has been unable to furnish a bond for his release from the custody of the sheriff.

WEAPONS IN PLAIN VIEW

With a big revolver and a wicked-looking knife hanging in his belt, Gust Lindberg, a homesteader from Kelsey, Minn., created something of a sensation as he walked down Superior street last night. He was garbed in true Western style, with a big hat, flannel shirt and trousers made of some light-colored material resembling flannel. On each leg of the trousers was a wide fringe of the same material, and every detail of his apparel was of the spirit of the bad lands. Detective Terry's attention was attracted by the commotion the strange visitor was causing, and he took a hand in the game. He suggested that Lindberg accompany him to the station. The man consented readily, and there he was relieved of the contents of his young arsenal. The smoke-stick resembled a cannon more than a revolver, and the knife might properly be used in lifting scalps. He was told they weren't quite the proper thing for Duluth's peaceful streets,

MARTIN BROTHERS ILL.

L. R. Martin is at Rochester, Minn., at the hospital of the Mayo brothers, and will probably have to undergo an operation for an affection of the stomach. The operation, if it is found necessary, is not expected to be a serious one.

Thomas H. Martin is also ill, and is taking a short treatment at the Battle Creek sanitarium.

PRESIDENT REMEMBERS

HIS FRIEND SULLIVAN.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Daniel M. Sullivan was today renominated by the president for postmaster at Cripple Creek, Colo. Sullivan was active in protecting Mr. Roosevelt against assault when he was at Cripple Creek in the campaign of 1900, and he secures his renomination in the face of some opposition.

The King of All Cylinder Machines

The new "BQ" Columbia Graphophone is the one machine of its kind. It embodies the very points which have made the great success of the Disc Graphophones. Compact, convenient, shapely and simple, it is an entirely new departure in talking machine design.

It has the famous Columbia Aluminum Tone Arm and a big flower horn. No rubber tube, no horn crane, no horn stand—and the horn swings in any direction.

Sermon Lectures.

The third in the series of sermon lectures, "The Principles of Religion," which are being presented at the Duluth Theological center by the pastor, Rev.
John Walker Powell will be given this evening. The subject of this evening's lecture will be from Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables," "The Making of a Christian." The meeting will be at 7 o'clock work and finishing will be pushed forward and the new part probably be ready for use inside a couple of weeks.

Sheriff Bates Registers Three.

Deputy Sheriff Owen Gately came down from Duluth this morning and brought three men to the county jail to serve 30 or 60 day sentences for drunkenness. The men were taken to the municipal court at Eveleth. Mr. Gately says the weather conditions on the range today are about the same as in Duluth.

Damage Cases on Trial.

Evidence is still being introduced in the $15,000 damage case brought by Peter Desmon against Kate Bros. The case has been on trial in Judge Dibel's room for the past several days. It is not likely that the case will be finished today and that the jurors will be excused this evening until Monday morning. The damage case of Dicklich against the Adriatic Mining company which was partially tried in Judge Cant's room earlier in the week was resumed this afternoon. This case will not reach the jury until next week.

office pays only $50 a year, and usually is given to the station agent.

Injured by Log.

Charles Boehl, a farmer living at Munger, Minn., was brought to St.
Mary's hospital today with his right leg badly crushed. He was hauling logs to a little sawmill on his farm when the load broke and one of the logs rolled over his leg, breaking both bones below the knee.

Temple Services.

Regular Sabbath services will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at Temple Emanuel at Seventh avenue east and Second street. The subject of the sermon will be "The Emancipators, Washington and Lincoln." The public is corthe wedding of his daughter, Christine A. Shaw, to William McLaughlin of Lake county, Judge Dibel stopped the trial of the Desmon personal injury case at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr.

Shaw is a juror on the case and was very anxious to get excused from his duties early enough to prepare for the big event. His plea struck a sympathetic chord in the court's heart and the afternoon session was shortened after an hour.
The wedding took place at 7 o'clock last evening.

FROM INN TO HOTEL

Hotel St. Regis Contrasted with the Inn of Olden Times.

WITHIN REACH OF ALL.

Dr. Johnson, who loved to smoke his pipe at the old Mitter Inn, once remarked, "There is nothing which has yet been contrived by man by which so much happiness is provided as by a good tavern." If the old English inn of his day, with sanded floor and cob-webbed rafters, its wooden benches and pewter ale pots, could inspire such an ecstacy, what would the author of "Rasselas" say could he enter such a great modern hostelry as the St. Regis in New York?

Here is a palace such as the great monarchs of his time would have delighted to occupy. Within its walls are artistic and beautiful, luxury and magnificence of which these monarchs never dreamed.

And yet in the St. Regis, contrary to certain sensational reports that once gained circulation, there is entire absence of effulgent display and tawdry glitter. There is wealth everywhere, but it is the wealth of exquisite beauty and harmony. There is splendor, but it is that of perfect workmanship and adaptability to the one purpose for which this hotel was planned—the comfort and convenience of all who enter its portals.

When we reflect that the enjoyment of such a delectable and inviting hotel is within the means of the ordinary American (a large, elegantly furnished room being obtainable for only $4 a day, and the same with private bath for $5, or a parlor, bedroom and bath for $12), we gain some idea of the wonderful popularity of this modern establishment. Another fact which has contributed greatly to its success is that the charges in the restaurant are no higher than in other first-class hotels.

ON THE IRON RANGES

CARNEGIE WILL GIVE BUILDINGFor Free Public Library at Two Harbors—Offer Accepted.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A free public library housed in a fine building furnished by Andrew Carnegie is to be built at Two Harbors. The offer made by the ironmaster to provide $50,000 for a building, providing the city furnish a site and pay for the maintenance has been accepted and steps looking to carrying out the offer are under way.

The matter was presented to the council at its last meeting by Dr. J. E. Budd in the name of a communication from James Bertram, Mr. Carnegie's private secretary, making the offer.

The offer was accepted and Aldermen Wicks, Engstrom and Anderson were appointed on a committee to take the matter up with Mr. Carnegie's representative.

At the same session of the city council a report was presented that the city had been in an insubstantial condition and water was flooding ground near the health officer's office.

The health officer was directed to make a thorough examination of place and report.

A resolution approving and accepting easement for North Two Harbors main sewer and outlet tanks and filter beds and for Fourteenth avenue estimate No. 4, $10,000 balance due N. Freeberg for Cedar street culvert, was accepted.

Estimate No. 2 of $80,000 was allowed for the health officer's office. Bills amounting to $200.00 were allowed.

ADmits COAL THEFT.

Labor Agitator Confesses Guilt and Pays a Fine.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Confessing that any man getting only $5 per month and having five children to support would do what he did during the day.

When he helped himself to coal he was helping himself to the property of the company, Otto Mattson, who came into Hibbing during the strike, being a sort of a right hand man to Pettibone, acknowledged his guilt before Judge Brady and was fined $25 and costs, which he paid.

The company had been missing coal for some time and policemen finally caught Mattson red handed in the act of taking the coal. When arrested he pleaded guilty making a rambling statement by way of justification.

GETTING WATER AGAIN.

Citizens of Hibbing Who Experienced Water Famine, Are Happy.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The people living in the southern part of the city who had experienced a small size water famine because of the breaking of the main at the corner of Third and Lincoln streets, due to excavation, are happy as the break has been repaired and they are enjoying water through the city mains.

Mr. Leasure was a good Buffalo Bill, but came too late to participate in the grand march. Later in the evening he gave to the audience.

There were all kinds of games, a spelling bee between the seventh and eighth grades, spinning the plate, etc., and the evening's entertainment was fittingly concluded by a stately Virginia reel. All of the ladies were handsomely costumed.

MILLER DENIES GUILT.

Man Arrested Here, Says He Was Not Trying to Defraud.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not guilty was the plea of George Miller, who was arrested in Duluth on the charge of getting jewelry under false pretenses from Joseph Dahl, a local jeweler, when arrested in the municipal court yesterday.

Dahl claims Miller came into his store Feb. 8 and requested the loan of a diamond ring worth $20 and a watch valued at $25. He said that he was going to attend a dance and would return the property the next day. Dahl says he let him have the goods and that Miller fled.

YEOMEN FORM LODGE.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing Council No. 42 Yeomen of America has been organized and will have about fifty charter members. Mr. Baubette was chosen as the first president and other officers elected and will be installed next Thursday night.

MR. BRYAN RECOVERING.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The condition of Mr. H. Bryan, superintendent of motive power on the Iron Range, who has been receiving treatment at Rochester, Minn., is reported considerably better, and hopes for his returning here soon are expressed.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLES.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—

Never eat a heavy meal when very tired.

The stomach with its nerves of digestion that govern the outpour of the digestive juices is unable to react during a condition of exhaustion.

A short rest, then a dish of crisp, savory Grape-Nuts and cream will be promptly absorbed and in a short time the vital powers will be restored. Then the stomach will be in condition to digest with comfort, other desirable foods which the natural appetite may call for. There are many sides to the value of Grape-Nuts. Try it out for yourself and you'll soon realize "There's a Reason."

CHICAGO MAN LECTURES.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Human Call of the Wild was the subject of an interesting and instructive lecture delivered at the 2020 school auditorium last evening by E. A. Cantrell, of Chicago. Mr. Cantrell is visiting Superintendent C. E. Young of the Hibbing schools and spoke in response to a general invitation.

REVOLUTIONARY DAYS REVIVED

Lakeside People Celebrate Washington's Birthday.

A genuine, old-fashioned Washington's birthday entertainment, under the auspices of the Ladies' Lakeside guild, was given last night in the town hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and suspended from the chandelier, and reaching to the four corners of the room, were strings of Japanese lanterns.

At the left hand side of the platform was the fish pond, with the following announcement: "This is the Fish Pond—Tomorrow is Friday." Presiding over this department was a young lady who seemed to have the art of angling well learned. On the right hand side was the candy booth, which was presided over by half a dozen Martha Washingtons, who did a roaring business.

It was a cosmopolitan gathering. There were half a dozen Martha Washingtons, several colonial dames, one colonial gentleman, one Spanish mail, Chinese and Japanese Buffalo Bills, and a colored lady and gentleman.

The first part of the entertainment opened with a grand march, none but those in costume participating. It was led by Rev. Albert Barker, who acted as master of ceremonies, ably assisted by George Heathcote and Dr. Cathern.

Judges for the occasion were appointed, consisting of one lady and two gentlemen, and that their task was no easy one was demonstrated by the length of time it took them to come to a decision. Ultimately Miss Winifred Thomas was awarded the prize, while Miss Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson received honorable mention. Those in the grand march were:

Martha Washingtons—Misses Bertha Reed, Verna Alexander, Nell Loranger, Meelyn Wagner and Winifred Thomas; Mrs. Miss Belle Popper; Spanish girl, Miss Frankie Paine; Jap, Julian Kitchie; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson; Harold Thomas; and Beverly Jones. Mr. Leasure was a good Buffalo Bill, but came too late to participate in the grand march. Later in the evening he gave to the audience.

There were all kinds of games, a spelling bee between the seventh and eighth grades, spinning the plate, etc., and the evening's entertainment was fittingly concluded by a stately Virginia reel. All of the ladies were handsomely costumed.

SONS OF HERMAN AT MASK BALL

German Frauleins and Spanish Cavaliers Mingle at Grand Ball.

It looked like a congress of all nations when the things got to moving at the masked ball of the Sons of Herman, held at the armory last night. There were gentlemen of Spain, garbed in the exquisite and regal mode of the time of King Charles; there were Turks from the land of the Ottoman, and gay cavaliers from France and sunny Italy. Germany was represented by comfortable-looking frauleins of portly dimensions; the low country of Holland was a small, wooden-shoed brigade. There were American cowboys, Roman soldiers, negroes, Jews, tramps, ballet girls, and every form of masked semblance to types and characters that one could possibly imagine.

There must have been fully 400 masked dancers on the floor, and nearly every one of them represented some national type. Some of the women were garbed in the most elaborate costumes. In this respect they outshone the men.

Some found it hard "steering" with the blinders in the way of masks, partially obscuring the view. One couldn't remove the mask, however, and if you tread on the corns of some one, you were excused for the reason it was supposed that your blinders had slipped over your right eye. Then, besides, wrathful glances were lost and useless under a mask.

Shortly before 12 o'clock the grand march was started. They walked up and down the hall, wove in and out, marching and counter-marching, giving the busy judges time to pick out the winners. It was a very difficult task, too, for there was a large field of choice from. Following is the list of prize winners:

First prize, finest costume—Ladies, manicured set, donated by Max Wirth; Miss Miller, gentlemen, rocking chair, donated by Bayha & Co. Mr. Johnson; costume, Knights.

Second prize, next finest costume—Ladies, silver hair receiver, donated by J. B. Erd, Mrs. Miller, gentlemen, pair of $2.50 skates, donated by Northrup Hardware company. Costume, Knights.

Third prize, character—Ladies, 1 $5 parlor lamp, donated by Pantan & White; gentlemen, order for $2 merchandise, donated by A. B. Stewart & Co. Mexican suit.

Fourth prize, character—Ladies, toilet set, donated by I. Freimuth, ing, however, is known of any St. Paul capitalists who are connected with the lumber company.

President Joseph Lockey of the American National bank, when asked for any information he might have regarding Bryan Dorr, said:

"Dorr has a small account with us, and has been carrying it for several months past. I do not know the man personally, wouldn't know him if I should see him. We certainly gave him no permission to refer to us, and so far have received no inquiries about him, except from you. We knew nothing of him prior to his opening an account with us, and know nothing of him besides that."

Tillman's Protest.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Rising in the senate to a question of privilege, Mr. Tillman made a complaint of the use of his name in connection with efforts to sell railroad land grants in the Northwest, which might be affected by the inquiry he has set on foot concerning such lands. He said his attention had been called to a very adroit scheme of swindling, in which his name was used as a decoy, and that letters had come from Wisconsin and other states. He declared that he had not invested one cent, nor loaned a single quarter-section for him, and said any one, Senator Tillman has called the attention of the postoffice department to the matter, with a view of the issuance of a fraud order.

DETECTIVES CAPTURE

would be "shot as full of holes as a screen door." Then, while one of their number remained on guard over the trunk, the others returned to their work. After they had removed a quantity of valuable goods from the car, the thieves carefully sealed the door with a counterfeit seal. It was then that the detectives came upon the scene.

They had been waiting all night in the yards in the hope of catching the men, who had been using false seals counter between the brakeman and the robbers. When the door had been sealed, four detectives sprang down from the car in which they had been hiding. In a desperate hand-to-hand fight which followed, the detectives were finally victorious and the three men were locked up. The men gave names as John T. Hughes, Alfred Rogers and Peter Brady. In a boathouse where Hughes had lived, the detectives found goods valued at more than $1,000.

SYMPTOMS OF RABIES

Said to Have Been Developed by St. Mathias Man's Dog.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Toucher of St. Mathias went to St. Paul Thursday, taking his young son there for the Pasteur treatment for rabies. A dog belonging to the family developed symptoms of rabies last week and bit two horses, two dogs and a beaver. The dogs and one of the horses are dead with the disease. The dog was killed and his head sent to St. Paul for examination. Only a day or two ago the young son said that the dog had recently bitten him slightly and the father thought best to take no chances, so took the child to St. Paul at once.

SMALL FARMERS MAKING

COIN CLEARING LANDS.

Akeley, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fast two weeks have been money-making periods for the small farmers who are clearing their lands. The snow has made the hauling of log possible, and the farmers have taken full time to haul their logs from the lands. Thus, they have improved the lands and sold the logs and cordwood in town at a very good price. Several farmers have lately purchased gasoline saw rigs, and have been cutting the dead and down timber on the land into 16-inch wood and hauling it to town. This is far more profitable than gathering it in heaps to burn, and far quicker, and gives less waste on the lands. This is a good financial investment. Other farmers have put in small, portable sawmills.

MASONRY OF BRAINERD WILL

REMEMBER GEO. WASHINGTON

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Aurora lodge No. 10 A. F. & A. M. will celebrate Washington's birthday Saturday by conferring the degree of Master Mason on four candidates. After the work, which commences at 2:30 in the afternoon, there will be a banquet at which the members and their ladies are invited. After the banquet there will be a literary and musical program.

BELIEVE IRON IS THERE.

Akeley, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The conviction steadily grows that the whole district north-west of Akeley is iron land. It is of the same kind as the other ranges, and its surface is about the same. There have been traces of iron in pieces of Hubbard county, and it will not be long before tests are made to find the ore. As soon as the valuable timber is cut off, tests will be made, and the indications are all favorable.

A House Divided Against Itself

Civil War in the Stomach Spells Ruin.

Victory Belongs to You. If You Will.
Costs Nothing to Try.

The greatest foe to the progress of nations has been internal strife, civil war. Equally so is the greatest enemy of health in the human system civil war between the different parts of the body.

This is just what occurs in dyspepsia. War is declared between the stomach and the rest of the members of the body—illness results, inability to digest or assimilate food, heaviness, disinclination to work, and in a word, all the attendant evils of imperfect digestion. What you need is an ally. An ally who will not only help but will absolutely insure you the victory. In other words, let Sturges' Dyspepsia Tablets fight your battles for you, and by doing the work of your stomach, give it a complete rest, and allow it to re-enter the lists reinforced, refreshed and rejuvenated.

A single one of these marvelous tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food.

Leading physicians all over the world have endorsed Sturges' Dyspepsia Tablets, and have certified them free from harmful drugs.

COOK IS CANDIDATE.

Neenan Millionaire is After Senator
Isaac Stephenson's Job.

Neenan Wis., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ex-Congressman S. A. Cook, millionaire paper manufacturer, issued a formal acceptance of the call urging him to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States senate, to succeed Isaac Stephenson. He says his call is signed by 2,500 voters in thirty-five counties of Wisconsin.

For the first time in the history of Wisconsin a United States senator is to be voted for by the people directly, next fall, in accordance with the provisions of the primary election law. The election, however, under the United States statutes and federal and state constitutions must be by the legislature.

DEAD MAN IDENTIFIED.

Albert Lee, Minn., Feb. 21.—The body of the man found in the road in Manchester township proved to be that of Hans Nelson of this city. It is reported he had been drinking the night previous and he undoubtedly wandered away and died from exposure. He was about 60 years old and left a family in this city.

FALLS THROUGH ICE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 21.—James Fegavie, an Austrian, aged 21, broke through the ice while crossing the river and was drowned. A companion was rescued. This is the first fatality of the year on the ice bridge.

Sleep

Sleep is nature's rebuilding period, when the energy used by the brain, muscles and organs is renewed. If you lose sleep, your system is robbed of the strength sleep should give. Continued loss of sleep multiplies this loss until you become a physical wreck. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the irritated nerves and brings refreshing, invigorating sleep. Nervine contains no opiates, and therefore leaves no bad after-effects.

"For over two years I suffered untold agonies; my friends thought I was going crazy. I could not sleep nor rest at all. I tried different doctors, but failed to find relief. My head would ache all the time; I was like one drunk; could not concentrate my mind, and was so restless and worried that sleep was out of the question. After taking one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine I felt wonderfully changed. I am now on my third bottle and am gaining all the time. I can lie down and sleep like a child, and am able to do my work."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

JIM SMITH IS TAKEN

North Dakota Marshal Helps to Capture Bad Man.

Instrumental in Arrest of Alleged Murderer
Jim Smith.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 21.—United States Marshal Shea received word from Charlotte, N. C., that Jim Smith, the man who is wanted for the murder of Revenue officer Hendricks at Smithtown, N. C., had been arrested on Feb. 14 and was now in jail awaiting trial. Jim Smith is the brother of Frank and Fletcher Smith, the "moonshiners" that Marshal Shea and Deputy Stout took down to Greensboro, N. C., about three weeks ago.

The arrest of Jim Smith, on whose head the government has placed a $1,000 reward, occurred largely through the instrumentality of Marshal Shea. When he arrested the Smith brothers at Landrum, Marshal Shea searched them. Among their effects he found several letters from Jim Smith. These letters contained information as to the whereabouts of Jim Smith.

Marshal Shea at once gave this information to the North Carolina authorities, and the arrest of Smith resulted. Smith has been hunted for years, but the North Carolina authorities were unable to locate him.

WINTER BUILDING IS PROGRESSING

Weather Not Affecting Advance of Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cold weather has had little effect on building operations in this city. At present, the contract for the construction of a $1,000 steel, concrete and masonry bridge across the Red Lake river on Bridge street in this city is being carried out. Some concrete and masonry work is being done on the bridge. The steel superstructure is fast assuming shape and the contractors claim that this bridge will be ready for traffic March 1.

Another piece of winter building is the Zenith church, the last month. The steel skeleton of the building is complete and the contractors claim that this building will be ready for occupancy in the spring. The church is being built on Second street. This building is being remodelled and enlarged and will be one of the finest church edifices in the place when it is completed. Large quantities of rock are being hauled to the dam from east of the city. These will be utilized in the spring for the filling of some large piers that will be part of the dam.

Gen. and Granum will complete the construction of their $30,000 three front store building as soon as the frost leaves the ground. The foundation of concrete, some two feet deep, was put in last fall, preparatory to the completion of the building in the spring. The Finch-Smith building, a two-story brick warehouse, has been severely damaged by fire. The new buildings in the city.

Odd fellows are about letting the contract for an addition forty feet high to the rear of their two story brick hall. This will be used for dining hall above and the lower story will be rented for other purposes. The city, on the whole, looks for building being a fair one. The money pinch in this portion of the Red River valley had long since lost its sting and is a thing of the past.

LLOYD WOMAN CHANGES Her Mind, Pleads Guilty, and Goes to Reformatory.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Exercising woman's time-honored prerogative to change her mind, Mrs. Almoe Schickles Lloyd, the former Winona society girl, who was arrested here last October on the charge of passing worthless checks and whose case attracted considerable attention in the press because of an alleged similarity to that of Cassie Chadwick on a smaller scale, pleaded guilty in the district court yesterday to having passed worthless checks, and was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the St. Cloud reformatory, which means from one to five years. She is a woman of beauty and was once socially prominent at Winona, where her family still lives.

Mrs. Lloyd's resolution to plead guilty and begin her term came as a great surprise to every person connected with this extraordinary case. No court qualified to receive her plea of guilty was convened here at this time, but Judge A. H. Snow of Winona was advised of the wishes of the fair defendant and consented to come to Rochester and hold a special term. No friend or relative attended Mrs. Lloyd in court, and there were only a few spectators of her humiliation. The fact that her Winona relatives have ignored her from the outset no doubt had its effect in causing her to plead guilty at once rather than to stand a long trial.

Mrs. Lloyd broke down when sentence was pronounced and sobbed aloud. She was taken to St. Cloud today by Sheriff Vine.

ATTORNEY LITTLETON DEAD. Cousin of Thaw's Attorney and Well Known in Owatonna.

Owatonna, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Attorney Samuel T. Littleton, aged 48, a native of Missouri, a cousin of Martin W. Littleton of Thaw trial fame, and a well known attorney of this section, died here yesterday after a three weeks' illness of pneumonia.

He was serving his third term as county attorney. Previous to coming to this city, ten years ago, he was one of the most prominent residents of Owatonna, where he won his reputation along legal lines. At one time he was prominently mentioned for attorney general of this state, and had also been mentioned in connection with the congressional nomination served on the Republican state central committee; three terms in the state legislature, where he was recognized as one of the leaders of that body, and was a delegate to the Republican national convention at one time. He was especially prominent in fraternal orders, and held high offices in several. He was a member of the Masons, Odd Fellows, Modern Woodmen, Workmen, Modern Samaritans, Aztecs and other organizations. Mr. Littleton had only recently been appointed by Attorney General Young to conduct the prosecution of a large corporation, which is accused of violating anti-trust laws of the state, and had entered upon the work of preparing briefs in this case when the fatal illness seized him.

BEMIDJI "LID" TIGHT.

Mayor Pogue Has Always Enforced
the Liquor Regulations.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Bemidji dispatch in The Herald, telling of the result of the recent election, conveyed the impression that Mayor Pogue had been re-elected by a handsome majority, has not been a staunch advocate of the "lid." This is not so.

Mayor Pogue's right enforcement of the law relative to closing the saloons able to carry only one ward, the Fourth, considered a "lid" city, and the mail is certainly a "lid" city, and it has been so since he assumed the duties of mayor, and that was the chief reason he was re-elected.

SUICIDE'S LAST NOTE.

Sent Kiss to His Wife and Love for Children.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Good bye, I am dying for you. I send you the last kiss in this letter. Give my love to the boy and girl."

Thus wrote Otto Scheibitz, the Columbus butcher, before committing suicide by hanging.

Coroner Ekrem, who returned from Columbus, where he investigated the death of Scheibitz. There were some circumstances indicating that he did not meet death by hanging, but after making an investigation Dr. Ekrem decided that hanging was the cause of death. Scheibitz was 40 years old and had been in Columbus only a day before committing suicide.

MUCH BEER SEIZED.

New Mandan Officials Appear to be Up to Snuff.

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 21.—As the result of a raid with a search warrant on the Hamm Brewing company's cold storage warehouse in this city, twenty-six barrels of beer were seized by chief of Police Roby. The goods will be condemned as contraband, and it claimed by no one. Roby, after making an investigation Dr. Ekrem decided that hanging was the cause of death. Scheibitz was 40 years old and had been in Columbus only a day before committing suicide.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED.

Mother Also Injured as Result of Kerosene Explosion.

Anamoose, N. D., Feb. 21.—A kerosene can, five gallons, an explosion, a burned baby thrown in the snow, and the inevitable death, is a report from here.

At the home of William Goodfellow, the wife and mother undertook to light the fire with the assistance of a can filled with kerosene; the can exploded and the woman was severely injured. The baby was lying on the floor near the stove, and the clothes about her caught fire, and her right arm and shoulder were severely burned. The child was so badly burned that it died a short time afterwards. The mother sustained some injuries and is under the care of a trained nurse, but no fatal results are expected in this case.

NEWSPAPER TO QUIT.

Grand Forks Press Will Die With Present Month.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 21.—The Evening Press announces that on Feb. 29 it will cease publication of its daily and weekly editions and discontinue business. The Press for years was the only Democratic daily in the state. It is the second oldest newspaper in the state.

The Press was established in 1894 by George R. Walsh, who owned the plant of the West St. Paul News to Grand Forks. It has been owned by a score of persons since that time. George E. Dula purchased the Press two years ago. The newspaper was known as the Plaindealer until three years ago, when the name was changed to the Press.

Kinetic is a good word. It means "power to make things go." A fat bank account, a rock on the edge of a hill, a barrel of gunpowder, and SCOTT'S EMULSION all contain "kinetic energy," so the professor tells us.

GOVERNOR WARNER WILL VISIT UPPER PENINSULA.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 21.—Governor Warner will visit Houghton county in three weeks, according to his statement to Robert H. Shields, who has just returned from a meeting of the state tax commission. The governor expected to visit copperland several months ago, but upon reaching the "Soos" was compelled to return. The governor is expected to spend a couple of days in Calumet and Houghton, conferring with politicians in the interests of his third-term candidacy. He will find that Houghton county has a candidate for the state ticket in Representative Will Stannard of Calumet, who is out for secretary of state.

HUNGRY WOLVES FEED UPON HELPLESS DEER.

Washburn, Wis., Feb. 21.—Trappers report that wolves in their starved condition are killing many deer. The cold weather after the thaw has formed a heavy crust on the snow and wolves can run upon it with the same rapidity that they could on bare ground. The deer are less fortunate and their sharp hoofs go through the crust and snow, impeding their progress. Wolves then say that more deer are killed by wolves than hunters. It is likely that the wolves found one deer in Bayfield county in the near future.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

"The Reign of Terror in Finland" was the subject of a lecture delivered this morning at the clubhouse of the library before a large number of the Twentieth Century club members and their friends. The speaker was Dr. John Jackola, who has lived in America for several years, but whose interest in his native land has never abated, and who has followed with keen interest and patriotism the struggles of Finland during the last few years. Dr. Jackola desires a more widespread interest in the land which has struggled so courageously for its freedom, and better knowledge among the people of America in the conditions as they now exist.

Dr. Jackola said in part: "Kosuth the great statesman and patriot of Hungary said, 'Russia is the rock against which the sigh for freedom breaks. Although 50 years have passed, and sign after sign has broken against it, the rock still stands like a colossal monument of by-gone ages. While yet in Finland, I used to look at Russia as a giant devilfish, whose arms extended from the Baltic to the Pacific, and from the Black sea to the Arctic ocean. Then I would think of my native land as a beautiful mermaid, about whose girth the giant's arms were slowly creeping, and I feared that some day these arms would crush her. That day came in 1899. The helpless mermaid lay helpless in the clutch of the octopus. Not that the constitution of Finland was annulled, as was so often erroneously stated. The Russian government made only a few inroads upon it. The great grievance of the Finns was not with what had been absolutely done in opposition to their ancient rights and privileges, more in the number of their rights, which had been curtailed, but with the fact that they were left without any security. The real grievance of the Finns was that the welfare of their country no longer rested upon an inviolable constitution, but upon the caprice of the ministers."

Dr. Jackola gave a detailed account of the welfare of the Finnish people from the time the country became an appanage of the Russian crown after the war of 1808-1809 and the various struggles of the country and the people to maintain their nationality. He spoke of the intellectual awakening of the people and of their efforts along cultural lines and their ever-existent spirit and determination to maintain their freedom. "For 800 years, the Finns had been free men," said the lecturer. "In 1808 they became Russian serfs. While the exploitation and degradation was suppressed in Finland, outside of the grand duchy, Russia's relentless tyranny made the highest officers of state as resentful as the man in the street. Scandinavia was at one with indignation and apprehension. Not only in Scandinavia, but throughout the civilized world, the reign of terror in Finland caused consternation. Then Russia was plunged into the disastrous war with Japan and internal troubles were so rapidly accumulating upon old Europe's head that the czar, trembling in his palace, was obliged, among other things, to grant a new constitution to the Finns. When the new constitution was framed by the Finnish parliament, it was beautiful to see that the Finns could stand together in the same absolute equality in their prosperity and success as they had stood in adversity. The nation's unity was voluntarily and unanimously resigned all the special privileges which they had enjoyed for hundreds of years. A one-chambered lawmaking body was established. As the women had been to earnest and inspiring during the days of darkness, it never occurred to any one that the women of the country should be deprived of their share of pleasure and happiness. The men of Finland unanimously bestowed upon the women of the country the right to vote and to become elected representatives in the new lawmaking body. As a result of the first national election, nineteen of the 200 representatives were women and every one of the nineteen was well qualified. "But it seems that the new constitution was only a makeshift. Again, at present, the attitude of the Russian government is threatening and the Finns are preparing to oppose any restriction and violation of their rights. They are asking for a higher culture, for larger liberty and for freer conscience. The Finns cannot become Russians. They must remain Finns."

STORE OBSERVATIONS

The New Shirt Waists and Fashions Thereof.

"Neat" is the adjective that threatens to be descriptive of the summer young woman of 1908. No longer will your stenographer appear for service with plump and uncovered arms. Her arms will perhaps be of the same degree of plumpness, but they will be sheathed in tailored sleeves that will end in severe and stiff cuffs. The tout ensemble will suggest neatness and efficiency, without end.

In looking at the new waists, one is perfectly sure that Timothy Sullivan, self-appointed law maker for woman's manners and manners, will be content. There is no peek-a-boo effect. The danger of being sunburned in lace patterns over back and shoulders, is a danger of last year's fashion. There are no inlets lengths of open work. The waists are as sheer and this in one place as another. And with some of the materials that are made up into several plain waists, the underneath things, which boast a decoration of hard work, which took hours of time this winter, and which will be run through with pink ribbons, will show to splendid advantage.

Colored waists are again to be popular. Dimity in pink and white stripes or blue and white stripes, made in the plain tailored style, cost $3.75. Black and white combinations are also popular.

White linen waists cost from $5 to $7.50 or so. Some of them are tucked lengthwise in the plaits, similar to those which adorn the waists of small boys, all across the front. Pearl buttons, large and capable looking ones, play a part in the "makings."

Another of the popular things among the early showing of waists is a fluffly ruffle down the front. This fluffly ruffle may be edged with a bit of color that appears again in the collar and cuffs. The ruffle may be three inches straight out from the front plait, or it may cascade down the front in a zigzag billow of fluffly attractiveness. It costs about the same, whichever way you choose—from $3.75 to $5.

The materials which are shown for the white waists are either plainer than ever before, or more ornate. Linens, more beautiful than ever in their soft, smooth glossiness will be among the most popular of materials for the plain waists. The cross bar effect or plaids, which match the materials of the handkerchiefs, which have been worn so much the last two or three years, are also shown in great variety. And French embroidered Swiss is more ornate and more embroidered than ever before, and more

French and more expensive. The materials vary in price from 50 cents to $1.35 per yard.

TO BE SOLOIST.

Mrs. Robert Knebel to Sing at Dedication Service.

Mrs. Robert Knebel of Sioux City, Iowa arrived in the city this morning for a visit with Duluth friends. She is at present the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKinley of 1024 East First street. Mrs. Knebel formerly lived in Duluth and was prominent in Duluth's musical and social circles. She will be the soloist at the dedication of the new Baptist church, which will take place March 1. Mrs. McKinley will entertain in Mrs. Knebel's honor. Thursday afternoon of next week at musical. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley will entertain at an evening musicale the same evening. During her visit in the city Mrs. Knebel will doubtless be the guest of honor at a number of delightful functions.

Saturday Club.

The regular meeting of the Saturday club will be held tomorrow afternoon at the clubhouse of the library. The half hour devoted to current events will be occupied with news from the countries. With Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst as leader. The leader for the regular study, which will be on "Romanism in Italian Literature," will be Mrs. J. Henry S. Ely. The outline of study is as follows: "The Academy of Arcadia," 1602; Mrs. W. A. McGonagle. "Parli," Satirist, Aldus Revival of Literature of Eighteenth Century," Mrs. Ira Coburn. "Aller," Italy never produced a national drama, but Allier did much toward it. "The Autobiography," 2. "Tragedy—Best Don Carlos," 3. "Compare With Schiller's Don Carlos," Mrs. H. S. Ely. "Goetzl Comedy Masques, Pantomime," Mrs. Larrowe.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The Greyhound, Duluth chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. O. H. Clarke of 1005 East Superior street. The leader for the afternoon will be Mrs. Harrison, and the program will be as follows: Roll call, "Maxims of Washington," Reading of first inaugural address. Description of Mt. Vernon. "The Washingtons in Painting and Art."

The state regent, Mrs. E. H. Loyd of Fairbault, was to have met with the Greyhound chapter tomorrow, but will be unable to be present. She will, however, be the guest of the members at the March meeting.

Informal Evening.

Miss Regina C. Elster entertained delightfully last evening her home, 347 Mead avenue. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. H. E. Husam and Mrs. James Abbott. A pleasant informal evening was enjoyed by the following guests:

Mrs. J. H. McGilvray, Laura Penh, McGilvray, Maudie Mondeau, Margaret Olsen, Louis Mondeau, Eric Phillips, Teckla Westerberg.

Meets—H. E. Bailey, S. L. Patton, R. F. Schoult, M. McKenney, J. H. McGilvray, John McGilvray, C. Sullivan.

Guild Meeting.

The Young Ladies' Guild of St. John's English Lutheran church will meet tomorrow evening with the Misses Minnie and Olga Olsen of 102 South Eighteenth avenue east. The night of meeting has been changed this week from Friday to Saturday. Readings from "Mach Lady" by Thomas Nelson Page will be given by the pastor, Rev. L. Murphy.

Church Meeting.

An interesting program has been arranged for the concert to be given this evening at Pilgrim Congregational church by the Bradbury-Erd trio, assisted by Miss Bradshaw, mezzo-soprano, and Miss Rogers, pianist. The concert promises to be one of the most interesting of the winter's local musical affairs.

Events of Interest.

The pre-Lenten assembly hall will be danced this evening at the Spalding. La Brosse will play the program of dance music as usual, and the affair promises to be the most brilliant of the late winter season.

Miss Marie Agutin will be hostess at an informal party this evening at her home on East Fifth street.

A number of the high school students will entertain at a sleigh ride this evening.

Mrs. E. F. Burg entertained at cards yesterday afternoon at her home, 213 West Third street, the affair being one in a series of affairs at which Mrs. Burg is hostess. Bridge was played at four tables and the favors were won by Miss Dutchart and Mrs. A. D. Goodman.

Among the hostesses of today were Mrs. E. H. Smith of East First street and Mrs. Frank Burrows of 117 Twelfth avenue east.

The fancy dress carnival will be held by the members of the Duluth Curling club tomorrow evening.

Personal Mention.

Miss Elsie Thiel of Hibbing is the guest of Mrs. Joseph Dworschak of 510 Lake avenue north for a few days. Miss Thiel will sail in March for Paris, where she will continue her musical studies.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hepworth have gone to Florida for a few weeks' visit.

Capt. and Mrs. Thomas McDougall have returned from a visit in the East.

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—The Mack-Leone Players in "Sage Brush."

METROPOLITAN—Burlesque.

The Mack-Leone company opened a two-nights' engagement in "Sage Brush." Willard Mack's own play of Western life, "Sage Brush," was produced in Duluth last fall, and there have been but few changes in the cast since that time. Some new scenery has been added, and a few minor details changed.

A special matinee is being given this afternoon, and the last performance will be given this evening, the company giving way to "George Washington, Jr." tomorrow afternoon and night. The company will produce the old colonial drama, "Capt. Barrington," next week.

"George Washington, Jr." George M. Cohan's big musical success, "George Washington, Jr.," will be the holiday attraction at the Lyceum Saturday. There will be a special holiday matinee. All of the Cohan productions have been successes, and none of them a greater success than "George Washington, Jr."

The Burlesquers. Billy Balle of the comical juggling and acrobatic team of Cernial and Eddie, at the Metropolitan this week, wears a suit of clothes during the act that is the giddy limit in garments. He declares that he had to have three made before he could get one that suited his hairy purposes. The suit is about as loose as anything could be and still stay on a person of Eddie's proportions.

SAYS TAFT IS WHOLE SHOW

W. W. Rich Claims Minnesota Republicans Are Solid for Secretary.

W. W. Rich, deputy marshal in the United States federal office at St. Paul, said today at the St. Louis that Minnesota would send an instructed delegation for William H. Taft. No other candidate for presidential honors has any chance in Minnesota, says Mr. Rich.

"Some of the delegates favor Theodore Roosevelt for a third term, but if they can't have Teddy, they will vote for Taft," he says. "Both the state and district conventions will be almost unanimous for the secretary of war."

Mr. Rich, who is generally credited with knowing somewhat of the inner workings of politics, says he would not be surprised to see an unknown candidate in the field for gubernatorial honors. He says there is no much doing at the present time, outside of preliminary skirmishing, but developments are looked for in the state fight within the near future.

brass knuckles were his undoing. Makinen cut loose in a saloon on the Bowers last night, and the inmates, knowing he had a gun in his pocket, called the police. Jehu was taken in, and when he was searched at the station, a loaded revolver and the brass knuckles were found on him.

He had an excuse framed up for the revolver when he appeared in court this morning on the drunk charge. He says he was going out in the woods this morning, and he carried the gun in order to deal with wolves, should he meet any. But when the knuckles were mentioned, he was stumped.

"What were you doing with them?" the court asked.

"I wanted them for bad peoples," replied Jehu.

"You're pretty bad peoples, yourself, Jehu," the court came back with, and attached a sentence of $20, or twenty days. The gun and knuckles were confiscated.

Frank Windrow was back in court this morning after an absence of a few weeks. He's a white-haired old fellow, who knows the route from pole to pole. The last time he was in he served ten days for vagrancy. He didn't seem particularly anxious to save off a heavy sentence this time. He pleaded guilty, seemed to anxiously await the sentence, and sat down with a satisfied smile when he drew thirty days.

James Kelly and Hugh Treanor both pleaded not guilty to vagrancy. On trial, the officers made out clear cases. Treanor said he was willing to work at his trade of cook, but couldn't ship out. He was given until 6 o'clock tonight to get out of town. Kelly also would have gotten out of custody, under suspended sentence, but he's too well known, and had to take his thirty days.

PERUVIANS DELIGHTED

Lima, Peru, Feb. 21.—Rear Admiral Evans has given orders that the ships of the fleet admit visitors daily from 2 to 5 o'clock p. m., except when they are coaling. This order is very pleasing to the Peruvians, who are not slow to take advantage of the courtesy extended. Yesterday afternoon several Peruvian families visited the Kentucky. The women were vastly interested in viewing the battleship and enchanted with the attentions accorded them. Dancing was suggested, the officers of the battleship responded gallantly and an impromptu ball was given, the music being furnished by the ship's band.

Rear Admiral Evans is feeling better this morning, but he still has to walk with the aid of a cane. Lieut. Cordier, the naval attaché of the United States consulate is a frequent guest on board the warships.

STOP! READ! THINK!THE OLD WAY

Manufacturers sell their products to brokers, brokers take their profit, and sell to jobbers, jobbers take their profit and sell to retailers, retailers take their profit and sell to consumers.

THE NEW WAY

Manufacturers sell direct to Barthe-Martin Co. and Barthe-Martin Co. to you. Why pay your money "The Old Way?" Wake up to the fact that you can get fresher, better and newer stock and for less money when you buy direct, than by buying through several who take the profits, deliver old and shell-worn goods. Duluth Public Market
THE LOW PRICE STORE
30 EAST SUPERIOR STREET, BOTH PHONES 1991.

Sharp buyers, who realize the importance of small savings on everything they eat, are the ones who "get along." A cut of 2 cents on a 10-cent purchase means a saving of 20 per cent. Banks pay 3 per cent interest—suppose one of the strongest of them should advertise to pay 4 per cent—that bank would get all the business. Well, this store saves its patrons from 20 to 30 per cent on every purchase. In one year, the difference between the low cash prices of the Duluth Public Market and those of the credit stores means a saving for the average family of from $75 to $100, and all the time they're getting the very best.

BUSINESS OF CONDUCTOR

To See That Proper Transfers Are Given Passengers.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—In affirming the courts of Hennepin county in the case of Clara Mordill vs. the Minneapolis Street Railway company, the Minnesota supreme court today held that it was the duty of the conductor of a street car to see that a proper transfer slip is given to a passenger and not the duty of a passenger. The court also held that a transfer slip is not the sole and exclusive evidence of the passenger's right to ride. The court also held:

"No absolute duty rests upon the passenger to examine the transfer slip when it is delivered to him, and see that it is for the proper car and is properly punched. He may rely on the inference that the conductor has properly done his work and performed the duty imposed upon him."

"A passenger on a street car, who has paid his fare is, by virtue of that fact, entitled to a ride to the end of the line, to which, under the city ordinance, he is entitled to be transferred. The contract of carriage is complete when the fare is paid."

OPPOSE ANY PLAN

That Would Shut Canada Out of Use of Niagara's Waters.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 21.—J. J. Foy, K. C., Col. Hendrie, Adams Beck, W. K. McNaughton, M. P., and Supt. Wilson of the Niagara park had an interview today with Lord Grey, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Ambassador Bryce. The delegation believes that the proposed treaty with the United States, in connection with the beautifying of Niagara falls will shut out any further power plant at Niagara Falls, which, they contend, would be injurious to the industrial interests throughout Western Ontario. They believe Canada should not agree to anything that would involve a restriction of its rights to utilize these waters.
